GOVERNOR ASKS AMENDMENT OF STATE TAX LAW

Will Talk Special Session Today.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Gov. L. L. Emmerson declared yesterday that an amendment of the revenue clause of the Illinois constitution is "the first step towards revenue reform." The governor, who has under consideration the question of calling a special session of the legislature, is to confer today with the legislative committee headed by State Senator Arthur Huebsch, which has been investigating taxation, and with the citizens' fiscal rescue committee, and his action is expected to depend upon whether there is agreement among the experts upon what should be done.

The governor was noncommittal on whether he will convene the legislature in extraordinary session, but in case he should issue a call the leaders conjecture the session would be started off early next month.

Addresses Rotary Club.

Gov. Emmerson's address yesterday, which was made before the Rotary club at the Hotel Sherman, was the most extended speech he has made on taxation. The executive set forth that Chicago's financial muddle and the tax plight of Cook county are symptoms of ailments prevalent throughout the entire revenue structure.

He dwelt at length upon "the archaic general property tax" and argued that without a constitutional amendment the ancient principles of uniform rule and general property tax would block "any real reform."

"The general property tax," said Gov. Emmerson, "as administered under the constitution, is as hopelessly inadequate as a horse car would be in State street."

Other Measures Discussed.

Besides arguing for an amendment which would enable the legislature perhaps to classify property for taxation and make revenue producers out of intangibles which now largely escape taxation, Gov. Emmerson spoke upon a few other measures:

1. Unification of assessments by a state-wide standardization.

2. Equalization of assessment between counties and units of counties.

3. A remedy to help the strain in Cook county of paying two years' taxes in one year.

4. The need of the University of Illinois for funds held up by the Cook county tax muddle; likewise revenue to pay principal and interest on bonds.

The Revenue Situation.

"Let me impress this upon your minds," said the governor, "real and tangible property, although producing only 10 per cent of the net income of the people of Illinois, pays 90 per cent of the taxes.

"You need help to get you out of the immediate financial embarrassment; and I am going to do what I can to give you that assistance. But I am more deeply concerned in getting at the real seat of the trouble and substituting for our hopelessly inadequate and cumbersome revenue system one that will function properly with fairness to all classes of property owners.

"The backbone of our system is the general property tax, and its most important feature is the so-called uniform rule. Both are provided for by the constitution of 1870, and until that article of the constitution is amended they must be the basis of taxation in this state.

Change Wrought by Years.

"In the early history of Illinois the general property tax was equitable, for practically every household then owned and farmed its own land and resided in its own home. There were no large cities and few villages, scarcely any tenancy, few corporations, and few people who were employed for wages or salaries. Real estate was easily assessed, and personal property was of a kind not readily concealed.

"This, however, is not the case today. Less than one-seventh of the people live on farms, and less than 41 per cent of the farm acreage is operated by owners. Less than 37 per cent of the homes in cities of 2,500 population or more are owned by occupants, and in Chicago only 27 per cent.

Intangible Property Grows.

"As the percentage of the ownership of land has declined the percentage of people owning intangible property, stocks, bonds, and other securities, has increased. It is estimated that the people of Illinois now own between twelve and fourteen billion dollars in

CUBS WIN FROM CARDINALS, 9-8; RAIN STOPS SOX

The Cubs yesterday opened their drive for a second straight National league pennant with a 9 to 8 victory over the Cardinals at St. Louis. The score by innings:

Cubs	031	100	040	9	15	1
St. Louis	010	000	331	8	12	1

Batteries—Bixke, Bush, Malone, and Hartnett; Rhem, Hill, Grabowski, Haid, Sherdel, and Wilson.

The White Sox and Cleveland were prevented from playing their opening game at Comiskey park by rain. All other opening games were held. The total attendance was 177,000.

P. L. SULLIVAN, CIRCUIT JUDGE, CRITICALLY ILL

Judge Philip L. Sullivan of the Circuit court is critically ill with pneumonia in his home at 7545 Phillips avenue. A consultation was called last night by his physicians, Dr. M. C. Gilbert and Dr. Guy V. Pontius, both of St. Luke's hospital, as the judge experienced difficulty in breathing. His wife, his brother, Attorney Harold Sullivan, and his daughter, Virginia, 7 years old, are at his bedside.

Present Fares Kept in New Car Franchise

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The negotiations on a transportation franchise came a step closer to an agreement yesterday.

It was decided, at the two conferences in the office of Attorney Walter L. Fisher, that the initial fare for the new company shall remain as at present, 7 cents on the surface lines and 10 cents on the elevated roads.

Transfers between the surface and elevated lines were also discussed at length. It was decided to charge 3 cents for transfers from the surface to the elevated lines, with free transfers from the L to the street cars. Transfers between the surface lines and feeder buses will be free. Transfers between the buses and elevated will cost 3 cents. The language of these sections on fares and transfers is to be passed upon at a conference this morning.

Agree on Financial Return.

The section relative to the financial return to the new company was approved as outlined Monday, the return to be based on present earnings of the companies for the first three years and then to be fixed at a fair and reasonable rate by the regulatory commission.

The section prescribing the powers and duties of the transit trustee, who will handle the city's $61,000,000 car fund and the future compensation to the city from the new company, was not finished. It was unanimously agreed, however, that the trustee will not be empowered to finance the city corporate activities, in periods of stress, from the car fund.

The schedule of extensions and improvements has not yet been decided upon, the limit of company expenditures in the first 10 years is $200,000,000, and it has been agreed that $65,000,000 shall be expended in the first three years; but there has been no approval of the amount per year at which the remaining $135,000,000 shall be spent.

Complete Work Next Week.

The conferees said last night that nearly every material dispute has been settled, and that all that now remains is agreement on the wording of the sections on a few minor points.

Ald. Bowler, chairman of the aldermanic subcommittee, said that he deems it probable that the ordinance will not be ready for the local transportation committee before next Monday or Tuesday. The subcommittee desires to make a study of the ordinance as a whole before reporting it out.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson has sent an assistant, Edward C. Higgins, into the conferences in the last two days. Mr. Ettelson observed yesterday that if the ordinance is adopted by the council, Mayor Thompson will refer it to the law department, therefore he wants Mr. Higgins in the discussions.

WARN ARMY OFFICERS ESCORTING GOLD STAR MOTHERS TO BE DRY

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Army officers who will have charge of the forthcoming gold star mothers' and war widows' pilgrimage to the French war cemeteries tonight were warned that if they drink the wines of France or any other liquor they will be immediately relieved from duty.

At a meeting in the Hotel Pennsylvania, Quartermaster General John L. Dewitt said to the officers:

"You must remember that you have been chosen because of certain qualifications. The most important of these is sobriety. No officers must indulge in intoxicants. You will be subject to the most minute observation. Army officers will be judged by this trip."

MASSES MUST FIND LEADERS, HOOVER SAYS

New Haven, Conn., April 15.—[Special.]—Democracy must breed its own leaders if it is to maintain its authority in morals, religion and statesmanship, President Hoover said today in a communication to the Yale Daily News.

"The mass of people must be led in order to achieve social progress," the President said, adding that the mass as such is never constructive and often is destructive.

"Leadership is a quality of the individual," the letter said. "It is the individual alone who can function in the world of intellect and in the world of leadership. If democracy is to secure its authorities in morals, religion and statesmanship it must stimulate leadership from its own mass.

"Human leadership cannot be replenished by selection, like queen bees, by divine right, or bureaucracies, but by the free rise of ability, character and intelligence.

"Progress of the nation is the sum of progress in its individuals. Acts and ideas that lead to progress are born out of the womb of the individual mind, not out of the mind of the crowd. The crowd only feels; it has no mind of its own which can plan. The crowd is credulous, it destroys, it consumes, it hates, and it dreams, but it never builds. The demagogue feeds on mob emotions and his leadership is the leadership of emotion, not the leadership of intellect and progress."

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH FROM 14TH HOSPITAL FLOOR

Mrs. Olivia Wenner, 35 years old, the wife of Peter Wenner, 1517 Roosevelt road, leaped to her death from a fourteenth floor window of St. Luke's hospital, 1439 South Michigan avenue, early this morning. Mrs. Wenner had been a patient at the hospital since Saturday, suffering from an infection. Other inmates of the ward in which she was being treated notified the hospital authorities of her leap and her body was found on the pavement below.

ONE SLAIN, MANY HURT IN INDIA'S SALT TAX RIOTS

Calcutta Scene of All-Day Battle.

BULLETIN.

CALCUTTA, India April 15.—(AP)—Rioting in protest against the arrest and conviction of Jawaharlal Nehru and Mayor J. M. Sengupta of Calcutta, leaders in the civil disobedience movement of Mahatma Gandhi, broke out again shortly before midnight.

[Copyright, 1930: By the New York Times.]

CALCUTTA, Bengal April 15.—Savage rioting in which one European fireman was killed and ten others wounded and an English woman stoned and beaten up by an infuriated mob broke out today as a protest against the imprisonment of Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the Nationalist congress, and Mayor Sengupta.

The fireman was killed and his ten companions wounded by a crowd which wrecked fire engines, poured gasoline on them, and set them afire. Trolley cars were wrecked and burned, overhead wires were cut, and streets were barricaded for hours by rioting Nationalists. Police had to battle their way through a mile of milling throngs and fire on the mob before order was restored. Many natives were hurt in the melee.

General Strike Called.

During the night a general strike had been called as a protest demonstration. Crowds assembled near the car barns in the suburbs this morning trying to persuade drivers to leave their jobs. When they failed, they threw stones at the cars, placed ties across the tracks and made a barricade of municipal garbage cans.

By this time the main road to Calcutta was thronged by a rioting crowd. Assailed by students and truck drivers, the trolley car crews fled, leaving the mob to pour gasoline on them and set them afire.

The arrival of a fire engine, pushing its way through the crowd, only incensed the rioters further. A shower of stones was hurled at the firemen. A huge rock dropped from a roof top killed an engine driver. Flying missiles wounded the other fire fighters. It was the first time in forty years that a fire brigade had been attacked.

English Woman Hurt.

The police, helpless to check the rioting, were soon reinforced by a large contingent from headquarters led by Sir Charles Tegart, commissioner of police. The police were led by an armed advance guard. Stones and iron bars were hurled down on the marchers from housetops.

An English woman, Miss Dench of London, tried to ride through the riot area on a motorcycle against police advice. Rioters blocked the way, forcing her to flee under a shower of road debris. Her machine was burned and she was taken to a hospital.

The situation was so serious that troops were held in readiness and an armored car brigade was mobilized to tour the city. Meanwhile other riots broke out in northern parts of the city, where passengers were pulled from street cars and all traffic was stopped for hours. Most of the shops in the Indian quarters were bolted and the streets deserted by all but rioters.

Gandhi Still Free.

CALCUTTA, April 15.—(AP)—Although the civil disobedience campaign for the freedom of India spread clear across the country today, Mahatma Gandhi, the leader, was still a free man.

While riots were being staged in Calcutta, a day of mourning was observed at Karachi on the other side of the peninsula.

Today's outstanding arrest was that of Mahadev Desai, Gandhi's private secretary, who had been left in charge of the Gandhi school at Ahmadabad. The leader himself remains immune, although a police superintendent and a dozen constables at Dandi today silently watched volunteers prepare plans for the manufacture of forbidden salt. After the volunteers gathered about the pans the police quietly disappeared.

Gandhi Exhorts Women.

Gandhi spent the day in the village of Umber, where he spoke twice. He exhorted a group of women to take part in the campaign and called the attention to the arrest of Pandit Nehru, saying "he has been punished because he is the greatest of us all."

The second speech was to the men, whom he urged to defend the salt pans, as symbols of their principles, with their lives.

Students Give 'Ha, Ha' to Dry Chief's Claims

The Rev. George B. Safford, superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon league, spoke on prohibition at a forum meeting under auspices of the Liberal club at the University of Chicago last night. The meeting attracted only twenty students but these came prepared for an argument, all being from the law school.

The clergyman had been speaking ten minutes when heckling broke out. For the next two hours his logic and observations on prohibition conditions were challenged. One listener advised him to discard his clerical garb when traveling if he was seeking a true picture of the country under the Volstead law.

Debate Continues In Dark.

The meeting finally adjourned at 10:30 p. m. when a janitor arrived, turned out the lights and left the debaters fulminating in the dark. "I'm afraid I won no converts to the cause," the Rev. Mr. Safford remarked as he left with the Rev. M. P. Boynton, pastor of Woodlawn Baptist church.

"My young friends," the minister began, "we are here to consider the prohibition law in its true light. In 1920 an immovable barrier was placed in the path of the liquor traffic. Since then there has been a great commotion."

"Commotion is correct insofar as campus life is concerned," interjected George Fried, a sophomore and president of the Liberal club. "I've talked to several people who know what conditions were before prohibition. Before 1920 the co-eds rarely drank. Now many of both sexes drink frequently."

Recalls Saloon Days.

"I know the law is not enforced today and it never will be," remarked Joseph Green, interrupting Mr. Safford as he started to reply. "I've traveled from coast to coast and saw drinking everywhere. Some of it was exceptionally vicious."

"Now boys, I've lived in Chicago for 35 years," retorted the minister. "This young fellow says conditions are worse, since the passage of the prohibition law. I know that in Chicago, before 1920, there was a solid block of saloons from Van Buren street to 22d street and from the river to the lake."

"Yes, and I'll show you the same thing today," challenged R. J. Budinger. "In the area between 55th, 79th, State and Halsted streets right now there's a speakeasy to every block. You don't believe it? I'll take you out after this meeting and prove it."

"In all my travels I've never seen an intoxicated man," interjected the Rev. Mr. Boynton. "But wait. Once in San Francisco I was squeezed between two laborers and suspected I smelled liquor on their breaths. But I was broadminded enough to put it down as cough medicine."

GRAF ZEPPELIN SEEN OVER SPAIN; FACES A STORM

SANTANDER, Spain, April 16.—(AP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, bound from her home port at Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Seville, Spain, passed over this city at 12:30 a. m. [about 6:30 p. m. Chicago time]. She was flying low and hugging the coast line.

Heavy rains were falling in this region and a storm was blowing up as the Graf sailed by.

Policeman Dies from Heart Disease in Home

Policeman Arthur E. Hansen, 35 years old, a member of the detective bureau squad of Sergt. William Swenson, fell dead of heart disease last night while talking to his father, Ole Hansen, and his wife, Sophie, in the kitchen of his home at 2830 North Spaulding avenue. He had been a member of the police department for eight years. Besides his widow and father a 2 year old daughter survives him.

TINKHAM SAYS BISHOP CANNON IS LAWBREAKER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Flagrant violations of the federal corrupt practices act were charged against both the Anti-Saloon league and Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Church, South, commission on temperance and social service today by Representative George Holden Tinkham [Rep., Mass.] before the senate's lobby investigating committee.

As a result of Tinkham's demand the books and papers of both organizations are to be searched to disclose for the first time how the league spent more than 67 million dollars to "put prohibition over" and what became of $48,300 of $65,300 intrusted to Cannon during the last presidential campaign. Cannon himself has asked for a hearing and "he will be accommodated," Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] promised today.

Theocratic "Big Four" Denounced.

Submission of evidence against the league, Cannon and the latter's board which Tinkham accused of "offensive coercive lobbying activities" completed the Massachusetts congressman's case against the "big four" of ecclesiastical lobbies which, including the northern Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals and the Federal Council of Churches, represent an organized attempt to establish a theocracy in the United States, he asserts.

Supporting his charge that Cannon violated the corrupt practices act, Tinkham produced the testimony of E. C. Jameson, wealthy New York insurance man, who told the senate committee investigating expenditures in the 1928 presidential campaign that $65,300 of his $172,900 contribution to the Hoover cause went directly to Cannon ostensibly to finance the bishop's anti-Smith campaign in southern states.

Months after the election, Cannon, as organizer and chairman of the anti-Smith committee of Virginia, filed a report with the clerk of the house indicating the receipt of only $17,000 from Jameson.

Where Did $48,300 Go?

"What is now of pertinent interest," declared Tinkham, "and of which so far as I know no record exists and no disclosure has ever been made, is what Bishop Cannon did with the balance of $48,300 of the amount he obtained from Mr. Jameson. On the face of the record which I have submitted to this committee, $48,300 came into the hands of Bishop Cannon for which he has rendered no account nor has any one else so far as I can find out.

"Everybody knows Cannon is a lobbyist," continued Tinkham. "The house knows it, the senate knows it, and I respectfully request the committee upon this evidence to summon both Bishop Cannon and the books and papers of his board for the years from 1924 to date."

The records demanded by Tinkham would cover the period in which, as disclosed a year or more ago, Cannon was engaged in trading on margins through a Wall street bucket shop, the head of which was convicted and sentenced to prison for using the mails to defraud.

Purchase of House Cited.

Observing that Cannon repeatedly has denied being a lobbyist, Tinkham offered the bishop's own testimony when the house, just across a plaza from the capitol, which was purchased for him by Virginia dry friends, was condemned by the government as part of the site of the new Supreme court building. The house was bought from the American Issue Publishing company, a subsidiary of the Anti-Saloon league, at his suggestion because, the bishop testified, it was "especially adapted" for his purposes.

One of its chief advantages, according to the excerpt from Cannon's testimony before the public buildings commission, read by Tinkham, was "the proximity of the house and senate office buildings with the opportunity for consultation with the senators and congressmen with little waste of time."

Sectarian Appeal Revealed.

The bishop, Tinkham charged, has not hesitated to use sectarian appeals or threats of political reprisals to frighten wavering members of the house and senate.

In June, 1926, according to a letter read by Tinkham, Cannon prefaced a ...d upon Vice President Curtis, ...r the senate majority leader, for prompt action on pending prohibition measures, with the warning that copies of the letter were being sent to "all senators and congressmen representing states and districts in which there is a considerable number of members" of a certain church.

"That letter," asserted Tinkham, "was clearly an audacious sectarian appeal with an implied threat of political reprisals. I submit that it is a letter which no senator should receive without a feeling of resentment and indignation."

Volstead's Expenses Paid.

In his attack upon the Anti-Saloon league, Tinkham recalled the disclosure in 1922 before a house committee that the dry organization "paid campaign expenses of Andrew J. Volstead, knowing that Mr. Volstead was to introduce the so-called Volstead act and was to be chairman of the committee to which would be referred the bill in question."

Tinkham contrasted a table indicating that the league and its state subsidiaries collected and spent a total of $67,565,313—$17,565,313 of it since 1918—with the "meager," "absurd," and "nominal" sums reported by the league's campaign committee to the clerk of the house as having been used for "political purposes."

Compares Budget and Report.

In 1927, with a presidential campaign in the offing, the league's campaign committee reported total expenditures of exactly $2, according to Tinkham's tabulation, and in 1928, after it was announced that the league's national budget would be increased from $450,000 to $750,000 "to prevent the election of wet candidates for President, congress, and other offices," it reported expenditures of $83,863.

"Its spokesmen will say, of course," said Tinkham, "that the money was used for 'education' of the country——"

"You do not object to expenditure of money for education toward law observance and enforcement?" demanded Senator Arthur Robinson [Rep., Ind.], one of the league's senate adherents.

"No, I believe in law enforcement," Tinkham retorted, "and I believe in strict enforcement of the federal corrupt practices act against the Anti-Saloon league, too."

BEYERS GETS 5TH CONTINUANCE OF FRAUD CHARGES

David D. Beyers, real estate agent and tax adjuster, who was indicted on fraud charges last September, after the state's attorney's office had received numerous complaints against him, was granted another continuance yesterday when his case was called for trial in Judge E. I. Frankhauser's court. Judge Frankhauser said he was ready to proceed, but that neither the defendant nor the state's attorney's office was ready. The record shows the case was continued until May 6 by "motion of the defendant."

"I have told the state's attorney's office that these old cases must be disposed of," said Judge Frankhauser. "I will grant no more continuances when the indictments have been pending for seven or eight months."

Beyers is under ten indictments on charges of embezzlement, obtaining money by false pretenses and operating a confidence game. He is accused of accepting fees ranging from $200 to $10,000 from realty holders after promising to reduce their taxes through political pressure.

Yesterday's continuance was the fifth granted in the case. One of the previous continuances was on order of the court and another was granted at the request of the defendant. The case came up for trial the fourth time on March 4 and was continued to April 15 at state's attorney's request.

2 AUTO DEATHS RAISE TOLL OF COUNTY TO 251

Two deaths yesterday raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 251. The victims:

John Vanderkoppel, 30 years old, 8609 Trumbull avenue, Niles Center. Fatally injured when he fell beneath the wheels of a dumping truck at the Evanston dump yesterday. His death marked the first auto fatality in Evanston for the year.

Lawrence Anderson, 71 years old, 4644 Austin boulevard. Died in St. Anne's hospital of injuries suffered April 11, when he was struck by an auto driven by Walter Koch, 4806 Concord place.

ROB GROCER ON SOUTH SIDE.

Three robbers who held up Joseph Poshonka, early yesterday in front of his grocery at 4720 Laflin street, took his watch and a wallet into which he had crammed $112, but overlooked an additional $50 which the grocer had placed in his hip pocket.

Remarkably Active For A Man His Age

"I've suffered my last spell of sour stomach, says H. K. White, of 2519 Washington Blvd., Chicago. "I found out that by taking Acidine three or four nights a week, I never have that uncertain feeling whether my meals are going to set right, or make me miserable from the excessive acid and gas I used to have so regularly."

Sick, sour stomach, dry sensation in the throat, gassy belching, foul breath and indigestion usually come from too much acid when your stomach doesn't digest the starchy food you eat. Not more than one person in a hundred has a stomach so perfect it will do it without help. That's why more than 2 million people are now using Acidine regularly to enjoy good appetite and freedom from distress and pain after eating. You can get Acidine at any drug store.

CHICAGO PASTOR ASSAILS CHURCH IN CIVIL POLITICS

Sees Injury to Spiritual Power of Religion.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The church in politics was condemned by the Rev. John H. Williamson, Methodist pastor and former law enforcement commissioner of the city, in an address to the members of the Collegiate club of Chicago at the Morrison hotel yesterday. He also denounced professional reformers and said that under our court and administrative system adequate law enforcement was impossible.

"As American citizens," he said, "we should maintain the principle of separation of church and state with intelligence and diligence.

"Keeping church and state apart does not rob either one of a better service, but contributes to a larger common good. There are many contributions the clergy can make that are of great value to good government. They can clarify moral issues, create civic idealism, inspire the performance of civic duty.

Sees Constitutional Clash.

"And the ministers of our churches who are well able and willing to do these things, should not be embarrassed by any self-appointed committees, bishops, or kindred powerful organizations, who use the name of the church as an institution in recommending candidates for political office.

"The very moment the church utters a voice of endorsement or rejection upon the name of a candidate for office in any branch of our American government, then, at once, we have a revival of theocracy with all its well known attendant evils, introducing the beginning of the end of real American democracy. We inevitably clash with the first amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Harms Church, He Says.

"And furthermore, which is far more serious for the church than the state, whenever as a church we definitely state the names of candidates or take sides in partisanships to the extent that we are openly identified as a part of the political machinery, we prostitute the high moral, spiritual and eternal purposes of the pulpit for a temporary expedient. At the best it is only reformative and not regenerative, moral and not spiritual, and too earthly to belong to the best interests of the Kingdom of God.

"It is time the voice of the people went out again for a clear demarcation between church and state. Ecclesiastical meddling in politics must be eliminated if we are to preserve the democracy as we want it to be preserved. This question is now being agitated in Washington and in this city, and I predict that within the next six months it will become one of the main public questions—where the church may go and where it has no right to go."

"Too Many Reformers."

One of the greatest troubles of Mayor Thompson, Mayor Dever, or any mayor, he said, came from the professional refcrmers.

"For the sake of reform itself we need to reduce the prolific breed of reform organizations down to real necessities and up to an intelligent, worthy, dignified, and influential position. American citizens rightfully resent any self-constituted body becoming the sole custodians of public morals."

The speaker reminded the members of the club that on Jan. 8, 1929, he told them that State's Attorney Swanson could not enforce the law as the public expected it to be enforced. He presented figures to show that from Jan. 1, 1929, to Feb. 28, 1930, 901 were arrested as gun toters, of which 595 escaped trial. Frank Loesch, he said, had six special grand juries and $350,000 for investigations and prosecutions. The result was 50 indictments and two nominal fines.

"Law enforcement should not be made a political football," he said, because under the present system the law cannot be adequately enforced, and it is not the fault of the men but of the system.

Describes the System.

The system, he described as follows: "Our legislative system is archaic, our statute books are overloaded with laws, our laws are weighted down with technicalities, our judicial processes are cumbersome and slow. The system protects the crooks and makes the crime wave a permanent one.

"I believe in Chicago and love it. It is the wealthiest and worthiest city in the United States. We have got to work out a new system with patience and sacrifice."

Dr. Williamson is preparing a book n his Chicago experiences, to be called "Inside Out."

WASHINGTON NOTES

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—The senate today passed a house bill authorizing the secretary of agriculture to investigate cotton ginning and to establish experimental ginning plants and laboratories. The measure now goes to the White House.

The Norris and all other Muscle Shoals measures were abandoned today by the house military committee and a subcommittee was appointed to draft a new measure to provide for the leasing of the project to private concerns.

The question whether the liquor purchaser is equally guilty with the bootlegger will be argued before the Supreme court on April 28.

For a time at least the former presidential yacht Mayflower, which the navy has attempted four times to sell, will float idle at the Philadelphia navy yard, withdrawn from the market.

President Hoover has signed a bill which relieves the treasury of the duty of coining any more $2.50 gold pieces.

OTHERS MARKED FOR DEATH BY PRICE SLAYERS

Witness Against Rum Gang Told He's Next.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mauston, Wis., April 15.—[Special.]—The slaying last Sunday night of District Attorney Clinton G. Price was only the first of a series of killings planned by the Juneau county liquor gang as a reprisal for their prosecution and conviction in a recent conspiracy case.

This was the startling information brought to Sheriff E. H. Hempelman this afternoon. A witness who furnished important evidence against the gang at the trial revealed that he had been threatened as the next one to be murdered. This witness, Frank A. Scholz of New Lisbon, Wis., named Stanley Smitsky, formerly a Chicago gunman and a member of the gang, as the man who had told him he was "the next to go."

Smitsky Has Alibi.

Smitsky was found tonight at a farm near his residence. He insisted he had not been hiding from the searchers and produced an alibi for his whereabouts the night Price was slain. He had been at a movie with a number of companions, he said. He denied having threatened Scholz with death.

Scholz, however, continued his assertions. He was so evidently in fear of his life that the authorities promised to guard his home.

Smitsky was not taken into custody, but was warned not to leave the county.

Wright Silent but Smiling.

Lyall Wright, ex-sheriff, accused of the Price murder, made no statement at the arraignment before County Judge Robert Clark and was sent back to jail to await a hearing next Tuesday. Wright was nonchalant and smiling in comparison with his harried appearance of yesterday. He refused to comment on his first remark that "I know who did it, but he's far away now."

The complete array of circumstantial evidence against Wright was presented at the inquest today. A number of witnesses told of following the trail of blood from the scene of the slaying to a rowboat and from the rowboat to the back door of Wright's home. Two physicians told of dressing Wright's middle finger for a deep cut which had severed a small artery and which could easily have left such a trail.

It is the contention of the prosecution that Wright suffered this injury in stealing the rowboat, cutting his finger in breaking the lock. Wright has offered no explanation of the wound except the vague remark that he had cut himself while cleaning fish.

With the motive of Wright's sworn enmity of Price added to the evidence, special prosecutors O. S. Loomis and D. M. Perry declared they had a perfect case against the 30 year old defendant.

The coroner's jury did not attempt to fix the responsibility for Price's death, merely reporting that he had come to his death as the result of shotgun fire by an unknown person.

Villagers Stoical.

Mauston, a town of 2,000, accepts this tragedy with an equanimity somewhat strange to the outsider. The villagers have the stoical attitude toward prohibition, bootlegging and their attendant crimes and shootings that is attributed to the hardy mountaineers of Tennessee and the Carolinas.

Thus, all Juneau county knew two years ago that their boy sheriff was trafficking in liquor and fraternizing with the notorious Diamond gang of Milwaukee, which had set up numerous stills on farms in the region in much the same fashion as the Genna brothers once did business on Chicago's west side.

But nobody cared. The resort region around the Dells near Kilbourn became more popular when it was learned that good moonshine was easy to get.

SENT BACK TO JOLIET PRISON.

Ray Pepper, 30 years old, an escaped inmate of Joliet prison, who was rearrested Sunday night at 12th and Morgan streets, was returned to the prison yesterday.

15 DAYS FOR $100, NEW FRENCH PLAN FOR U. S. TOURISTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 15.—Americans can now spend 15 days in France, enjoying cultural influences, historic monuments, and historic wines, for the trivial sum of $100, according to a new plan announced today by Gaston Gerard, touristic commissioner of the French government.

M. Gerard's plan, which has the approval of hotel men and tourist agencies, calls for selling a book of tickets to each tourist for $100. The book will entitle the tourist to spend six days in Paris, with 15 short trips into the provinces, with all expenses, including hotel, meals, and transportation, paid. All the tourist has to do is to tear off a ticket each day and present it to the tourist agent.

A feature of the tickets is that they stipulate the right to a pint of good table wine with each meal. The plan is to go into effect starting May 15, and it is expected that books of these tickets will be offered for sale at all recognized travel agencies, both in France and abroad.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

WITNESS LINKS RALPH CAPONE TO BEER TRADE

Identifies His Checks at Income Tax Trial.

Ralph Capone, previously known to the jury as a "poor race horse man," was linked by testimony with the beer interests of his brother Alphonse for the first time yesterday in his trial in federal Judge Wilkerson's court on charges of defrauding the government out of income taxes.

John Kunz, saloonkeeper at 2333 South 56th avenue, Cicero, took the witness stand and identified a pile of checks he personally gave to a "little man," identified later as Tony Aresso, partner for Ralph Capone, for "goods."

"What kind of goods?" asked Assistant United States Attorney Dwight H. Green.

"For beer," Kunz replied.

Tells of "Little Man's" Visits.

Kunz said the "little man" was accompanied to his place by another person who previously had done the collecting. There were no introductions, the witness said. "This man will collect for the goods from now on," he quoted the first collector as saying.

Most of the checks were for $110, and Kunz explained that this represented two barrels of "goods." The "little man" called every Monday, the witness said. When Mr. Green began asking whether each check was given in payment for beer Defense Counsel Dennis M. Kelleher objected.

"What difference does it make whether it was for beer?" asked Judge Wilkerson.

U. S. Attorney Explains.

"Because, your honor," said Assistant Prosecutor Jacob Grossman, "he represented himself in his income tax returns and in his offer of compromise as a race horse man and a gambler. We wish to show that he was a dispenser of beer and that he made false statements and concealed assets in his $1,000 offer in compromise."

"Is this testimony introduced to prejudice the jurors, or is it relevant?" asked Judge Wilkerson, after another objection from the defense.

Mr. Grossman said the evidence was prejudicial, but that it was still relevant. Then Judge Wilkerson asked whether there was any law against selling beer.

"Real beer, yes," said Mr. Grossman.

"There has been nothing said about real beer," said Judge Wilkerson.

Judge Warns Prosecution.

Mr. Grossman said the prosecution would show the beer was real. Then followed a hearing in the absence of the jury, and the court finally admitted the evidence with this admonition:

"This evidence is entirely prejudicial and inflammatory, if it is not ultimately shown to be relevant to the case as a whole. A trial judge is at a disadvantage in a case of this nature, and I warn the prosecution of the possibility of a new trial if the relevancy of the evidence is not shown."

Kunz identified a photograph of the "little man" which previously had been identified by employés of the Pickert State bank of Cicero as the man who made deposits in five accounts which Ralph Capone is alleged to have maintained at the bank. In a confession after his arrest, Capone admitted the accounts were his and that Aresso was a runner for him, according to previous government testimony.

PAID $23,000 TO AVOID SUIT

MR. AND MRS. HARRY LANGDON.

CHARGES HE PAYS $23,000 TO AVOID ALIENATION SUIT

Langdon, Film Actor, Contests Notes.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—Harry Langdon, film comedian, declared in a Superior court document filed today that he was forced to pay $15,000 cash, and give promisory notes for an additional $11,500, to forestall a threatened $250,000 suit for alienation of affections of Mrs. Helen Walton O'Brien, whom he married last July. He made the statement in answering two attachment suits, filed against him for recovery on the notes.

The suits were brought by Leo Rosenkrans and Otto Emma, payees as trustees for Thomas J. O'Brien, first husband of the present Mrs. Langdon.

Langdon alleged that he gave the cash and notes because at that time he was under a motion picture contract and that "if the charges were made public I would have been greatly embarrassed and probably would have lost the contract."

He declared that O'Brien threatened the alienation suit long after Mrs. O'Brien had been separated from her husband. Langdon declared she left O'Brien first in 1922 and finally in 1926, when she gave him $500 to leave for the east.

The film actor was divorced by his first wife, Mrs. Rose F. Langdon, in April, 1928, on a charge of desertion.

CHARLES C. CASE UNABLE TO GIVE BOMBING CLEWS

Attorney Charles Center Case told police yesterday he had no idea who instigated the bombing of his home at 5502 Magnolia avenue, Monday night. The motive, he said, was probably his activity during the last two years in prosecuting vote fraud cases, but he was unable to connect any individual with the blast.

"It was too late to intimidate me," the lawyer said, "because I resigned as attorney for the election board on April 4. I had no intention of joining with State's Attorney Swanson in prosecutions growing out of the recent primary, so the bomb must have been the act of some one who held a grudge and not that of one who was trying to scare me from prosecuting frauds."

Mr. Case had been an assistant state's attorney under Maclay Hoyne and two years ago he was appointed by County Judge Jarecki as a special prosecutor who prepared numerous cases of contempt of court for presentation to the County court. Judge Jarecki sent many of them to jail and fined several others.

Hold 2 Found Towing Cars to Garage from Vacant Lot

Found towing parked automobiles from a vacant lot at 71st street and Merrill avenue to the Bryn Mawr garage, 2025 East 71st street, Henry Crawford, 25 years old, superintendent of the Garage Owners' Association of Chicago, and a companion, Samuel Sachs, 23, of 1437 Harding avenue, were arrested yesterday by Grand Crossing police. Police are holding them pending an investigation of the legality of their authority to remove the cars.

LOTTIE BRENNER SUES 'COUNT' FOR DIVORCE AGAIN

Former Bill Withdrawn 4 Days Ago.

Mrs. Lottie Brenner von Buelow, 55 years old, yesterday filed her second bill for divorce in less than three weeks against "Count" Enrique Dechow von Buelow, 36 years old. The latest bill, filed in the Superior court, comes five days after she announced she had become reconciled to her husband following the robbery of her home. The bill amplifies the charges of misconduct in the original bill by alleging cruelty and that Von Buelow married her solely for her money.

Mrs. von Buelow filed her first bill in the Circuit court last March 28. She stated that her husband began seeking the company of other women in the July following their marriage on May 7, 1929. The bill gave the date of separation as last March 12.

Home Is Robbed.

Four days after the bill was filed Mrs. von Buelow was robbed of $50,000 in jewels in her home at 5928 Sheridan road by three gunmen. During the robbery her estranged husband entered and was bound and blindfolded with four other members of the household. The "count" was questioned by the police and admitted that he is not a count and that his real name is Henry Dechow.

Last Friday Attorney Benjamin Levering, representing Mrs. Von Buelow, appeared before Circuit Judge Lynch and dismissed the suit. Mrs. von Buelow explained that she had discovered that her husband was not the worst person in the world and revealed that he had been beaten by the gunmen. She announced that she was nursing him back to health.

Charges He Struck Her.

The second bill, drawn by Attorney Otto Kolar, discloses the fact that they separated again last Saturday. She charges that her husband came into her home in the company of two women and a man, all said to have been drinking, and demanded that she accompany him on a cabaret tour. She refused and ordered him from the home. He has not returned, according to the bill.

The bill alleges that Von Buelow struck her and treated her inhumanly three times in August, 1929. On the last occasion, Aug. 15, she avers that she refused to live with him as his wife and he left for Europe to return last March 10 pleading for a reconciliation. The bill charges that Von Buelow never worked and that she has spent $25,000 on him.

Mrs. von Buelow was the widow of Nathan T. Brenner, former alderman and president of the American Insulated Wire and Cable company. He died in 1928 after leaving his $1,378,000 estate to two children and cutting off his wife, on whom he had settled $750,000 in a separation agreement. She met her second husband while traveling in Central America, where he was a commercial aviator.

LOESCH SAYS U. S. HAS SAME CRIME PROBLEM AS CITY

Frank J. Loesch told the Prosperity club in an address on "Crime" yesterday that the United States is called the world's most lawless nation, a charge which, he said, is not wholly deserved. The veteran battler against lawlessness said the Chicago situation had been improved during the last two years, and he commended Police Commissioner Russell.

He said his experience as a member of President Hoover's crime commission has confirmed his belief that the chief problem of the nation, as well as of Chicago, is combating organized crime, that is, criminal gangs who get protection through political alliances.

"The police aren't up in their business as you are in yours," Mr. Loesch told his audience of business men. "The average policeman hasn't the astuteness of the average criminal. Don't fool yourselves by thinking that the criminal is below normal mentally. Usually he has just as good brain power as you or I, but he has got wrong."

GIRL'S MURDER LAID TO A MAN SHE KNEW WELL

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—The police tonight announced the arrest of two suspects in connection with the murder of Mary Baker, a government employe, whose body was found stuffed into a culvert on the outskirts of Arlington National cemetery.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Working on the theory that the murder of Miss Mary Baker, 28 year old navy department employé, was committed last Friday by a man who she knew well, Washington and Virginia police today continued a scrutiny of her list of acquaintances and of her letters and belongings.

Virginia authorities discovered today the ignition keys to her automobile, and her doorkey, which had been picked up at a spot a quarter of a mile from the Culvert near Arlington National cemetery, in which her body was found.

The discovery was followed by a decision to drain a nearby irrigation pond on the theory that missing articles of clothing and possibly the gun with which she was shot may have been thrown in the water.

Meanwhile, detectives were questioning two men whose names were guarded, but who were understood to have been close friends of the murdered girl. Police believe examination of the two would yield information helpful in solving the case.

JAPANESE BALK AT BRITISH PLAN FOR "IF" CLAUSE

Fear Safeguard Provision May Nullify Treaty.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—With the drafting of the naval limitation treaty approaching completion, a complication developed today with reference to the character of the safeguarding clause, which is designed to allow Great Britain, the United States, or Japan to escape from the tonnage restrictions imposed if they should deem their security threatened by the building program of any nation outside the treaty. The American delegation accepted the clause submitted by the British, but the Japanese witheld their consent, and the whole matter is up in the air tonight.

The escape provision framed by the British follows:

Each of the signatory powers, should it feel its security to be impaired by a changed political outlook or by intensive new construction on the part of another power, would be entitled, after due notice, to increase its tonnage to the minimum extent deemed compatible with national safety."

U. S. Gives Britain Free Hand.

The negotiations for the safeguarding clause began with a conference between American Secretary of State Stimson and Prime Minister MacDonald at noon. Mr. Stimson is said to have told Mr. MacDonald that the American delegation was willing to allow the British to write whatever contingent provision they deemed necessary, inasmuch as they are the most vitally interested parties.

Later in the afternoon A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, called at the American headquarters and left with Mr. Stimson the text of the clause the British desired attached to the treaty. The understanding was that the clause was to be turned over to the drafting committee tonight for incorporation in the treaty.

A hitch developed, however, when Mr. Stimson submitted the text to the Japanese. The objection raised by some members of the Japanese delegation was that this clause would give a signatory power the right to exceed the tonnage limitations named in the treaty almost at will.

Might Nullify Pact.

After the ships have been scrapped and building programs reorganized in order to put an end to naval building competition, any signatory, it was contended, could revive the competition. In such event, it was declared, it would appear to be more economical to have retained the ships sent to the scrap heap.

Other members of the Japanese delegation, while not objecting, insisted on referring the clause to Tokio.

The safeguarding clause is necessitated by the fact that France and Italy are not parties to that part of the treaty limiting cruisers, destroyers, and submarines. The British from the start said that if France failed to join in the limitation of these classes of ships, they could not tie themselves to a hard and fast restriction of tonnage.

France Plans Much Building.

France is planning to have 100,000 tons of submarines and some new eight inch gun cruisers. If France should proceed to build these warships, Great Britain would deem it necessary to have more than the 15 big cruisers and 150,000 tons of destroyers to which it would be limited by the three power agreement.

Mr. Stimson, conceding that the attitude of the British was justified, suggested first that the safeguarding clause be modeled on the similar provision in the Washington treaty. That clause provides that when any signatory deems its security threatened, it may call the other signatories into conference for a revision of the agreement.

Mr. MacDonald is willing to accept this clause, but the British admiralty is opposed to any device which would make it necessary to obtain the consent of the other signatories when it was desired to exceed the limitations in order to counterbalance the French naval construction.

Moreover, Mr. MacDonald learned that the opposition parties were supporting the admiralty. The prime minister bowed to this opposition and told the admiralty to write the safeguarding clause.

GOVERNOR URGES AMENDMENT OF STATE TAX LAW

Special Session to Be Discussed Today.

par value intangibles, not taking into consideration unproductive intangibles which have a considerable value.

"In other words, it is safe to say that the total value of all intangibles owned by Illinois citizens cannot be much less than the total value of all real property in the state—about seventeen or eighteen billion dollars.

"Moreover, as the percentage of people owning real estate has declined there has been a marked increase in personal industry, paid for in wages, salaries, fees, and commissions, and this is now the largest single source of net income to the people in Illinois.

Sources of Citizens' Income.

"The best estimates indicate that 80 per cent of the total net income of the people of the state is derived from personal industry and 10 per cent from earnings on intangible property. It is clear, therefore, that only about 10 per cent of the total current net income of residents of Illinois is derived from the ownership of real or tangible property.

"The general property tax in theory levies on both tangible and intangible property, together producing 20 per cent of the total income of the people, but every one knows that by tax exemptions and tax evasions intangibles are now largely escaping taxation."

Taking up the uniform rule of taxation, Gov. Emmerson said:

"The uniform rule assumes that all property, regardless of kind or earning power, is equally able to pay taxes according to its fair cash value. This, of course, is a false assumption. Much tangible property has no taxpaying capacity.

"Aside from this, the uniform rule of taxation as applied to intangibles is impossible of administration. No state which has tried it has been able to enforce it, for uniform and impartial enforcement would mean virtual confiscation in many instances.

"Many states have abandoned the uniform rule. New York and Pennsylvania do not have it and it is omitted from the constitution of 23 other states."

His Views on Cook County.

Taking up the Cook county situation, the governor said:

"The tax levies for the support of the University of Illinois and for the payment of principal and interest of state bonds are involved. It is now apparent there will be no tax money available for the payment of money due on these bonds on Aug. 1.

"It is a serious matter for a state to repudiate its bonds. Illinois has a clean financial record. The payment on bonds must be made when due.

"It is obvious that it will work a great hardship on the people of Cook county if they are required to pay two years' taxes in one year—a condition that is certain to arise some time as the result of the interruption in tax collection, unless some remedial legislation is enacted. I am endeavoring with the advice and assistance of officials of Chicago and Cook county and public spirited citizens to find a remedy.

"The place to begin in a revision of the revenue system is at the beginning—the constitution.

"I intend to do all in my power to assist in the drafting and submission to the people of a satisfactory amendment and in the enactment of equitable laws by the legislature after constitutional authority is obtained."

FRANCE'S 8 INCH GUN SUBMARINE HITS NAVAL PACT

Italy Protests; U. S. and Britain Favor Idea.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—France's new giant supersubmarine, the Surcouf, of nearly 3,000 tons displacement, threatens to deadlock the work on the naval limitation treaty, now in the hands of the drafting committee of the London conference, following the discovery today that the craft is carrying 8-inch guns.

The Italian members of the committee, noticing the big guns specified for the submersible in the list of characteristics describing the vessel, decided the Fascist government would never acept such a powerful armament of underwater craft.

U. S. Approves Big Guns.

The original French specifications provided that the Surcouf be armed with 6-inch guns, but Paris naval experts now figure the big submarine can withstand the shock of recoil from 8-inch guns if they are fired while she is running awash, as the water surrounding the hull will add to its strength of resistance.

The British and Americans favor making this exception and leaving it to France to test the heavy guns, but at the same time making reservations for the right to equip their three supersubmarines, allowed under the proposed treaty, with weapons of similar caliber if they prove feasible.

Match for Light Cruiser.

A naval expert said tonight that mammoth submarines with 8 inch guns could cope successfully with the largest liners and could outfight any 6-inch gun cruiser, unless violent seas prevented the submersible from utilizing its gun power efficiently.

The Surcouf also carries an anti-aircraft battery of light guns to keep bombing craft at a respectful distance.

The drafting committee continued working on the other features of the proposed treaty at high pressure today, and hope was expressed this evening that the instrument might be completed by tomorrow evening, ready to telegraph to Washington, Paris, Rome and Tokio for approval. If this proves to be the case, the prospects are bright for the final plenary session next Tuesday morning.

FRANCE PAYS U. S. 4 BILLIONS DOWN ON HER WARTIME DEBT

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Delivery to the treasury today by Ambassador Claudel of France of $4,025,000,000 in French treasury gold bonds reflected the final action of the French government in funding its war debt to the United States.

The action was in accordance with the French debt settlement approved by congress and signed by President Hoover last December.

When the new gold bonds were presented at the treasury, the first four were marked paid and returned to the ambassador. The French government has been credited with that amount, $125,000,000, from previous payments made to the United States.

The treasury also returned to the embassy the demand bonds it held in connection with cash advances made the French and for surplus war material, which totaled $3,340,129,356.

GERMAN FLEET TO VISIT ITALY; FRANCE WORRIED

Cruise Seen as Bid for Friendship of Duce.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 15.—France is watching with something more than interest the cruise of the German fleet in the Mediterranean.

The fleet, which is composed of four heavy cruisers, the new pocket cruiser, Koenigsberg, and 12 destroyers, passed Gibraltar Sunday night. The cruise is ostensibly for practice, but French naval authorities are convinced that what they term as the "sensational cruise" has a political motive.

This political motive, according to the London correspondent of the rabidly nationalistic Echo de Paris, is "a provocation to France and an invitation to Italy." The article adds that the British admiralty is also somewhat stirred up over the cruise.

In official circles here the comment is more conservative, but despite this discretion, no bones are made over the worry caused by the cruise. It is significantly pointed out that the itinerary of the cruise brings it nowhere near France or French possessions, but calls for a long stop at the Italian port of Palermo.

France is greatly disturbed at the growing friendliness between Italy and Germany. Some days ago Foreign Minister Briand warned the chamber of deputies against any policy such as a four power naval pact, which would throw Italy into the arms of Germany. Now the presence of Germany's whippet fleet cutting tracks in Mediterranean service is pointed to as a reminder of the foreign minister's warning.

The Franco-Italian question has become very troublesome lately. Some of the knottier questions, such as migration of Italians into the thinly populated districts of France, the Tunisian border dispute, as well as the problem of naval parity, are due for discussion at a Franco-Italian conference at an early but unannounced date. Recently attention was attracted here when the ministry of war reported that fortifications in the Alps and around Nice were being rushed in order to complete an elaborate defense plan.

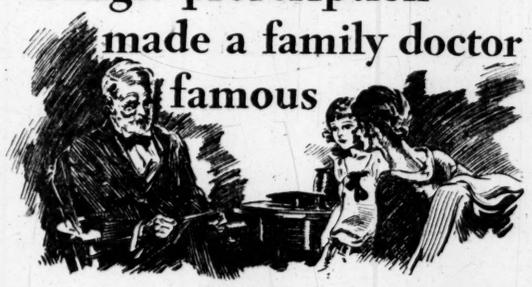
Single prescription made a family doctor famous



SELDOM has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than the one which Dr. Caldwell performed back in 1885 when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote this prescription as he found men, women, and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, poor appetite, or lack of energy, etc. And it invariably relieved these symptoms so much more pleasantly, so much quicker than other things, that his patients simply had to tell other people about it.

The demand for this prescription grew so fast that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use and supply drug stores with it. Today you can get the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, at all drug stores.

When you or your children suffer from any of the symptoms of constipation, it will pay you to remember this safe, pleasant-tasting, effective laxative; made only from herbs and other pure ingredients; a real corrective for constipation. A doctor's 47-year experience behind this formula!

BANDITS KIDNAP CANADA MISSION PASTOR IN CHINA

Ask $200,000 Ransom for His Release.

SHANGHAI, April 15.—(AP)—The condition of foreign missionaries remained uncertain today in bandit infested provinces of south China, where telegraphic communication was disrupted. Stirred by foreign protests, the Nationalist government dispatched airplanes from Canton to drop bombs upon communists and bandits ravaging cities and the countryside along the border of Kwangtung and Kiangsi provinces.

Captured April 9 at Fowchow, province of Szechewan, C. A. Bridgman, Canadian-United church missionary from Winona, Ont., was taken by bandits to mountains of the upper Yangtse river and held for ransom of $200,000. The British consul at Ichang has requested the Nationalist government to obtain Bridgman's release and that of a Chinese pastor captured with him.

Fate of U. S. Catholics Hidden.

Bandit forces swarming over Kiangsi province have severed telegraph wires, keeping fast the secret of the fate of sixteen American Catholic missionaries held in the besieged city of Kanchow since early March.

The brigands' siege of Namyung, Kwangtung province, has been lifted, but missionaries feared the robbers would return and telegraphed to authorities for aid.

Missionaries at Linchow, northwestern Kwangtung, recently menaced by a bandit army, are cut off from wire communication and their condition is unknown.

In China 17 Years.

TORONTO, Ont., April 15.—(AP)—The Rev. C. A. Bridgman, who was reported today in dispatches from China to have been captured by bandits, is a native of Winona, Ont., and has been in the Chinese mission field since 1913.

Officials of the United Church of Canada said they had received no word of the kidnaping.

Mr. Hammerstein has an idea that grand opera will be filmed one of these days for the talkies, and he contemplates discussing the matter with the Metropolitan Opera company. Mrs. Hammerstein said she was in Hollywood just long enough to want to be back in the game again for a try with the talkies.

PROVIDE FOR 1,300 MORE PRISONERS AT STATEVILLE

Plans for the new cell block under construction for the prison at Stateville have been altered to afford quarters for 1,300 inmates, instead of 980, as originally intended, Warden Henry C. Hill announced yesterday.

The rapid rise of the prison population necessitated the revision of plans, Warden Hill said. The total population of the Joliet prison institutions is now 4,191, of which 2,258 are at Stateville, 1,725 at Joliet, 86 at the honor farm, and 122 at the women's prison.

An improvement recently completed is the construction of a tunnel from the old prison yard to a quarry on the opposite side of highway 4A, which eliminates the danger of prisoners escaping while they are being escorted through traffic.

British Jobless Figuré Shows Slight Decrease

LONDON, April 15.—For the first time in many month's England's unemployment shows a decrease. The ministry of labor's weekly return, issued tonight, shows 1,073 less unemployed than last week. The grand total of 1,676,400, however, is 498,333 more than a year ago.

JAMES ANSWERS CULLEN CHARGES ON PARK PAY ROLL

Denies 'Padding' or Civil Service Violation.

W. R. James, president of the west park board, yesterday issued a formal reply to the charges of his fellow commissioner, James J. Cullen, in which he stated that the Cullen charges were "absolutely false."

Mr. Cullen had declared that the pay roll of the west park system had been overloaded with pay rollers sponsored by Robert E. Crowe, former state's attorney, and city hall leaders including Thomas Brockmeyer, Charles E. Graydon, John Dempsey and Frank R. Ringa.

Mr. James' statement follows in part:

"Statements made by Commissioner James J. Cullen in a letter which he addressed to Gov. Emmerson, but gave to the newspapers before the governor saw it, are so untrue as to demand attention.

"In the first place, if Mr. Cullen were loyal to the administration and interested only in good service, he would have given the governor an opportunity to investigate the charges he makes in his letter and to act upon them before seeking publicity. This would have been only common courtesy.

Charges False, James Says.

"Mr. Cullen chages that pay rolls have been padded and the treasury of the park board raided 'by the city hall pay roll brigade.' He alleges that 'state civil service rules and regulations' have been violated and that the pay roll in March was $18,000 more than in March, 1929.

"All of these charges are absolutely false.

"Owing to the spring flower show and the preparation of park grounds for the spring, a number of additional employés were requested by heads of the various departments. Some of these requests were granted, where it seemed essential, but in every instance employés were drawn from the civil service lists until those lists were exhausted. Afterwards men were selected as temporary employés from the various wards on recommendation of the ward organizations. No faction was favored over any other faction.

"Mr. Cullen himself requested 32 positions. The fact that he was allowed to make 11 appointments should have satisfied him, but it apparently did not. If he had been given all of the 32 appointments he demanded no doubt it would not have occurred to him that the pay rolls were being padded.

"Chicago experienced the worst snowstorm in its history on March 25-26. In order to keep park drives open a large number of extra men were employed.

Discusses Filling of Jobs.

"In spite of all of this, however, the pay roll last month was only $5,302 more than in March, 1929. Our February pay roll was more than $7,000 less than the February pay roll of a year ago. To date, therefore the present administration has made a saving during the time it has been in charge of the parks as compared with the corresponding period last year.

"Mr. Cullen's other statement, that Commissioner Bünte, who is vice president, should have presided in my absence is sufficiently answered by the fact that I was not absent.

"The books of the west parks system are open to any one entitled to information about the details of administration."

Gov. Emmerson, in Chicago yesterday, conferred with Mr. James, but he declined to comment on the Cullen controversy, explaining that he deemed it Mr. James' prerogative to answer Mr. Cullen.

LANDLORD ACCUSES MISS BARRYMORE OF DAMAGING ANTIQUES

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Ethel Barrymore, stage star, is chafing under a $3,000 plaster slapped on her today in City court here by her old friend Rubye de Remer Throop, who used to be an actress.

It all started in October, 1928, when Ethel rented from Rubye a whole furnished house in East 55th street, at $12,000 a year. According to the complaint filed by Rubye's lawyer, Ethel agreed to keep the $100,000 set of antique furniture in good shape.

Ethel went on the road in July, 1929, and paid up her rent like a dutiful tenant. But, Rubye avers, when she visited the old homestead she found the furnishings in a sorry condition. For instance, she says, a lot of costly bric-a-brac was broken, a regiment of determined moths were hanging by their chin straps to some of the more inviting rugs, and the satins, my dear—the satins were positively ruined.

The repair bill will be about $3,000, but Miss Barrymore has entered a general denial of the charges, and she comes back with a few charges of her own.

"The house," she relates in her answer, "was neither water tight nor wind tight."

Flying 64 Year Old Duchess Is Forced Down in Egypt

LONDON, April 15.—(AP)—A dispatch from Egypt to the Daily Express today said that the airplane of the Duchess of Bedford, 64 years old, who is flying by easy stages from England to Cape Town, had been forced down near Juba, in Upper Egypt. The duchess and her pilot and mechanic had flown 700 miles south from Khartum, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, when they were forced down into a bog. The airplane had to be hauled out by natives.

AMSTER TRIED TO BUY HER BABY, OLGA DECLARES

Swears She Rejected $100,000 Offer.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Olga Elde Edwards, a lady with a childish treble and roving brown eyes, swore this afternoon that Nathan L. Amster sixty year old financier, offered her $100,000 for her baby but that she did not give him the child.

It was Olga's turn today to tell her story at her trial for alleged extortion of important money from Amster. She told it in detail from the first to the last meeting and it was pure romance.

It was out in a little cottage in Los Angeles that Olga says Amster made a bid for her baby.

"I was in the little cottage and Mr. Amster was stopping at the Ambassador hotel there," testified the girl. "Mr. Amster came to call on me. The baby was six months old at the time.

"That child is beautiful," he said, "and looks like me. Olga, you can have $100,000 if you will let me have the baby."

Prepared His Breakfast.

Amster met her at the home of a Miss Kennedy, the girl testified, describing "Miss Kennedy" as the "friend of wealthy men." Later the same week, in the spring of their romance, Miss Edwards said she met Amster at the apartment of a "Miss Miller" and "for a week I prepared breakfast for him."

"It was in January, 1918," testified Olga, "that Mr. Amster suggested that I visit my parents in California. I went to San Francisco and stayed with my mother. He sent me—O, a lot of telegrams—but I always tore them to bits, just as he told me to do. Then Mr. Amster came out to California the latter part of the month and we both registered at the Alexandra. We had separate rooms."

Nevertheless, the witness confessed, the manager of the hotel "put us out."

Sends Her to School.

"When did you next see Amster?" the witness was asked.

"In New York, three weeks later, when I came east at his request and registered at the McAlpin hotel. He called at the hotel almost daily during the ten days I was there."

From the McAlpin, Miss Edwards went to a finishing school. She related with considerable satisfaction the details of her education at the American Fine Arts academy. Mr. Amster, she said, paid her tuition and in return she permitted him to call on her frequently at "Sophie Miller's apartment, where I was living at the time."

All during this period Amster was a liberal spender, she declared, and she never had to ask him for a penny.

He gave her "$25 a week for rent, $60 a month for schooling, and bought all her clothes." Her education completed for the moment, Miss Edwards got a chance with a show.

"Mary's Ankle" Her Vehicle.

She went on the road with "Mary's Ankle" and for three months did not see Amster. He made another trip to California, however, "in January, 1919, and she met him in Los Angeles and returned to New York with him, she testified.

Miss Edwards told of numerous meetings in New York, California, and Galveston, Tex., with Amster. Part of the time she spent in Ruth St. Denis' school of dancing, she said, and then in 1921 Amster arranged for her to go to Europe. Amster followed in May of that year, and "we occupied a hotel suite together," said the witness.

"Did you talk with Mr. Amster about your having a child?" asked the lawyer.

"Yes. I wanted one, and I remember he said they always had wanted a little girl in his family and were sorry not to have one. We were so much in love and he had such a fine brain that we agreed to have a child. If it was a boy it was to be mine and if a girl his."

Breaks the News to Father.

It was not until April, 1923, however, that Miss Edwards could tell Amster she was to have a baby, the witness testified. "He gave me money to buy a wedding ring," she said, "and told me to have engraved on the ring 'From Lee to Olga, with love as endless as this ring.'"

The baby, a boy, was born Dec. 19, 1923, at the Affiliated college in San Francisco, the witness said.

It was after the $100,000 offer for the baby that Olga and Amster had their first disagreement, the girl testified.

"When the baby was nine months old," she said, "Mr. Amster told me he was in love with a beautiful blonde girl in New York. We had another controversy in New York in 1926. That was when he told me our relations were strained."

Demand Money? Never.

"I never demanded money at any time during the nine years I knew him," she testified. "I never threatened to expose him. Why, he gave me $10,000 to make the trip to Europe."

Miss Edwards told then of a $100,000 trust fund for her and her baby, which she had named Lee at the suggestion of Mr. Amster." The trust fund was to yield $500 a month. Amster later suggested raising her income to $1,000 a month so she and the boy could "live better," the girl testified, but she refused because she "wanted to live up to the agreement."

FROM TIPUANI, BOLIVIA

The writer of this letter was working as an automobile mechanic in 1926 in Evanston when the Bolivia Gold Exploration company, with mines in the Andes, persuaded him to try his fortune in South America. His former employer, Mr. Heideman, says he's still in Bolivia and writes "that the mining activities are located at Tipuani, about 60 miles from the nearest railway facilities. Machinery and mining equipment have to be transported by pack mules over difficult mountain trails. About ninety per cent of the employes are natives and to get along one has to learn the Spanish language."

The headquarters of the mining company are at La Paz, the capital of Bolivia. The city has a population of 55,000 and the republic about 1,770,000, of which only 12 per cent is white. The country's chief mineral products are tin, lead, copper, zinc and antimony, of which next to China it is the largest producer.

BOARD OF REVIEW COMPLETES WORK ON SIX TOWNSHIPS

The board of review yesterday announced final assessments of Cicero, Barrington, Lemont, Elk Grove, Hanover, and Leyden townships. The reviewers cut $822,089 from the board of assessors' figure of $78,444,535. The final figure is 133 per cent higher than that of the board of review for 1927, which was $33,315,853.

Comparative figures of the townships follow:

Township—	1927.	1928.
Cicero	$17,468,129	$47,475,591
Barrington	2,732,382	3,268,423
Lemont	1,491,533	1,896,035
Elk Grove	1,681,362	3,705,127
Hanover	1,954,305	2,348,347
Leyden	7,985,142	18,928,923
Totals	$33,315,853	$77,622,446

The assessment rolls were turned over to the county clerk.

YOUTH WHO SHOT DAD BY MISTAKE IS EXONERATED

Bruno Budrakas, 21 years old, 3256 South Morgan street, yesterday was exonerated by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of his father, John Budrakas, 60 years old. The elder Budrakas died on Monday at Holy Cross hospital of gunshot wounds inflicted by the son on April 6. Bruno, in the presence of his two younger brothers, Martin, 19 years old, and Benjamin, 16, wept as he related how he mistook his father for a prowler and fired.

BRITISH HOUSE GETS BILL ON U. S. LIQUOR RUNNING

Commons Votes to Permit It to Debate.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—The house of commons, by a vote of 215 to 142, today granted permission to introduce a bill which would punish rum running to the United States by British merchantmen.

Permission to enter the bill was asked by a Laborite, Isaac Foot. It aims to amend the merchant shipping act of 1894 by empowering the board of trade to suspend or cancel the certificates of masters, mates, and engineers of British ships engaged in the illicit transportation of liquor into the United States.

Lady Astor Favors Bill.

Lady Astor, American born and a champion of temperance, lent her support to the bill and went on record as one of its sponsors.

Mr. Foot, in introducing the bill, argued that the policy of prohibition has been in force for ten years in America and that "unfortunately in the attempt to defeat it" many British vessels have been concerned. He declared Great Britain desired to assist in breaking down the practice of smuggling, and to prevent misuse of the British flag.

Speaks Against Bill.

Following Foot's ten minute address, Frederick A. MacQuister, Conservative member, and also known as a lawyer sometimes serving liquor interests in court, spoke against the bill.

He was interrupted by Edwin Scrymgeour, Independent, and secretary of the Prohibition party, who demanded MacQuister stop talking on the bill.

Lady Astor, too, interrupted MacQuisten in the course of his talk. It is generally believed the bill will not pass in the house.

POLICEMAN FACES MURDER CHARGE AFTER SHOOTING

A coroner's jury yesterday ordered South Park Policeman Philip Toomey held for grand jury action. The action followed the fatal shooting on Monday night of Philip Rinnelli, 28 years old, 6227 West 25th street. Toomey testified that he fired four times upon Rinnelli when the latter refused to obey his command to hold up his hands and submit to arrest.

Toomey said that upon returning to his disabled automobile at 26th street and Wentworth avenue he found Rinnelli and two others, all strangers to him, nearby. Toomey was in civilian dress and off duty at the time. "Get away from that car," Toomey said Rinnelli told him.

"Two of the men ran," Toomey testified. "Rinnelli thrust his hand into his pocket as he backed away. I thought he was pulling a gun. He turned and ran. I fired two shots into the air and the next two at him."

Rinnelli's brother, Anthony, personally cross-examined Toomey.

"Why did you shoot when my brother was running away?" demanded Anthony.

"I thought he meant to shoot," replied Toomey.

Deputy Coroner Dennis Carroll turned Toomey over to Pekin Inn police. Assistant State's Attorney Sam K. Childress said that a murder warrant would be issued at once. Toomey will be suspendid, Lieut. John Grant of the South Park police said.

Why Easter Gifts are treasured

There is not the mad welter of Christmas shopping to confuse the mind at Easter. Gifts may be chosen carefully and leisurely. They are quite likely to be more appropriate.

Then, too, there is no hard-and-fast obligation to give a present at Easter—hence the element of delightful surprise often multiplies the joy of the gift. It is especially fitting to give sporting presents at this season when our whole world is opening its winter doors and getting out into the spring sunshine.

We have a wealth of gifts for outdoor men and women and invite you to come in and take all the time you want in your choosing.

W. G. KELLOGG, U. S. GRAIN CO-OP LEADER, QUITS

His Work Is Commended by Officials.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Official announcement of the resignation of William G. Kellogg as general manager of the Farmers' National Grain corporation and vice president of the Grain Stabilization corporation, both sponsored by the federal farm board, was issued here yesterday.

W. G. KELLOGG. (Associated Press Photo.)

Although the resignation, which has been accepted, had been in the hands of officials of both governmentally controlled organizations for several days, the announcement was not issued until yesterday.

It was also learned yesterday that the farm board's stabilization corporation had regained possession of warehouse receipts on grain which had been hypothecated in the name of the Continental Grain corporation by its president, H. A. Murphy.

Company in Bankruptcy.

The Minneapolis concern, which had been acting as broker for orders issued by Mr. Kellogg, had in its bins grain worth about $120,000, owned by the farm board subsidiary. When the company went into voluntary bankruptcy the use of the stabilization corporation's warehouse receipts as collateral was discovered.

"This has been quite satisfactorily cleaned up and we now own the wheat, which will move into merchandising channels in the regular course of our operations," declared George S. Milnor, president of the stabilization corporation. Mr. Milnor stated there was no connection between Mr. Kellogg's resignation and the Minneapolis matter.

Kellogg's resignation takes effect immediately, according to a joint statement from officials of the two corporations from which he is retiring. His successor has not yet been chosen.

Statement on Resignation.

"Mr. Kellogg has pledged his wholehearted cooperation to his successor and to the corporations," the statement said. "He regretted the necessity for tendering his resignation because of the pressure of other affairs, which will require his undivided attention. His resignation was accepted with regret by the corporations and Mr. Kellogg was assured of the appreciation of the board of his efforts in the organization and functioning of the Farmers' National Grain corporation.

"During the three months of his association with the latter corporation, its operations have shown a profit sufficient to enable it to prepare for the handling of the 1930 crop from its own profits."

Kellogg, who, with his brother, John, was for years employed by the Armour Grain company, was hired as general manager of the Farmers' National Grain corporation late last December.

During the drastic slump in wheat prices late in January, which demoralized other grain and farm products prices and was credited with lowering the stock market levels, the seven grain growers constituting the farm board's wheat advisory committee recommended formation of the Grain Stabilization corporation.

Kellogg was named president, retaining his managership of the Farmers' National Grain corporation as well. First purchases of wheat for stabilization purposes was ordered by Kellogg on Feb. 11, the farmers' cooperative buying both for itself and the stabilization organization.

Abandon Fixed Price.

In the farm board's efforts to maintain prices at fixed levels in the leading grain markets grain growers and merchants protested so strongly to the board, to Secretary of Agriculture A. M. Hyde, and to President Hoover that this fixed price buying was dropped after a meeting in Chicago on March 1.

On the same date Kellogg's executive duties in the stabilization corporation were taken over by Milnor, a resident of Alton, Ill., who was then vice president and manager of the stabilization organization.

Officials of farmers' grain cooperatives who are members of the Farmers' National Grain corporation have indicated in recent weeks their disapproval of Kellogg, and it was disclosed yesterday that this sentiment prevailed at the first annual meeting of the farmers' organization in Chicago on April 8. The newly elected president, Mr. Huff, would make no comment on this, however.

Expected by Farm Board.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The resignation of William G. Kellogg as general manager of the Farmers National Grain corporation in Chicago today came as no surprise at the offices of the federal farm board, where it has been rumored for several days that Kellogg would quit at an early date.

Chairman Alexander Legge said late this afternoon that, although he knew Kellogg's resignation was impending, he was unaware that it had been submitted today.

George Trotter, 22 years old, 9800 Avenue L, was killed Monday when crushed while operating an elevator in the plant of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube works, at the lake and East Ninety-fourth street.

REED FOR DISCIPLINE OF DEMOCRATS VOTING IN FAVOR OF TARIFF

Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri today expressed the hope that Democrats in congress who voted for the pending tariff bill would be "disciplined" by the voters when they run for reelection.

"I deplore the fact that a number of Democrats, for the sake of some little advantage they believe the bill gives to some industry located within their states, have turned their backs upon the ancient and fundamental principles of their party," he said in an interview.

"I hope these gentlemen will be disciplined when they come forward for reelection. They have simply sold the party birthright for a mess of pottage."

STATE BALKED IN DEMAND FOR CANAL RECORDS

Northup Warns of Steps to Enforce Subpœna.

First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup announced yesterday that he has been unable to get important records of the U. S. A. company, an electrical contracting concern which did millions of dollars' worth of contract work for the sanitary district and other municipal governments. Unless the records are produced within a short time in response to a subpoena duces tecum issued last week by Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Criminal court, Northup said he "hopes to take such action as will discourage people who flout the law."

The records are important to the renewed sanitary district investigation, it was reported at the prosecutor's office, although not necessarily vital to a prosecution of alleged contract juggling during the régime of Timothy J. Crowe as president of the district board.

Rumors reaching the state's attorney's office are that the records have been destroyed, but Northup said he doubts that officials of the company would destroy the books for fear of the government income tax law.

"Pursuant to an order of court entered by Judge Normoyle last week, the records of the U. S. A. company, which were known to be in existence several months ago, were sent for, but a very small part of the records were produced," said Prosecutor Northup yesterday. "The records received show by the balances brought forward that they are part of other records which have not been produced.

"A failure to produce these records will not be at all fatal to the government's case, but would clearly indicate a conspiracy on the part of officials and employés of the U. S. A. company to obstruct justice, and the state will take such action as will, it is hoped, discourage people who flout the law."

Under the income tax law, it was pointed out, corporations must keep records for there years back so that the government can have access to them for income tax purposes.

The records sought are reported to have been destroyed in 1928.

George L. Chamberlain, president of the company, who was indicted for evasion of the income tax law, and other officials of the U. S. A. company are reported to be in Florida. Important employés of the company are also reported to be evading subpoena servers for the prosecutor. As a result the prosecutor has been unable to find any one of authority to take before the grand jury to explain why the duces tecum subpoena has not been obeyed. The subpoena was issued after a court fight of more than one month.

Division Fire Marshal John J. Costello was seriously injured yesterday while fighting a $150,000 stockyards fire, which partly destroyed Swift & Co.'s large animal and bone fertilizer plant at 42d and Justine streets.

The fire broke out during the noon lunch hour and thousands of packing house employés watched the firemen battle the flames, which threatened to spread to adjacent buildings. When Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan arrived at the fire he sounded a 5-11 alarm, which brought the larger part of the south side apparatus to the fire.

Firemen operating a high power water tower failed to see Costello peering from a window on the third floor and a stream of water struck him on the head and knocked him across the floor for 25 feet.

Justice Genevieve Cline, of New York, arrayed in the black robe of the federal bench, sat in room 603 at the federal building yesterday, hearing customs cases. She applied her knowledge of such things as candle sticks, sausages, soap, steel, textiles, foodstuffs, and other imported wares.

It was the first experience in addressing a woman as "your honor" for Chicago attorneys representing large importing concerns. For seven years an appraiser of customs at Cleveland, Justice Cline appeared little perplexed by the questions arising over the classification of certain articles as luxuries or necessities, and over the valuations placed upon them by local appraisers.

Justice Cline manifested her zeal for dispatch when an attorney asked for another continuance in a case pertaining to flowers. "How long has this case been pending?" she inquired. Upon being told it had been upon the docket five years, she remarked: "We shall dispose of that case summarily."

Philip Stein, of New York, special assistant United States attorney general, is representing the government at the hearing. There are 500 cases to be tried.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care-feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

MRS. McCORMICK DISCOUNTS HELP FROM THOMPSON

Would Have Won Without His Aid, She Says.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—The forces of Mayor Thompson of Chicago were said today by Ruth Hanna McCormick to have "jumped on the McCormick band wagon" during her recent successful campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination in Illinois.

Mrs. McCormick said she had been widely criticized for making political alliance with the Thompson forces in her campaign, and added she had done no such thing. She talked freely and frankly about her campaign before a gathering of newspaper women. She said her slate led Thompson's by 176,000, enough to have elected her. That majority, she said, proved conclusively that alliance with Thompson had not been necessary to her cause.

Even Census Takers Against Her.

When she went into Illinois to campaign, she said, all the organized political voting machine of the state, with the exception of Gov. Emmerson's office, were lined up "in a solid wall" against her. Even the census takers, she said, were anti-McCormick.

"Even my own delegation in congress was 100 per cent for my quick defeat," she laughed, "but today I am becoming quite a belle among them."

Mrs. McCormick attributed her nomination largely to the women voters, and said she expected to be elected in the fall by a "good majority."

Favors Fund Inquiry.

Representative McCormick said she favored senatorial investigations of campaign expenses. She said the more the expenditure feature of a political campaign is "brought out into the open" the better it is. Her own campaign, she said, set an example for "volunteer service."

The views were expressed in an informal address before the National Women's Press club.

Senator Nye [Rep., N. D.] was only yesterday named chairman of a senate committee of five to investigate campaign expenditures.

Complaints on money spent in campaigns in Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Nebraska are said to have been received. Nye said that a rigorous investigation of funds expended in this year's senatorial campaigns would be made and that the complaints already received would also be gone into.

U. of Illinois Expels 3 Men, 2 Co-ed Drinkers

Urbana, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—The council of administration at the University of Illinois this evening dismissed eight students, four of them co-eds, from the institution. Three men and two women were dropped for drinking, one woman for forging another girl's name to a check, one woman for overcutting classes, and one man for conduct prejudicial to the best interests of the institution. The council did not make public the names of the students affected.

RESIGNS

CAPT. PATRICK GALLERY.

CAPT. GALLERY, COP 30 YEARS, QUITS SERVICE

Capt. Patrick J. Gallery, who became a member of the Chicago police force with Commissioner Russell on Nov. 21, 1900, tendered his resignation yesterday to his former companion in the ranks of patrolmen. Ill health was given as the reason for retirement after thrity years of service.

Capt. Gallery was born in Clare, Ireland, and is 63 years old. He was made a sergeant in June, 1906; a lieutenant in November, 1913, and was promoted to the rank of captain in September, 1919. He was in command at the Racine avenue station, which Lieut. James Devereaux will take over temporarily. He said he would visit relatives in Seattle and then "loaf" on the orders of his physician.

Commissioner Russell said yesterday that he had not yet decided whether a promotion will be made to fill Gallery's position. Michael J. Hughes, former commissioner of police, has received permission from the civil service commission to withdraw his resignation. This action is said to place him at the head of the eligible list for the position.

JACKSON DERING LICENSED TO WED EVANSTON GIRL

Chicago friends of Jackson Kemper Dering, head of the Dering Coal company, 332 South Michigan avenue, heard last night that he had taken out a marriage license yesterday in Philadelphia. His bride is shown in the marriage license bureau records to be Miss Mildred Lucas of Evanston, 21 years old, daughter of the late A. Stanley Lucas, president of the Austin Lucas Paint company, who died last March.

The matrimonial venture is the second for Dering, who is 27 years old and chief heir to the estate of his father, Jackson K. Dering, who died in 1925. Dering's first wife was Miss Dorothy Roehm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Roehm of Indian Hill. Their fashionable wedding took place in June, 1926, at the Roehm residence in Winnetka.

Mrs. Dering last February sued for divorce, charging her husband threw a deck of cards at her in a bridge game, and that he struck her on two occasions. She won a decree and was allowed to resume her maiden name. She now lives at 235 Church road, Winnetka.

MOTHER FAINTS AS SON PLEADS TO REDUCE SUPPORT

Ignores Her as She Enters Courtroom.

For the third time in six years Mrs. Ida Edelstein, 70 years old, 2632 Winona avenue, almost totally blind and partially crippled, hobbled into court yesterday. She was supported by her daughter and a friend as she came to hear her son, Leo Edelstein, 6740 Merrill avenue, a shoe store manager, plead for a reduction of the $12 a week payment he has been ordered to make for her support.

She was helped past her son, his wife, Sylvia, and two daughters, Winifred, 8 years old, and Barbara, 5, to a seat far back in Judge I. L. Weaver's courtroom. There were no words of greeting, even when the mother stumbled near her son. Her dimmed eyes were protected by wads of cotton and dark glasses. Leo did not move to aid his mother.

Mother Faints at Charge.

When she had taken her seat, he rose to state that his salary had been cut to $50 a week from $65 a week. He complained that he had not bought a suit for two years and was in danger of losing employment through his ill appearance. He said that his wife is dying of a goitre ailment and is in need of an operation, adding that he owed $200 in doctor bills and is afflicted with several minor ailments which he is unable to have corrected.

Leo's employer, Harry Levinson, rose to corroborate the loss in salary. When Levinson charged that Mrs. Edelstein was bleeding her son for the support money the mother fainted. The son made no move toward her as she lay on a court bench.

"What do you mean?" the judge asked. "The law says every dorcent son should support his mother. I am going to conduct an investigation of my own in this case. I shall continue it indefinitely."

Court Calms Mother.

Leo stated that he is willing to take his mother into his home. As she was revived Mrs. Edelstein murmured, "No, no." The judge calmed her by stating that he would not compel her to go with her son.

Mrs. Edelstein first appeared in court in 1924 when her son was ordered to pay her $7.50 a week. The payment was later raised to $12. Last Jan. 24 she appeared again after her son has payed her his first visit in almost six years and left a court summons in a move to seek a reduction in her hand as he kissed her goodby. The request was denied.

THIS EASTER . . WITH A GIFT?

Certainly it's a pleasant and growing custom—this giving of gifts at Eastertide. And what a charming, not too elaborate gift, the new Waterman's Patrician makes! As blithe and debonair as Spring itself in its gay, jewel colors — Emerald, Turquoise, Jet, Nacre, Onyx. A pen among pens—not only for its acknowledged beauty, but for the snug way it fits into the hand, the way it glides so smoothly across the page, and all the other marks of perfect craftsmanship which have been associated with the name Waterman's for nearly half a century. In a decorative box, $10.00—mechanical pencil to match, $5.00.

Waterman's No. 7 at $7.00—offering the famous Waterman's range of seven readily identified points—each one scientifically adapted to basic handwriting characteristics. Ninety-seven per cent of all pen users will find among them the one point exactly suited to their hand. Try them all and find yours.

Waterman's No. 5 at $5.00—Five points for choice—ranging from fine to stub. An unusually good pen for a moderate price—built to meet Waterman's standard of fine craftsmanship—always dependable.

Good dealers everywhere carry wide stocks of Waterman's famous fountain pens, mechanical pencils, and Waterman's inks which make any fountain pen write better. Every Waterman's is guaranteed forever against defects. Service stations are maintained at the addresses below for the purpose of making good our guarantee and for servicing our pens as required.

HOOVER SPEECH ON WORLD COURT MEANS BATTLE

Bound to Fight It Out with Opponents.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—President Hoover has accepted the gage battle thrown down by world court opponents. He is determined to do what he can to stiffen the pro-court senators who are seeking re-election. He will try to check the trend against the court as evidenced in last week's Illinois primary.

This is the interpretation placed upon the President's rather unexpected declaration on the court issue in last night's address to the Daughters of the American Revolution. Coming so soon after the defeat of Senator Charles S. Deneen by Ruth Hanna McCormick, who made opposition to the world court her principal issue, the President's reiteration of his support of the world court is construed as meaning that he is ready to fight it out during the remaining primary campaigns and in the election.

Margin a Narrow One.

It is recognized that if a few additional pro-court senators meet defeat the Hoover proposal for acceptance of the modified reservation to the world court protocol is doomed.

Eighteen senators besides Senator Deneen who voted for the court in 1926 are up for renomination. Eighteen senators, including Senator Deneen, who voted for the court have been defeated since 1926 in primaries or elections. Of those heretofore retired at least four are seeking nominations this year.

The 18 senators whose primaries still are to be held include eight Republicans and ten Democrats. The Republicans are Senators Arthur Capper [Kas.], James Couzens [Mich.], Guy D. Goff [W. Va.], Henry W. Keyes [N. H.], W. H. McMaster [S. D.], C. L. McNary [Ore.], J. H. Metcalf [R. I.], and George W. Norris [Neb.]. The Democrats are Senators S. G. Bratton [N. M.], Carter Glass [Va.], W. J. Harris [Ga.], Pat Harrison [Miss.], J. Thomas Heflin [Ala.], J. E. Ransdell [La.], J. T. Robinson [Ark.], Morris Sheppard [Tex.], F. M. Simmons [N. C.], and Thomas J. Walsh [Mont.]. A number of these senators are facing primary contests.

Butler Seeks Comeback.

The pro-court former senators who are planning comebacks include William M. Butler [Rep., Mass.], Peter Gerry [Dem., R. I.], M. M. Neely [Dem., W. Va.], and T. F. Bayard [Dem., Del.]. The world court issue was credited with being an important factor in the defeat of Mr. Butler, the former Coolidge campaign manager.

There have been reports that some of the senators who voted for the court in 1926 will refuse to accept the modified reservation. The President's declaration apparently is notice to these senators that they must approve the Root formula if they wish to be considered in complete harmony with the administration. It was noted that the President did not refer specifically to the Root formula in his address last night. He is, however, on record for it in his annual message to congress and its acceptance appears the only way open to American adherence to the court.

Campaign Probers Meet Today.

The senatorial campaign fund investigating committee will decide tomorrow on its immediate program, which is expected to include an inquiry into expenditures in the Illinois primary and those in prospect in Pennsylvania.

Senator Gerald P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], the chairman, said today that it is likely that the committee will go to Chicago in the near future to look into various complaints from Illinois. Both Senator Deneen and Mrs. McCormick are ready to represent statements of their expenditures. If hearings are held in Chicago the witnesses presumably would be party leaders who had a hand in the actual expenditure of money.

PARALYZED JAMAICA GINGER VICTIMS WADE IN OIL SLUSH FOR CURE

Wichita, Kas., April 15.—(AP)—While victims of "Jake paralysis," believed caused by drinking Jamaica ginger, hobbled painfully today to oil refineries here and at El Dorado to seek relief by wading in oil slush, Sedgwick county was turning over part of its poor farm facilities to penniless sufferers.

The malady has claimed hundreds of victims.

The "slush pond cure" was tried at the Golden Rule refinery here. Oil men said lime, sulphur compounds, and other ingredients were in the ponds, but were skeptical of their curative powers.

HUNT RELATIVES OF CHICAGOAN IN PARIS HOSPITAL

Chicago friends last night were trying to locate relatives of George F. Samuel, 65 years old, reported unconscious in the American hospital in Paris following a stroke of apoplexy. Word of Mr. Samuel's illness was contained in a cablegram from the Paris hospital to the Hyde Park hotel, where Mr. Samuel lived. He is said to be an employé of the city engineering department. Officials of the Chicago Athletic association, where Mr. Samuel has been a member for thirty years, were trying to find his relatives to notify them of his illness. Mr. Samuel sailed a month ago upon the George Washington for his annual vacation trip to Paris.

ALBERT FIGURES ON STICKING TO HIS COUNCIL JOB

Discusses Quitting G.O.P. County Ticket.

BY PARKE BROWN.

After one of the hottest personal contests in last week's primaries, Ald. Arthur F. Albert may voluntarily resign his Republican nomination for membership on the county board.

The alderman refused to be interviewed on the subject yesterday, but it was learned that he had been discussing the situation in which he finds himself as the result of his winning a commissionership nomination while being defeated in his race for the presidency of the board. It was said the alderman felt he might have been justified in resigning from the city council if he had won the presidency nomination, but in the present situation he may consider it is his duty to continue his aldermanic work.

Why Alderman Hesitates.

If Albert relinquishes his place on the ticket the vacancy would be filled by the county central committee, which is controlled by Chairman Snow and his associates, an angle of the outlook that has caused the alderman to hesitate, according to some of his friends.

"Albert is still a member of the city council," said one of those friends, "and right now there is a fight on there for increased appropriations against which he is battling. He has charged that the department of gas and electricity is letting the street lighting service break down, so it can get more money, and that other departments are using the same tactics.

"If he were to resign from the council his constituents in the 43d ward might be justified in complaining that he had deserted them.

"In other words, Albert feels that his prior obligation is the one that he owes to his ward which elected him for two years and he recognizes that if he fulfills that obligation, as he has in the past, the city hall forces will slaughter him in the November election.

"There is also the consideration that the majority of the county board ticket consists of candidates supported by the city hall forces against which Albert has fought for years."

Banker Refuses Place.

Chairman Snow has announced that John W. O'Leary, president of the National Bank of the Republic, who was elected treasurer of the county committee on Monday, had declined the position.

"I have been in touch with Mr. O'Leary in New York," said the chairman, "and he told me that while he appreciates the honor, he regrets that heavy pressure of responsibilities makes him feel unable to accept the additional burden. At a later date another outstanding business man will be chosen by the committee."

Members of the executive committee of the Republican state central committee met in conference with Gov. Emmerson at the Stevens yesterday and voted to recess next Friday's state convention at Springfield until June 19. There will be merely a skeleton attendance on Friday and no business will be transacted. The same is true of the Democratic convention for the same time and place and scheduled to recess until Democratic day at the state fair next August.

Although he failed to make any substantial showing in the party primary last week, Louis Warner of Chenoa has announced that he will try for the United States senatorship next fall as an independent Democrat running on a dry platform.

WARTIME AID PICKED BY HOOVER TO TAKE HUGHES' JOB AT HAGUE

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—President Hoover today selected Roland W. Boyden, one of his assistants in the wartime food administration, to be American member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

Boyden was chosen to succeed Charles Evans Hughes, who resigned upon being appointed chief justice of the United States. After serving with the food administration, his first government task, Boyden was appointed to the American delegation at the Paris peace conference.

Later he was unofficial American observer with the reparations commission, and now is serving as umpire of the mixed claims commission, to settle German-American claims rising out of the war, in Washington. He is 67 years old. His home is at Beverly, Mass.

BETTY COOK TO RENEW AIR HUNT FOR LOST FLYER

Undismayed by the result of a search by 3,000 Boy Scouts which yielded nothing yesterday, Miss Betty Cook of Evanston, friend of the missing artist-aviator, Ralph Fisher Skelton, last night was planning a renewal today of the hunt for Skelton. Aviators believe that Skelton was drowned last Thursday in a flight from Ann Arbor to Chicago over Lake Michigan.

The hopes of Miss Cook and Skelton's mother, Mrs. Grace Skelton, who had offered a $500 reward to spur the search, were buoyed last evening by a letter from a farmer living near Stevensville, Mich., who told of sighting a plane over Marquette Woods, a resort settlement near Benton Harbor, last Thursday about 6:30 p. m. Miss Cook planned to go aloft this morning with Clifford Condit, pilot of Pal-Waukee airport, for another survey of the Marquette Woods district.

Seeks to Annul Marriage of Daughter, Wed at 14

Henry Coy, 5667 Normal boulevard, yesterday filed a suit in the Circuit court to annul the marriage of his daughter, Helen, 16 years old, to David Cooper, a former boarder in the Coy home. The couple eloped to Valparaiso, Ind., on March 10, 1928. Cooper was 26 years old. The father alleges that his daughter was married at the age of 14 without his consent.

RUSSELL ORDERS POLICE TO CLOSE DANCE MARATHON

An order to close the dance marathon at the Merry Garden ballroom, Sheffield and Belmont avenues, was issued yesterday to Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue police by Commissioner Russell. The order was based on an opinion of the corporation counsel which held that the police have the power to prevent "such unlawful performance."

"We are of the opinion," said the letter of the corporation counsel, "that if those in charge of the marathon dance shall permit any woman to dance there for more than ten hours in any twenty-four hour period they will be guilty of violating the women's employment act. But further than that, we are of the opinion that such marathon dance comes within the statutory definition of a riot and is therefore unlawful and that those who may assemble to take part in the same will be guilty of an unlawful assembly."

Commissioner Russel said he had requested the opinion when the dance hall proprietors asked for a permit for the marathon dance. He characterized the exhibition as "cruel" and said that persons should not be allowed to abuse themselves.

ELMORE FAVORS LEGISLATIVE ACT FOR CANAL FUNDS

Points Way to Carry Out Supreme Court Order.

"We have all the money we need until 1931," Howard W. Elmore, president of the sanitary district, said yesterday in discussing the Supreme court decision in the lake levels controversy. The court on Monday upheld the recommendations of Charles Evans Hughes, special master in the lake levels case.

"Of the $27,000,000 authorized by the last legislature, $10,500,000 in bonds was sold last year and $15,500,000 is still on hand to be used when needed. The work of constructing the sewage disposal system (which the Supreme court ordered completed within nine years) will go right ahead. The program calls for an expenditure of $175,000,000.

"When the time comes for raising more money, I would recommend that we go again to the legislature and ask it to lift the referendum bars for this government work only. What is the use of spending money in a special election for this thing that must be done?

Hopes to Avoid Tax Boost.

"During the campaign statements were made by the backers of the group sponsored by the Deneen organization that the district was in the midst of a program 'which necessitates the expenditure of $384,000,000 during the next six years.' We can comply with the requirements of the federal government for about $208,000,000 less than this.

"I hope we can complete the work with little or no increase in taxes. The question of going to the legislature for more money or of changing the constitutional limitations on the amount that may be borrowed in bonds will not have to be met for a year yet.

"Nothing can be decided until the complexion of the new board of trustees is known in November."

Suits May Cost $100,000.

The question of the costs of the suits, which the sanitary district must pay, according to the court decision, has not been taken up by the trustees. This is expected to amount to about $100,000. The district may appeal on this point.

With the sewage disposal question settled, the amount of diversion for navigation purposes comes next into the picture.

This will have to be settled in congress, as well as the question of the appropriation of sufficient money to complete the waterway, according to the sanitary district officials. With congressional action on waterway diversion and government control of the building, the canal will become in time a government property, and all of Chicago's troubles over this matter will be ended, it is pointed out.

MILWAUKEE AT HEAD OF DIGEST'S LATEST LIST OF WET CITIES

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Additional figures in the Literary Digest's nation-wide prohibition poll were issued today. Milwaukee, Wis., with only 1,003 votes for enforcement and 3,581 for modification and 6,687 for repeal, was an outstanding instance. The day's figures follow:

FIRST REPORT.

City—	Enforc.	Modif.	Rep.	Total.
Pueblo, Col.	1,035	756	597	2,388
Newport, Ky.	342	1,005	1,464	2,811

Demand 15 Year Term for Youth Who Shot Rubio

MEXICO CITY, April 15.—(AP)—The federal prosecutor announced today that he will demand a sentence of 15 years imprisonment for Daniel Flores, who attempted to assassinate President Ortiz Rubio Feb. 5. The case will come before the Criminal court on May 15. At the request of Señora Ortiz Rubio, Flores will not be tried on the charge of wounding her. She, herself, has pardoned him.

There is NO PROHIBITION on the finest drink ever brewed!

WHAT a friendly, what a blessed drink is coffee! To turn the blue morning into brightening day, to enchant the dull evening with welcome grace, coffee has a magic all its own.

But — it must be good coffee: It must be coffee steamingly fragrant, richly aromatic, darkly smooth—mellow! — with a noble authority in taste and body.

It must be coffee good in the grand sense that it leaves nothing to be desired—in short, it must be Maxwell House Coffee!

You may fairly ask if you can depend upon Maxwell House Coffee to be invariably like that — and be fairly answered that it has been like that for more than a half century.

Since that day long ago when a Southern gentleman combed the earth for coffees with which to perfect a blend for his own table, Maxwell House has gone steadily on winning new friends and holding old ones.

In its rare and satisfying flavor, its rich and invigorating delight, you will find that which drew to Maxwell House Coffee the critical coffee-lovers of the world, which caused first a President and then a nation to say of it: "Good to the last drop!"

GOOD to the LAST DROP

MAXWELL HOUSE Coffee

Don't miss the Maxwell House radio program every Thursday evening, at 9:30, Eastern Standard Time. Broadcast from WJZ in N. Y. C. over the National Broadcasting coast-to-coast hook-up.

There is only one blend of Maxwell House Coffee. Its quality is always the same and there is always the same net weight of coffee as specified on the friendly blue tin, no matter where or from whom you buy it. If you are not fully satisfied, your grocer will unhesitatingly return your money.

The Exquisite Complexions all the world Adores

Hollywood—Broadway—European stars—use Lux Toilet Soap

RENÉE ADORÉE, beloved Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, in the bathroom created for her in Hollywood. She says: "Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin that beautiful smoothness I thought only French soap could give. It is certainly a lovely soap."

JOAN BENNETT, United Artists' star, says: "It's a joy!"

Nine out of Ten stars depend on it for Smooth Skin

"NO girl can win admiration swiftly and surely unless she has a lovely skin," says Millard Webb, famous Hollywood director, expressing the conclusion reached by 45 famous Hollywood directors after long experience in choosing girls likely to win the adoring admiration of millions.

"To the motion picture star beautiful skin is an absolute necessity," he goes on. "The glaring lights magnify the slightest defect, and only the girl with exquisite skin can hope to win success."

MAE MURRAY, fascinating star, uses Lux Toilet Soap.

How natural, then, that every girl in Hollywood, from the star down to the youngest "extra," should guard the beauty of her skin most jealously. And how significant that so many of them use Lux Toilet Soap!

To give their complexions just the gentle care that is required, they use it regularly, and have the softest, smoothest skin imaginable.

So luxurious, they say, so dainty! And it does give such generous lather, even in the hardest water.

9 out of 10 screen stars use it

In Hollywood, of the 521 important actresses, including all stars, 511 are devoted to Lux Toilet Soap. For their convenience it has been made the official soap in all the great film studios!

The lovely Broadway stars, too, depend on this fine soap to keep their complexions flawless. And the screen stars in the European capitals, too!

You will love this fragrant white soap—will find that it keeps your skin silken-smooth and soft, as it does the stars'. Order several cakes—today.

Luxury such as you have found only in fine French soaps at 50¢ and $1.00 the cake, now . . . . 10¢

ROUGHAGE IN DIET NEEDED IN REDUCING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Eliminates Danger

Are you one of those who are reducing by diet? If so, there is one important thing you should know—diets that do not include roughage cause constipation, often with serious consequences. Guard against it!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains the roughage needed to insure regular elimination. It is guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or your money will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily—in serious cases, with each meal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not fattening. But it does add valuable iron to the blood which helps prevent anemia (another dieting danger) and bring a glowing, healthy color to the complexion.

You can enjoy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk, honey, sprinkled over cereals and salads, in soups. It is appetizing in cooked food. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

You will find lasting protection in the new fitted, softer Kotex

Kotex deodorizes; Kotex is softer, more absorbent, and thus adds both daintiness and comfort to sanitary protection.

YOU want a feeling of security and safety in your sanitary protection. But you want more than that, and Kotex gives you more.

First of all, it deodorizes, keeps you dainty, fresh, immaculate at times when that is doubly important. It is fashioned to fit securely. Under the closest fitting gown it is inconspicuous—a fact that smart women are quick to appreciate.

Lasting softness

Kotex is so soft, so comfortable after hours of wear. Many pads may seem comfortable at first, but they soon become stiff and chafing. Kotex stays soft, because it is made of a most unusual substance, known as Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding. This is the very same absorbent used by 85% of our great hospitals today. It is not cotton, but a cellulose substance which, for sanitary purposes, performs the same function as the softest cotton—with five times the absorbency.

Kotex is disposable

And don't forget that Kotex is disposable. That alone has changed the hygienic habits of women all over the world. Once you try it, you, too, will change to this newer, smarter sanitary method. Kotex Company, Chicago, Ill.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, fleecy softness that lasts for hours.

2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.

3—Deodorizes . . . safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

Why it's wise to choose a CHEVROLET SIX!

Choose CHEVROLET for Smoothness . . .

An important thing to watch for in buying a low-priced car is SMOOTHNESS—and the only way to get satisfactory smoothness is to choose a car with a six-cylinder motor. Six cylinders save the whole car—the engine, the body and the chassis—from the destructive effects of vibration. And they make motoring far more comfortable and pleasant for both driver and passengers. In the new Chevrolet, you get every advantage of six-cylinder smoothness—for it is powered by a great 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine.

Choose CHEVROLET for Safety . . . . .

From the standpoint of safety, it is also wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Chevrolet's fully-enclosed weather-proof brakes assure quick positive stops, rain or shine. A full ball bearing steering mechanism makes it possible to handle the car quickly in emergencies. The safety-type gasoline tank is located in the rear. The new non-glare windshield makes driving safer and more pleasant. And the combination hardwood-and-steel construction of the Fisher bodies is the strongest design known to the body building industry.

Choose CHEVROLET for Comfort . . . .

Comfort is another outstanding feature of the new Chevrolet Six. The very fact that it is a Six means greater riding and driving comfort—because six cylinders prevent annoying vibration and drumming. Chevrolet also offers the greater riding ease and road balance of four semi-elliptic springs—set in the direction of car travel. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment on all models. Extra-wide seats and deep, restful cushions are further features that add much to Chevrolet comfort and luxury.

Choose CHEVROLET for Beauty . . . . .

When selecting a low-priced car, you should also pay particular attention to beauty—for the appearance of your car will determine very largely the pride you take in owning it. Chevrolet brings you the greater beauty of bodies by Fisher—styled by Fisher's famous artist-designers. Long, low and properly proportioned—finished in pleasing colors of genuine Duco—and complete with every feature of modern automotive coachwork—Chevrolet-Fisher bodies introduce a new measure of quality and beauty into the low-price field.

Choose CHEVROLET for Modern Design . .

Chevrolet gives you more than the benefits of a six-cylinder motor; its design is equally advanced throughout. Everywhere, you can see the benefits of this modern engineering—in the four-wheel brakes, the hardwood-and-steel bodies, the four long semi-elliptic springs, the positive pressure pump fuel system, the long rigidly-braced frame which supports the body throughout its entire length, and the four hydraulic shock absorbers.

Choose CHEVROLET for Re-Sale Value . .

Sooner or later, every car is exchanged for a new one. Consequently, re-sale value is an important item to consider when selecting a new car. And from this standpoint, it's especially wise to choose a Chevrolet. The big swing is to the Six. And when you buy a six-cylinder Chevrolet you are assured of a car that will be modern tomorrow as well as today. This is an important fact to remember, for obsolete design always lowers re-sale value.

Choose CHEVROLET for Economy . . . .

Another fine thing about owning the new Chevrolet is its remarkably low cost of operation and upkeep. For, with all its six-cylinder smoothness and power, it is just as economical as any car you can buy. It costs no more for oil. It costs no more for tires. It costs no more for service. And, in a recent officially-observed economy test of 40 cars, a Chevrolet Coach won first place—averaging over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline in a 200-mile run from sea level to an elevation of 6000 feet!

Choose CHEVROLET for Service . . . . .

The quality and economy of Chevrolet service are further reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Chevrolet's owner service policy calls for free replacement—including both parts and labor—of any material that may prove defective within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. Chevrolet's flat-rate charges—including both parts and labor—are the lowest in the industry on many service operations. Furthermore, Chevrolet service is available everywhere—for there are more than 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service dealers in America alone

Choose CHEVROLET for Low Cost . . . .

ROADSTER OR PHAETON
f. o. b. factory, Flint Michigan

Purely on the basis of low cost, it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Priced as low as $495 at the factory, the Chevrolet Six is one of the lowest-priced cars in the world. And this low first cost is emphasized over and over again as the months of ownership go by—in gasoline and oil economy, in inexpensive service, and in the low cost of replacement parts. Thus, from every standpoint, it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

THOMPSON IS NEXT.

Two years ago the Republican voters of Illinois firmly, not to say violently, consigned Len Small to the political junk heap. With him went the dubious political personage Lundin, who had first figured as the prime minister of Thompson and later had transferred his somewhat mythical resources to Small. Lundin, whatever he really represented, and it was a good deal less, we think, than the advertisements held out, had succeeded in associating himself with the two most obnoxious political figures in recent Illinois politics, and his automatic elimination from the scene was desirable if not important.

With the malodorous Small régime in the discard, Republican voters proceeded with their house cleaning. At the recent primaries they disposed of Senator Deneen, a political leader whose long career had begun with much promise and passed on to excellent public service in office and thereafter unfortunately declined. Respectability of character, ability and industry in public administration, skill in politics were assets gradually offset and defeated by selfish and shortsighted opportunism. Combinations with Small and Lundin, trading with Thompson, mixing in the factional complications which have destroyed party responsibility and permitted the scandalous misgovernment of the city to develop under the Thompson régime, Senator Deneen discredited his claims to responsible party leadership and, in fact, lost touch with the realities of the political situation. The indignation, disillusionment, and determination to correct outrageous conditions which the membership of the Republican party, as well as the citizenship generally, feel were an important factor in his defeat.

There remains William Hale Thompson. The fact that he is ostensible leader of the faction successful in the recent primaries, so far as party organization is concerned, places a heavy burden upon the party and the candidates running on the Republican ticket this fall. If they, or any of them, are elected it will be, we think, because of personal qualification or political strength, and not because of affiliation with Thompson, but in spite of it. The people of Chicago and of Cook county, fed up, shamed, and mulcted by the misgovernment of Thompson and his affiliates, propose to purge the public offices of them. The reputation, the prosperity, the progress of Chicago demand that Thompson and his accomplices in misgovernment be washed out of place and power. That purging is coming in the spring, but voters will realize that every candidate in the election of this fall who is affiliated with the Thompson political machine will, if elected, be an obstruction to the final and complete house cleaning of next spring.

GOV. KOHLER'S RECORD.

The campaign for the renomination of Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin is already under way. Regular Republicans are considering nominating a complete ticket to run with the governor against the La Follette machine, and it would be remarkable, indeed, if the esteem which the governor has earned in scarcely more than a year in office were not to be capitalized by his wing of the party.

Gov. Kohler's record is a remarkable one. Wisconsin has long prided itself upon its leadership among the states in governmental organization, but it was not until Gov. Kohler took office that a modern budgeting system was established. He likewise must be credited with a reorganization of the state's civil service and purchasing departments, each under a single director. He consolidated five separate bureaus into a department of agriculture and increased the efficiency of the highway commission by placing it on a full time basis.

It is remarkable that, with all its boasting of government for the people, the La Follette machine in its long years of control had not taken any one of these steps toward giving the people of Wisconsin a dollar's worth of service for a dollar's worth of taxes. Mr. Kohler saw the points at which the governmental machine was failing to function properly, for he is an experienced executive with a long record of successful business administration. The governor's success in bringing the legislature to support his reorganization measures no less than the measures themselves has attracted wide attention. Whether the people of Wisconsin are aware of it or not, Gov. Kohler already has become a figure of national importance in his party.

The La Follette wing of the party has long pretended that it alone is competent to write and administer social legislation. At this point, too, Gov. Kohler has pricked the bubble. Under his administration a new code governing delinquent, dependent and underprivileged children has been enacted, and it embodies the most advanced thought for the welfare of these unfortunates. A commission is at work on the educational problems of the state. "Yellow dog" labor contracts have been outlawed, group insurance for labor unions has been authorized, and the eight hour day on public works is to be enforced. These are but a few of the humanitarian measures which the so-called progressive wing of the party had failed to enact, but which have become law in the administration of a regular Republican. As the reorganization of the state government testifies to the governor's administrative capacity and tact in dealing with the legislature, so these social laws testify to the warmth of his sympathies.

SLUMS AND REBUILDING.

Slums are clotted places in the city's circulation system. Where the cycle of destruction and new growth in a great town ceases and organic movement stops slums are found. They settle down in dark precipitate over the forgotten regions and areas unorganized. They collect where the city's peristalsis fails.

From within as well as from without, great cities always must be building. In Europe progress has been made in replacements of wornout regions. In our country the American Construction council, led by E. M. Craig, plans to transform slum districts in all our cities. A cooperative project by groups of builders, engineers, contractors, architects, and material supply companies will be promoted with the hope of stimulating employment and construction and destroying slums by one strategical maneuver.

Other efforts have been made. Many have succeeded. The Field and Rosenwald projects in Chicago are now in being. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers' project and others in New York show what can be done. In Philadelphia small house projects, with houses offered at $4,000 to $6,000 on a long time basis, have been successful. With general city planning should be tied social planning and housing. The great town is organic. It is a delicately interrelated mechanism, and its housing problems cannot be left to chance and the commercial fates.

Slums are dwelling places harmful to health, morals, or to family life, says Dr. E. E. Wood, and the conditions that breed slums are four: faulty layout—too narrow streets or too large blocks inviting coi ts, alleys, and rear tenements; bad structural plans of the dwellings themselves; disrepair of houses; social conditions in the houses such as overcrowding or uncleanliness. From these conditions the slums arise.

Slum clearance and rebuilding are an urgent need in the great cities of America. Death and disease, vice, crime are fostered there. Social recalcitrance, miseries and mobs, gangs and unrest arise in these conditions that threaten public order. In England slum clearance has gone on in ordered fashion for fifty years or more. In America the needs for it have gone past further tolerance. The no man's land that lies in a great zone around the inner city of Chicago, between the commercial core that centers in the loop and the residential periphery, is pocked and blackened by slum districts. Through the industrial districts and across the foreign sections and the black belt of the near south side the slums are scattered thickly. The neighbors' children play upon the brothel steps. The boys' gang camps along the railroad tracks and steals parts to sell as junk. Ten and twelve persons may be found living in one room. Beds are occupied day and night in shifts. Slum clearance is necessary in Chicago.

To clear slums there must be legal power to act and a special group to do the work, says Lawrence Veiller, secretary of the National Housing association; there must be equitable compensation and a plan for rebuilding. Though in England governmental agencies have accomplished much in clearance work, in America this may be done by private means. Clearance by public agencies, combined with rebuilding by private enterprise, is proposed in several leading New York plans. To have the city acquire an entire block, raze all the buildings on it, and sell off strips on each outer side to a limited dividend company to build model tenements or houses on is proposed by I. N. Phelps Stokes, New York architect. The whole center space, according to this plan, would be reserved by the city for park purposes. The project would be self-paying in great part. The parks thus made would be cheaper than by any other method. This, says Mr. Veiller, is a favored plan for slum clearance and rebuilding.

Slum clearance and rebuilding by one means or another should be Chicago's answer to the crime problem and the social losses that arise from the local breakdown of our institutions. A decent living place is the first prerequisite to social order. A project to combine building revival and employment with the transformation of our slums to wholesome living places is a strategic move of first importance in our social and economic policy.

Editorial of the Day

ARMY AND NAVY PAY.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

By joint resolution congress recently created a committee to investigate the pay and allowances of commissioned and enlisted personnel in the army, navy, and marine corps. The matter is one that deserves the careful consideration of the joint committee and of congress.

Data already available indicate beyond a reasonable doubt that the military services have fared much worse in the matter of pay than the civilian services. The percentage increase in the army and navy since 1908 has been only 11 per cent. Increases in compensation in the nonmilitary services have been substantially larger in all cases.

Measured in terms of the depreciated dollar of the post-war period, officers and enlisted men in the army and navy are receiving appreciably less than they did twenty years ago. In some of the classifications the money increase has been slight. Army captains, for example, who received $3,836 in 1908, are paid $4,278 at the present time. Officers of lower and higher rank have fared little better; some of them worse.

Men who serve their country in an essential public function have a right to look forward to an income that will enable them to live comfortably and well; to raise children and educate them, and to lay by at least a modest saving.

The military services need capable men, and in order to attract them the differential between compensation in these services and in private employments cannot safely be continued at the present figure. In recent years these services have lost many good men because they could command better compensation outside.

In appointing an investigating committee congress admitted that the prevailing scale of remuneration in the military services was probably inadequate. It should make the proper adjustments as promptly as possible.

SENSATIONS OF STARVING.

THE effects of starvation for one week, as they registered with the party most concerned, is found in Kendall's "Narrative of the Texan Santa Fe Expedition of 1841" as republished by the Lakeside Press for Christmas, 1929. Mr. Kendall wrote:

"I have never yet seen a treatise upon starving to death. I can speak feelingly of nearly every stage except the last. For the first two days, strong and healthy, his sufferings are perhaps more acute than in the remaining stages. He feels an inordinate, unappeasable craving at the stomach night and day. The mind runs on beef, bread and other substantials, but the body retains its strength. On the third and fourth days this incessant craving gives place to a sinking and weakness of the stomach, accompanied by nausea. The unfortunate sufferer still desires food, but with the loss of strength he loses that eager craving which is felt in the earlier stages. Should there be a chance to obtain a morsel or two of food he swallows it with a wolfish avidity, but five minutes afterwards his sufferings are more intense than ever.

"On the fifth day his cheeks suddenly appear hollow and shrunken, his body attenuated, his color an ashy pale and his eyes wild, glassy, cannibalish. The sixth day brings with it increased suffering, although the pangs of hunger are lost. The head becomes giddy. The seventh day comes, bringing increased lassitude and further prostration of strength. The desire for food is still felt to a degree. The mind wanders."

In 1841 an expedition started from Austin, Tex., to go to Santa Fe, New Mexico. Several hundred strong, they set out in midsummer, expecting to reach Santa Fe in a few weeks after a journey of somewhere about five hundred miles. The expedition consisted of a wagon train escorted by horsemen. The distance proved to be more than one thousand miles and the time lengthened to months. Many of the men died from starvation or from eating poisonous foods, and many were killed by Indians.

The sensations and physiological effects recorded by Kendall were doubtless as he experienced them, but he was riding hard, hunting and working hard, getting but little water and that of poor quality, and living in a dry country. The effects he wrote of were partly those of starvation but they were also partly due to hard labor, exposure to cold and weather, and lack of water. They are not entirely those of a man who is resting quietly in a comfortable room, drinking plenty of water, but going without food. In other words, they are not entirely the effects of starvation.

A man can go without food for several weeks. At the end of the classical forty days he is still well within the limits of his endurance. In fact, it is not until somewhere near the fortieth day that he begins to draw seriously on tissues which cannot be impaired without danger to life.

MAY RESULT FROM FRIGHT.

Mrs. C. S. writes: I have a baby three months old, and ever since I came back from the hospital I bathe her every day. No sooner than I put her in the bath than she begins to cry so hard that she cannot get her breath.

REPLY.

Your baby has had a bad fright at some time in connection with her bath. You can train her away from this. Make her bath as comfortable and happy as possible. Be gentle with her.

REMEDY FOR COLD FEET.

E. B. writes. A simple, old-fashioned remedy for cold feet is to wash the feet in a weak tea made of cayenne pepper. If the tea happens to be a little strong and causes the feet to burn, rub on a little cold cream or vaseline.

CONTRACTS AND LUXURIES, ETC.

Chicago, April 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it possible to enforce a verbal contract? 2. Is a verbal contract legal? 3. Is an agreement a contract? 4. Can an individual's salary be garnisheed to pay for a luxury? 5. Is an automobile a luxury when used for pleasure only?

I have a home valued at $15,000 with a $6,000 first mortgage on it. 6. Am I the exclusive owner of the house? 7. If so, why do I not have the title. 8. Why do I not receive the guarantee policy until the mortgage is paid?

J. F. W.

1. Verbal contracts are sufficient with respect to most subject matter. 2. In general, yes, but under the statute of frauds contracts relating to real estate and certain other subjects must be in writing. 3. For most purposes the two terms are synonymous. 4. Yes. 5. Yes.

6. For some purposes it would seem proper to qualify such a statement by adding the words, "subject to mortgage." With respect to all of your questions, it is difficult for us to give an answer of any value without knowing the context to which you intend to apply the answer.

7. You have not stated that you do not have the title nor the basis for your assumption that you do not have it. It is not even clear what you mean by the title. If your question arises merely from the facts that you do not have the abstract, the answer is that there is nothing unusual about this and it does not mean that you do not have the title.

8. Ordinarily the mortgage creditor insists on having evidence of title so as to be in a position to foreclose if there is a default on the mortgage. If you would be willing to pay for a so-called "mortgage policy" he would, doubtless, be willing to deliver to you the "owner's policy." We assume that you are not merely buying on contract, but have received a deed.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

POWER OF ADMINISTRATOR.

Chicago, April 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Has the administrator of a will the authority to rent or sell property of an estate without having the approval of each of the heirs, and 2, must the consent of all heirs be obtained in order to convey clear title to a purchaser? H. W. B.

Ordinarily the administrator has no power over real estate. 2. Yes, unless it is a case of statutory proceeding to sell real estate to pay debts.

WHO WON THE WAR?

A new book we've just bought gives us a most uneasy feeling. We know without the one hundred per cents saying a word (try and keep 'em quiet) that we Americans are the most daring, most enterprising, most up to date, and the greatest go-getters in the civilized world. However, as we read through our new book we found out as regards airplane travel Europe's got it all over us. Our book describes all the air routes of Europe, every commercial flying concern, where it goes to, time tables, fares, and the whole works. Including the fact that you hold down the weight of your toothbrush, nighties, clean shirts, and socks to 15 kilos. And when you look at the airways of Germany well may you ask, "Who won the war?" For Germany is so plastered with aeroplane lines that the air map of the country looks like a cobweb. The fares are about the same as first class railroad and steamer travel would be, but time is annihilated. The air tourists can go everywhere, small towns and big towns, and not only as far as Moscow, Bucharest, Corfu, Tripoli, Athens, and Constantinople, but there is a line that flies airships from London to Alexandria, Bagdad, Gwadar to Karachi, away out on India's golden strand. Anyhow, as far as traveling goes, a new day has dawned in Europe while we know lots of places in this land of Progress where the town rises up and goes down to the dee-po every evening to see the train come in.

Manager in a Department Store.

A patronizing smirk upon his face,
he walks in elegance all down the aisles, pleased to see that every single place is guarded with its clerk. And then his smiles fly around the section like wild birds looking about for some good place to land.
Now he issues from his lips fine words and waits for humility on every hand.
And as he passes on his lone parade
he turns as if a proud and royal train were quite behind him, and a bow is made, and feeling well he hums a soft refrain.

Only one bramble ever cut his hide:
stooping to love a woman hurt his pride.

Buyer in a Department Store.

The clerks in her department must not lean against the fixtures. They must dust the shelves before the hour of nine and not be seen after that hour talking among themselves.
She is more queenly than the noonday sun, her hair like taffy, eyes ice-green and proud.
Her speech would cut—if she could think of one!
Her voice is clear and low and never loud.
Yet sometimes there is that within her eyes that is more tragic than her shattered faith, and sure I am that sometimes silent cries beat on her soul, and footsteps of a wraith.

She walks across the room with steady pace,
a borrowed dignity upon her face.

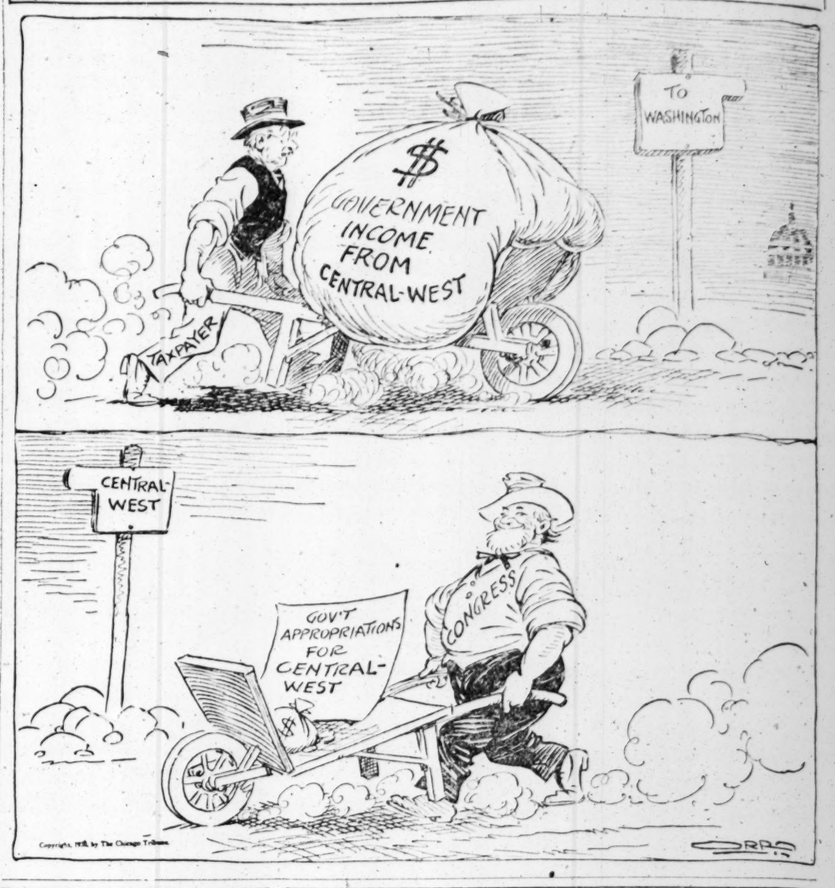
THE HEAVY TRAFFIC SEEMS TO BE ALL ONE WAY



FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 16, 1865.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C.—Official notice of the death of President Abraham Lincoln was given by the heads of the departments this morning to Andrew Johnson, Vice President. Mr. Johnson soon afterward appeared before the Hon. Salmon P. Chase, chief justice of the United States, and took the oath of office as President. At 12 o'clock President Johnson met the cabinet and arrangements for the funeral of President Lincoln were submitted. William Hunter, Esq., was appointed acting secretary of state during the disability of Mr. Seward, and his son, Frederick Seward, assistant secretary. The President announced that he desired to retain the present members of the cabinet.

[Signed] E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The body of President Lincoln, who died from an assassin's bullet at 7:22 o'clock this morning, was removed from the Peterson residence opposite Ford's theater to the executive mansion in a hearse and wrapped in the American flag. It was escorted by a small squad of cavalry and by Gen. Augur and other military officials on foot. A dense crowd accompanied the remains to the White House, where a military guard excluded the people, allowing none but persons of the household and personal friends of the deceased to enter. Gen. Grant arrived here at 2 o'clock in a special train from Philadelphia. His presence tends somewhat to allay the excitement. The last lines penned by Mr. Lincoln were written on a card about 8:15 p. m., while seated in his carriage in front of the White House just before he started for the theater. They were addressed to the Hon. George Ashmun and were as follows: "Allow Mr. Sherman and friends to come to me at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

"A. LINCOLN."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The impression which prevailed last night that the murderer of President Lincoln is none other than the actor John Wilkes Booth has been reduced to a certainty. Booth and another man who gave his name as Smith are reported to have passed over the Eastern Branch bridge a little before half past 11 o'clock last night. The papers found in the trunk of Booth are in the custody of the attorney general.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 16, 1900.

CHICAGO. — Duke D'Arcos, the Spanish minister at Washington, has been invited to be among those who are to hail Admiral Dewey as the hero of Manila bay on May 1, and it has leaked out that the duke is indignant. To be asked to add to the plaudits of the man who humiliated his country he thinks is too much and he has written a curt letter declining the invitation, which is expected to reach the Chicago committee today.

LONDON.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "An unconfirmed report is in circulation that Gen. Brabant has inflicted a crushing defeat on the Boers at Wepener."

NEW YORK.—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst has aligned himself with Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis. In his Easter sermon he said the Presbyterian Westminster confession of faith had better be given a dignified place in the theological museum.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 16, 1920.

CHICAGO.—All the public schools of Chicago will be closed today, and, unless plans are changed, will remain closed through next week. This is the result of the 325 school engineers' strike for higher pay which went into effect yesterday.

CHICAGO.—The "overall strike," which originated in the south and has for its object the forcing of clothing dealers to reduce their prices, has spread to the north and is now a rage in "our select circles."

CHICAGO.—Miss Sophia Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Morris, 1451 North Dearborn parkway, and William Kent Jr. of Kentfield, Cal., will be married today at the residence of the bride's uncle, Senator W. H. Austin, 1022 Lake street, Oak Park.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscript can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

A QUESTION OF POLICY.

Chicago, April 11.—Your columns are full of anti-prohibition propaganda, comprising reports to the senate committee, Linotype, cartoons, editorials, etc., etc., all pointing, without a doubt, to the thought that you not only are wet through and through but that you are trying to make all the wet conversions you possibly can. And I say you are 100 per cent right.

Now, what I want to know is this: With Mrs. McCormick, an avowed dry, and ex-Senator Lewis, an avowed wet, who are you going to support and whom do you want elected?

Do you want your readers to vote for wet congressmen and wet senators to modify or repeal the eighteenth amendment through supporting ex-Senator Lewis, or do you want them to support and elect dry Mrs. McCormick?

ALBERT LIEBER.

FISH OR CUT BAIT.

Chicago, April 14.—THE TRIBUNE must fish or cut bait. For a year it has been preaching to Republicans, like myself, that our party would go the way of the Federalists if it refused to give its members a chance to express themselves on the prohibition issue.

The world court was a sham issue in the recent senatorial campaign, raised solely to serve as a smoke screen to hide the dodging by both of our senatorial candidates of the one vital issue that now confronts the country.

I am sick and tired of these so-called representatives who carry water on one shoulder and gin on the other. In violation of a personal and family tradition, I intend to vote for the Democratic candidate for United States senator.

Is THE TRIBUNE going to eat its words, or will it go along with me and thousands of other Illinois Republicans?

D. V. STEGER.

HIS GUESS.

Chicago, April 14.—It will be rather interesting to observe the process by which THE TRIBUNE will justify its eventual indorsement of Ruth Hanna McCormick for United States senator as against James Hamilton Lewis. Your paper, while always opposing prohibition very bitterly in the abstract, somehow finds a way to indorse candidates who are the driest of the dry. In the presidential campaign you presented the unusual spectacle of a wet newspaper indorsing for President the pet candidate of the Anti-Saloon league, who was opposed by an able and honest man who had been a consistent foe of prohibition and all that it means.

You do not seem to realize that the only manner in which the prohibition law can be changed is by the election of men pledged to work for such a change, and that it does very little good to preach against the law in the abstract and then to advocate the election of a man pledged to uphold it.

It is my guess that, true to your policy, you will be supporting Ruth Hanna McCormick in the November election.

JOHN F. O'TOOLE.

A SHORT CUT.

Chicago, April 14.—The recent election gave the voters an opportunity to register an effective protest against the world court. The next election will furnish an equally efficient method of voicing our opinion of dry rule. The result will show that many a tired Republican strayed from the flock on a short cut back to normalcy. ROBERT THATT.

DEMOCRATIC BLUNDERS.

Chicago, April 14.—The Democrats simply can't stand prosperity. It just goes to their heads and makes them dizzy. They talk too much and too. It's in the blood.

Here comes James Hamilton Lewis with everything in his favor. Mr. Deneen snowed under by multitudes as a protest against Deneen's 5 and 10 vote; many others on account of the world court.

Illinois is wet. Lewis (wet) against McCormick (dry), both opposed to the world court. Why not let it go at that, Mr. Lewis? But Lewis is a Democrat. He couldn't let it go at that. He would have to say, "When the time comes, I will have much to say about prohibition and the tariff."

Why the tariff, Mr. Lewis? What objection have you to Republican votes in a Republican state? Reduce your protective tariff and you are invoking a real dry era. Beer at a nickel a trickle will be higher than the prevailing 25 cent quotation, inasmuch as no one will have the nickel.

Democrats will do that. It's just a part of a Democrat's makeup.

OPENING DEARBORN STREET.

Chicago, April 11.—The communication with the caption "Opening Dearborn Street" and signed "Daily Reader," contains a misstatement of facts which I should like to see corrected. He states "Dearborn street is only to be opened between Taylor and 14th streets although the street is at present blocked up to 16th street."

Dearborn street is a legally dedicated street 66 feet wide between 16th street and 14th street. Dearborn street is not open at present between 14th street and Polk street.

The plan which I submitted to the city council committee on railway terminals for the opening of streets through the south side terminal district provides for Dearborn street to be opened 120 feet wide between Taylor street and 14th street. Between Taylor street and Polk street Federal street and Plymouth court are used as extensions of Dearborn street. Between 14th street and 22d street Dearborn street is shown widened to 120 feet.

It will, therefore, be seen that under the plan submitted Dearborn street is shown improved as a major street from 22d street to Polk street.

Consulting Engineer,
Committee on Railway Terminals.

A-1C-1363.

Chicago, April 6.—Last night on entering the bedroom I found a pigeon perched complacently on the dressing table. He had flown in through the open window and apparently was quite at home in his new surroundings. Much to my surprise I was able to catch him easily. The band on the leg of the bird was marked as follows: A-1C-1363. I am wondering if any of your readers might know whether or not this is a carrier marking. The bird was not an ordinary Chicago pigeon, as was evidenced by the rather pronounced protuberances on the upper part of the bill and the unusual tameness of the little fellow. L. G. COLLINS.

SEEKS TO CHANGE JURY SYSTEM IN CRIMINAL COURT

Crime Board Says Plan Would Save Thousands.

The Chicago Crime commission, in a letter sent to Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Criminal court yesterday, recommended changes in the present system of summoning jurors to that court. The commission says the changes would not only benefit those summoned for jury duty but would save thousands of dollars for the taxpayers. The situation probably will be discussed at a judges' meeting today.

Under the present system, the commission asserts, the sheriff, his deputies, and other court attachés are given too much opportunity to play politics in excusing men summoned for service.

Present Jury System.

Under the present system 65 jurors are summoned every two weeks to each of the 13 Criminal courts. The cost is $5 for each man responding to the summons and $5 for every day served by each. The commission suggests that the venires for each court be reduced one-third and that men be excused only in open court by the judge after a valid reason has been given.

"Every year thousands of men are called to qualify for jury service," says the commission's letter, which is signed by Frank J. Loesch, president. "Of each thousand who respond and qualify hundreds are compelled to report for jury service every day during a considerable period, but never serve on a case. For this the community pays. The money paid is often not a complete recompense for the time they lose and there is an absolute economic loss.

"Many a citizen becomes annoyed at the prospect of jury service, not because he is unwilling to serve but because he fears that he will be haled into one courtroom after another from day to day, at a financial sacrifice.

"Chance for Politics."

"The system presents great opportunities for the exercise of political influence on the part of the sheriff or his deputy, the bailiff, and the judge in excusing jurors from service.

"The practice of some of the judges of delegating to bailiffs and other court attachés the power to excuse jurors without hearing should be discontinued. Jurors who ignore a summons should be cited."

DECISION NEARS ON SPEEDING UP NAVAL BUILDING

Halt Program During London Parley.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The question of whether pending new naval construction is to be speeded up as a result of the final conclusion of a three power agreement at the London naval conference is expected to be answered within the next few days.

With the exception of work on eight 10,000 ton cruisers authorized in 1924 and two submarines authorized in 1916, new naval construction has been virtually at a standstill since preliminary negotiations began last summer in advance of the five power conference. By direction of the President, work was suspended on three of the first five of the fifteen cruisers authorized in 1929 pending the outcome of the conference. Plans to modernize two battleships, by elevating their turret guns and adding protection to the decks, has been held in abeyance for the same reason.

Appropriation Bill Will Tell.

The first hint as to the President's building policy is expected when the house appropriations committee introduces the naval appropriation bill. The amount of the appropriations carried in the measure for cruiser construction will determine whether work on the last eighteen 8 inch gun vessels to be built under the three power agreement is to be pushed. It is assumed the President will advise the navy at once that work may go forward on cruisers he mentioned in his suspension order last August.

The budget submitted to congress last December carried funds for beginning of carrying on construction of all the cruisers in the fifteen cruiser bill, but the last five of these are to be sacrificed by the United States under the treaty. Only a small amount is carried in the budget for beginning the second five of the fifteen cruiser program.

Last Three Ships Delayed.

The United States has completed two of the first eight 10,000 ton cruisers authorized in 1927 and three more will be commissioned within the next few weeks. The last three, the Chicago, Augusta, and Louisville, are only about 75 per cent completed and they will not join the fleet until next year.

In 1929 the bill authorizing the construction of fifteen 8 inch gun 10,000 ton cruisers was approved. It provided for the laying down of five cruisers in 1929, five cruisers and an aircraft in 1930, and five additional cruisers in 1931. Completion of these vessels would have given the fleet twenty-three 8 inch gun cruisers.

VETO MENACES VETERANS' BILL, AUTHOR WARNS

Sees Peril in Costly Amendment.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Possible veto by President Hoover of a costly veterans' relief measure figured prominently today in the opening speeches of a twelve hour debate in the house upon the 100 million dollar Johnson bill to extend the presumptive date for veterans' compensation to Jan. 1, 1925.

Representative Royal C. Johnson [Rep., S. D.], author of the bill, said he felt certain of a veto in case the house adopts a strongly supported amendment to be offered by Representative John E. Rankin [Dem., Miss.] to make the presumptive date Jan. 1, 1930. Rankin replied with a charge that the administration in that case would be in the position of favoring wealthy business interests with a tax cut at the expense of needy disabled soldiers.

Under existing law in order to receive aid a world war veteran must prove that his ailment manifested itself prior to July 2, 1921, except in the cases of five diseases, including tuberculosis and mental disability, for which the limit is Jan. 1, 1925.

Limit Moved Forward.

The Johnson bill would make Jan. 1, 1925, the limit for all ailments and put the burden of proof on the government. Approximately 100,000 men with "border line" cases would thus be aided at an annual added expense of 100 million dollars.

The Rankin amendment, extending the presumptive date another five years, according to Rankin, would cost an additional $30,000,000. Johnson, however, quoted statistics estimating the cost of the amendment at around 400 million dollars.

"I shall oppose the Rankin amendment and will vote against the bill if it is inserted," Representative Johnson said. "I am not certain that the President will sign the Johnson bill, and I feel certain of a veto, and one that is justified, if the Rankin amendment is included. The country will not stand for a pension law at compensation rates."

Rankin Talks Back.

Rankin complained that his own bill had been sidetracked in the veterans' committee without a hearing and the Johnson bill substituted. The latter measure, he said, leaves out aid for 23,000 mental cases and 18,000 cases of tuberculosis.

CAPONE'S A BOIL ON FAIR CHICAGO, DIXIE IS TOLD

Good Will Party Answers Gibes in Shreveport.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Shreveport, La., April 15.—[Special.]—Deep bows of respect to the potentialities of Shreveport as a southern metropolis and the verbal expulsion of Al Capone from the ranks of Chicago's decent citizenry occupied the Association of Commerce good will delegates today. Shreveport is the third stop on the fourteen day tour. Tonight the party leaves for Beaumont, Tex.

Kidded and harassed in jest and in needle everywhere by intimations that Chicago's loop is infested by gunmen and thieves, the delegation's sentiment was crystallized today by Vice President Austin J. Lindstrom of the Foreman State National bank. Addressing the Shreveport chamber of commerce at noon, Mr. Lindstrom said:

"Al Capone is no more a part of Chicago than a boil is a part of the human body." The statement was vigorously cheered.

Others Join in Defense.

Additional defenses of Chicago were made by City Treasurer Charles S. Peterson and Lachlan Macleay, secretary of the Mississippi Valley association.

Doubling its population in ten years is but one of Shreveport's outstanding accomplishments, Mayor L. E. Thomas told the Chicagoans at the luncheon. "And in the present boom, Mayor Thomas believes, will receive added impetus when the third attack wing of the United States air service is installed on the 22,000-acre tract which Shreveport has just provided for it. This donation represents about $1,000,000, and the federal government plans to spend $7,000,000 more in establishing the post. A personnel of 2,200 officers and men will be quartered at the station.

Expect Waterway Benefits.

As traced by Marcus A. McCutchen, president of the American National bank, Shreveport owes much of its rise to Capt. Henry M. Shreve, the steamboat pioneer, who removed the snags from the Red river in the second quarter of the last century and made it navigable for river steamers. Slowed now to an infinitesimal amount, this once thriving river commerce promises to achieve new heights with the completion of the Mississippi river and tributary waterways.

This expectation was seconded by Mr. Macleay at the luncheon.

"Shreveport is about to become a part of the 9,000 mile nine foot channel the waterway will create," he said. "It is fitting that this benefit should come to your state, for Louisiana was first to join Chicago in its sanitary diversion battle."

"Not only will you be able to move your heavy freight by boat, but let me remind you," Mr. Peterson added, "that with the waterway completed you can ship your exhibit to the 1933 World's Fair from your very doors to the doors of your exposition building."

Tonight the good will party reciprocated the noon favor by entertaining the Shreveport business men at dinner on its special train. Col. Robert Isham Randolph presided.

Sacred Music by Boys' Choir Radio Feature

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Sacred music by Bach was sung by the Paulist choristers of New York to orchestral accompaniment from New York through W-G-N, 8 to 8:30 last night.

But rarely do we hear music sung with greater beauty. The occasional soprano solos were excellent and the entire chorus was very effective. The orchestra's work was enjoyed. It is interesting that this work was written 202 years ago.

The appearance of Mario Chamlee, tenor, on the New York orchestral concert through KYW, 7:30 to 8, was another enjoyable musical event. Chamlee is very popular with the radio audience. Operatic arias were a matter of course on his program. He also presented some Italian songs.

Arthur Cooke, baritone solist, appeared on the W-G-N symphony and dance orchestra program, 9:30 to 10. The orchestral part of the program was of a popular nature.

BRITONS AWARD SCIENCE MEDAL TO MICHELSON

Prof. Albert A. Michelson, famous University of Chicago scientist, has been awarded the Duddell medal of the London Physical society for 1930, he was notified yesterday by the American embassy in London. The medal is awarded annually to the scientist who makes a notable contribution to "the advancement of knowledge by the invention or design of scientific instruments."

One of the most notable inventions of Prof. Michelson, scientists say, is the interferometer, a device consisting of two mirrors and two glass plates of exact thickness which divide a beam of light into two rays, traveling at right angles to each other. This device proved that the velocity of light is equal in all directions; thus, it is said, furnishing a basis for Einstein's theory of relativity. Two other inventions of Dr. Michelson were a super-exact ruling machine and a range finder which was adopted by the United States navy in the world war.

Dr. Michelson, who is 77 years old, expects to leave in July for Pasadena, Cal., where he will resume his experiments on the velocity of light. He will retire from active service at the university in June.

Thos. Irvine, Lumberman, Is Dead in St. Paul at 88

St. Paul, Minn., April 15.—(AP)—Thomas Irvine, nationally known lumberman, died tonight at his home here. He was 88 years old and was the last surviving member of the original coterie of lumbermen associated with the late Frederick Weyerhaeuser Sr.

MORE STUDENTS FIRED AT TENNESSEE SCHOOL TO BREAK UP STRIKE

Harrogate, Tenn., April 15.—[Special.]—Eight more students and one more professor and his wife, of Lincoln university, were enjoined today when deputy sheriffs armed with writs issued by Chancellor J. K. Wallace served the papers obtained on representations of acting President J. H. S. Morison in his efforts to end the strike of students, entering its second week.

The students received notices from President Morison of their dismissal from the institution, accompanied by an order that they leave the campus.

The injunction today was served on Prof. and Mrs. Alfred R. W. Dejonge. It was accompanied by a dismissal notice from the acting president and an order that they vacate their home on the campus.

Dr. John R. Neal, attorney for the striking students and the dismissed professors, after brief conferences with his clients with references to the presence of armed deputy sheriffs about the campus, telegraphed Gen. Frank T. Hines, chief of the veterans bureau at Washington, D. C., a director of Lincoln Memorial university, protesting that a "reign of terror" exists at the institution and asked Gen. Hines to intercede to end it.

Dr. Neal later briefly addressed the student body on the campus, assuring them of his confidence in their ideals and their determination to better conditions at the university.

President Morison again issued an ultimatum to strikers that they will be expelled unless they return to classes at once. His original ultimatum was to be effective last Monday. Fewer than 50 students were attending classes today.

New French Auto Tariff Made a Law; Hits U.S.Cars

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 15.—The new French tariff on automobiles, replacing the ad valorem duty by a specific weight basis taxation and containing clauses, which observers say, are aimed at American automobile makers, became a law tonight when it was passed in the senate by a standing vote. Earlier in the day the chamber of deputies approved it by a vote of 475 to 2.

LIE DETECTING MACHINE TRIED ON 2 BURGLARS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Zigmundt Kielbasa, burglary, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

George Sturgeon, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; George F. Smith, confidence game, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Matthew Dwyer, embezzlement, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary, by Judge Harry B. Miller.

John Hanley, 36 years old, and James Miller, 27, confessed burglars, told Assistant State's Attorney Nat Ruvell yesterday that they are innocent of one robbery of which they are accused and that another man is involved. The prosecutor decidd to submit them to scientific tests to determine whether they are telling the truth, at least as far as the other man is concerned.

Leonard Keeler of the juvenile research bureau, inventor of a lie detecting machine, took his apparatus to the state's attorney's office and Hanley and Miller were subjected to the tests. Keeler refused to announce the results until he has had time to study his charts.

Miller and Hanley confessed that they committed burglaries which netted loot of approximately $200,000. They denied, however, that they had robbed the home of Campbell Diab, 51 East 18th street. They named a third man, but Prosecutor Ruvell was skeptical of their story.

BOMB CHARGES AGAINST LABOR AGENT DROPPED

The state's attorney's office announced yesterday that it had no evidence against James Belcastro, labor agent, who was indicted some months ago as a bomber, and all charges against him were dismissed by an order entered in Judge John P. McGoorty's Criminal court. Attorney Thomas D. Nash, representing Belcastro, had asked that his client either be granted a trial or that the state dismiss the charges.

The prosecutors will know on May 3 whether the convictions against three bombers, obtained some weeks ago, will stand, in view of the fact that the trial judge died without disposing of the new trial motion. Judge McGoorty will pass on the motions pending as a result of Judge Gemmill's death.

Margaret Coleman Funeral Rites to Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Coleman, a resident of Chicago for more than 65 years, will be held tomorrow at Algonquin, Ill. Mrs. Coleman died on Monday at Fort Wayne, Ind., where she has lived for the last two years. She was 90 years old. Mrs. Coleman was the widow of the late Henry V. Coleman, who served 25 years with the Chicago fire department after entering its employ in 1865. She is survived by four sons, 5 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren. A son, Leon B. Coleman, lives at 6148 Rhodes avenue.

JUDGE HAS LOOK AT 'PARTY GIRL'; BANISHES FILM

Judge William B. Lindsay went to the movies Monday night to judge for himself the moral tone of "Party Girl," a film which has been showing under an injunction forbidding censorship interference. Yesterday the judge dissolved the injunction, barring it from Chicago theaters, because he found children being freely admitted to the theater, contrary to the terms of the injunction.

"I have seen worse films from a moral standpoint," admitted the jurist in dissolving the injunction, "but minors were not admitted to them. If I had not seen children at the show last night I would not bar the film here today."

CARPENTER GETS $100 FINE.

Ivor Szrkerson, 54 years old, 4348 Ellis avenue, a carpenter, was fined $100 yesterday for tying to dismantle a news stand he had erected for John Stacher, hind newsboy of 4317 Drexel avenue, at 47th street and Drexel avenue. Szrkerson said Stacher would not pay him a $5 balance.

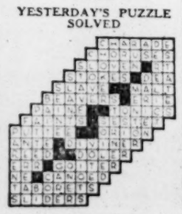
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



Says Sunshine Fills Life!

"OUT of the land of existence into the land of real living" says Mrs. Ethel Hickman of Prescott, Arizona. "Each morning I wake, vibrantly alive, eager to begin another day! But it was not always thus.

"Three years ago I dragged through the hours, head aching, depressed, discouraged, utterly exhausted, and the poorest of company when my husband returned from his work.

"Then one of my friends told me her secret. She had felt just as wretched as I did. She went to her doctor.

What Doctor Said

"'Throw away the pills' he told her. 'Take the simple natural internal lubricant—Nujol.' She told me it wasn't a medicine—that it was nonfattening—that it was used successfully by the most intelligent and prominent people. At last I was convinced after my druggist too recommended it.

"My experience since that happy day must be similar to that of hundreds of thousands of grateful Nujol users. My husband now takes it daily and I give it to both of my boys. How much more intelligent than dosing them with pills, physics, and purges!"

Thousands Have Proved This

This is just another one of the thousands of personal experiences that prove how Nujol can brighten a whole life and flood it with sunshine by clearing the poisons out of your system (we all have them) and giving you a chance to be well. Why don't you see what it will do for you?

Get crystal-clear Nujol at any drug store. Sold in sealed packages only—trademarked "Nujol." Insist on Nujol by name. It costs but a few cents. What an inexpensive treatment to keep you well and happy! Start this very night on the happy road to health!

SURVIVING BANKS GET WILLIAMSON COUNTY SUPPORT

Few Deposits Withdrawn Despite Failures.

Marion, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—Confidence in Williamson county banking where seven banks were closed within a week's time was virtually restored today with practically no withdrawals of deposits in any of the six remaining banks. It was not necessary for the First National bank of Marion to use $200,000 received by armored truck from St. Louis. The bank paid out $90,000 Monday, but gained almost $50,000 in deposits today.

Edward B. Clark, representative of the Franklin American Trust company of St. Louis, after an investigation of the Marion Trust and Savings bank accounts stated today.

"I am sure that this bank will not only be able to pay its depositors in full, but I believe it can be re-organized and re-opened for business within a week after the state bank examiners complete their work."

Owing to the closing of so many banks at one time the bank examiners will not be able to complete their work as rapidly as usual.

Two of the banks remaining open are state banks. The Johnston City State bank and the citizen's state at Creal Springs. The other four are the City National at Herrin and the Forest Nationals at Marion, Herrin and Carterville.

Cashier Misuses $143,000.

Edwardsville, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—George W. Meyer, president of the Bank of Edwardsville, announced today that the bank's cashier, Frank B. Sanders, 45, had misappropriated $143,000 of bank funds, using the money to finance several motion picture theaters and other private business ventures. Myers said no charges would be made against Sanders.

Sanders has reimbursed the bank for a part of the loss, Meyer said, and the directors have raised a fund to make up the balance, under Sanders' promise to raise the money to pay them back in full. He has been discharged as cashier.

The announcement was made, according to Meyer, to restore public confidence during a slight run on the bank this morning.

Fisher Bank Closes.

Fisher, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—State bank examiners today took possession of the Fisher State bank and a notice posted on the door signed by Oscar Nelson, state auditor, explaining that it had been closed by his order for examination and adjustment.

Nothing has been given out regarding the exact condition of the institution, whose deposits are approximately $100,000 but it is believed that the depositors will suffer no loss.

S. E. Albin of Bellflower is president and E. V. Vennum of Champaign cashier of the bank. Fisher is now without a bank, the First State bank having failed about two years ago. The Fisher State bank was held up last November by William S. Ragan of Chicago. Ragan is now serving a sentence in the Chester penitentiary.

FOUND DEAD FROM GAS.

Bazel Belliski, 52 years old, 2641 Armitage avenue, was found asphyxiated by gas in his home last night, where he lived alone. A coffee pot, boiling over, evidently had extinguished the blaze. He had been dead 2 days, police believe.

HUSBAND IS GRANTED DECREE IN COUNTY'S OLDEST DIVORCE SUIT

Le Roy Boylan, 1122 East 64th street, yesterday was granted a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Anna Boylan, by Superior Judge Sabath. The decree closed Cook county's oldest divorce case. Boylan, an official of the telephone company and former captain of the signal corps of the A. E. F., brought his suit in 1921 on a charge of desertion. His wife replied with a cross-bill for separate maintenance.

The judge gave his ruling after hearing testimony last week. He ordered Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, of the law firm of Socrates & Davis, to draw up a decree. Mrs. Boylan announced that she will appeal. At the hearing Mrs. Boylan first testified that her husband left her without a reason and later admitted that she had angered him by accusing him of relations with other women.

Mrs. Martha Hess, daughter of the Boylans, testified against her father. Under cross-examination she admitted that she had threatened to kill her father if he did not drop the suit or pay her $25,000. She fainted after she made the statement on the witness stand.

Follow These Simple Rules

1—Every week-day for 48 consecutive days, (not including Sundays) the Chicago Daily Tribune will print a "Game of Counties" picture. Each picture will represent a County in one of these five States: Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. You are invited to name the Counties.

2—The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000 in Cash Prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly named and neatest complete sets of pictures in accordance with these rules. See prize list at right.

NOTE:—You do not necessarily have to name each of the 48 pictures correctly to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank the highest.

3—This offer is open to everyone—men, women, boys and girls, except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.

4—Pictures are to be submitted only in complete sets. Do not send in each picture separately. Hold all pictures until you have the complete set of 48. Then send them to "Counties," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Ill. All entries must be in by midnight 15 days after Picture No. 48 has been printed.

5—Each entry must be sent by First Class Mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Post Office Dept. Contestants may submit as many sets of pictures as they wish, but no contestant will be entitled to more than one prize. Accuracy will count. Neatness will count.

6—You need not buy the Chicago Tribune. You may copy or trace the pictures and send them in. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its offices or at Public Libraries free of charge.

7—Judges will be appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be paid to each tying contestant.

RANKS CHAPLAIN IN BATTLE WITH ONE IN A SALOON

Coolidge's Former Pastor Gives Him Answer.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—A Lenten sermon against war reacted today to bring against the pastor who delivered it the charge that he had insulted his country, the churches of America, and the chaplains of the army and navy.

Speaking from the pulpit of a war chaplain with the chief of chaplains of the United States army seated in a pew just below him, the Rev. Peter Ainslie, pastor of the Christian temple at Baltimore, delivered the sermon here yesterday. He was quoted as saying that "there is no more justification for being a chaplain in the army or navy than there is for being a chaplain in a speakeasy."

The Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church, in which the sermon was delivered made public a letter today that he had written to the Baltimore pastor, in it he called attention to his own service in the world war as chaplain, and to the attendance at the meeting of Col. Julian E. Yates, chief of army chaplains, and many members of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Ainslie Refuses Statement.

Dr. Pierce, who was President Coolidge's pastor, styled the utterances as "insulting your country, insulting the churches of the United States, and insulting en masse the chaplains of the army and navy."

In Baltimore, Dr. Ainslie said he had not received the letter and probably would not care to make any statement.

"What I said about war in my sermon in Washington, I have said again and again, not only in my own pulpit but from other pulpits," he added. "I was not aware that the pastor of the First Congregational church was a chaplain; and, of course, would have said nothing of chaplains if I had known beforehand that he was one. However, I am against war and Christians taking any part in war."

Col. Yates said he agreed with Dr. Pierce that the sermon was "pretty trying medicine," and that after listening to it he had gone to his office and written a "spirited reply" which he did not send.

"I got my sentiments off my chest and upon more sober reflection did not deem it necessary to add my voice to that of Dr. Pierce other than orally," he explained.

Makes Sharp Denial.

In his letter to Dr. Ainslie, Dr. Pierce, after quoting the Baltimore pastor as saying that churches of the nations involved in the world war were unconcerned with questions of right and wrong but were concerned with winning the war, wrote: "That statement maligns the United States and our churches."

"You referred to chaplains praying that their soldiers might shoot straight and kill all the enemy possible. My testimony as the senior chaplain of the Second division, A. E. F., is that I never made and never heard such a prayer. Chaplains cared for the wounded and dying both of friend and foe.

Knows Chaplain's Duties.

"I know a great number of chaplains of the army, navy, national guard, and reserve corps. For some years I was privileged to serve as president of their national organization in succession to the late Bishop Charles H. Brent. I do not know of one who does not hate war, who does not hope for the outlafry of war, who does not work and pray for peace.

"It is this body of men which you publicly insulted by the statement that there was no more justification for being a chaplain in the army or navy than in being a chaplain in a speakeasy."

PAINTER'S WIFE SAYS ART CLUB IS HER PRISON

No Food, No Phone, No Fair, She Charges.

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lucy H. K. Lamar, artist and social registerite, today applied before Supreme Court Justice Alfred Frankenthaler for a restraining order against her husband, Julian Lamar, well known portrait painter, and officers and employés of the National Arts club.

Through her counsel, William J. Rapp, the court was advised that Mrs. Lamar is virtually a prisoner in the club, where she occupies apartment 62, formerly the studio of her husband.

"My client refuses to leave," Rapp told the court, "because the club, through the instrumentality of her husband, refuses to permit her to take the furniture, paintings and other belongings which her husband gave her some years ago.

No Food Served Her.

"The club refuses to serve her with food, her telephone has been cut off, and only through the aid of her secretary is she able to go out. He, the secretary, holds the fort while she goes out."

Lamar, the lawyer asserted, is now in Reno, Nev., enjoying a lucrative income painting portraits of well known divorcees. His last subject, Mr. Rapp said, was Elizabeth Cobb Chapman, daughter of Irvin Cobb, the writer, who was divorced recently from her husband.

The Lamars were married ten years ago. In July, 1928, the court was informed, the artist left his wife and she went to live at the Hotel St. Regis. He retained possession of the club apartment.

Wife Takes Possession.

Last January, the lawyer said, Lamar sublet the apartment to John Clarke, president of the Grand Central art galleries. Learning that Clarke was about to sail for Europe, Mrs. Lamar visited the club, and as Clarke was leaving she surreptitiously entered the apartment and took possession.

She has been there ever since. Justice Frankenthaler took the motion under advisement.

DUCHESS OF YORK AWAITING STORK, RUMOR IN LONDON

LONDON, April 15.—(AP)—The following official statement was issued from the duke of York's residence today:

"Her royal highness the duchess of York has canceled her forthcoming engagements and she is not undertaking any further functions during the summer."

No further elucidation of this announcement was forthcoming, but it is one such as is issued in ordinary course when an interesting event is expected in the royal family.

The duke and duchess of York have one child, Princess Elizabeth, born in April, 1926. Inasmuch as the prince of Wales is not married, Princess Elizabeth, as the child of the duke of York, is in line for the royal throne. If the duchess of York should have a son, he would be in direct line for the throne so long as the prince of Wales is unmarried.

Child Upsets Can of Fat on Stove; Village Burns Up

LAIBACH, Jugo-Slavia, April 15.—(AP)—The entire village of Kaluka, near Laibach, comprising 90 houses, was destroyed by fire today. The fire started when a child upset a can of fat on a kitchen stove. The child was killed.

VATICAN FREES FIRST PRISONER; ITALY NABS HIM

VATICAN CITY, April 15. — (AP) — Giuseppe de Paolis, the first and only prisoner of the newly constituted Vatican state, was released today at the expiration of his sentence for robbing a poor box in St. Peter's basilica, but was rearrested by Italian authorities.

Vatican gendarmes accompanied De Paolis to the gate of the Swiss guards. Immediately after crossing the "frontier" he encountered Italian cabarinieri, who were waiting to arrest him for previous offenses in Italian territory.

De Paolis attempted to run back to Vatican City but the gendarmes closed the gate and blocked his path.

LEARN RULES, THOMAS TELLS BOY PITCHERS

He'll Do Stuff for You Saturday.

This is the third of a series of six lessons on pitching for boys in Chicagoland written by Tommy Thomas of the White Sox for The Tribune. Tommy will give a personal demonstration of the lessons at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at Comiskey park. Boys interested in becoming pitchers are invited to attend, the only admission required being a FREE TICKET which will appear in The Tribune sports pages Saturday.

BY TOMMY THOMAS.

Knowledge of the rules is vital to successful participation in any sport. There are many reasons why every person participating in sport should know all there is to know about the rules, but the principle, I believe, is applicable to a baseball pitcher more than any other specific sports individual. The closest approach, perhaps, are the back field men in football, but I am confident that the ball carriers in football can skim by with a sketchy knowledge of many of the regulations, whereas the successful pitcher must know the rules in detail. Anyhow, a successful pitcher appears in from 30 to 45 games a season, and the busiest of back field men play only eight or nine games a season.

There are 21 sections in the rules which deal exclusively with the pitcher's work, all grouped under rules 30, 31, 32, 33, and 34, but in this lesson I shall dwell only upon the ones that I consider the most important.

Cites Pitcher's Stance.

Section 1 of rule 30 is one of the most important of all. It reads:

"Preliminary to pitching the pitcher shall take his position facing the batsman with both feet squarely on the ground and in front of the pitcher's plate or on top of the pitcher's plate, and in the act of delivering the ball to the bat he must keep one foot in contact with the pitcher's plate. He shall not raise either foot until in the act of delivering the ball to the bat, nor make more than one step in such delivery.

I've known pitchers to come up to the majors from class AA leagues who never had learned to comply rigorously with this rule, especially in the matter of taking only one step in delivering the ball.

This is one of the points I'm going to demonstrate especially in my practical lesson at Comiskey park Saturday morning, so I want you to have the rule clearly in mind when you come out to the park.

In this connection, bear in mind that the pitcher must not raise his foot and spin about for a throw to first base unless he takes one step directly toward first base.

Umpires Strict Here.

Section 2 of rule 33 is one that is rigorously enforced by efficient umpires. It reads:

"The umpire shall call a ball on the pitcher each time he delays the game by failing to deliver the ball to the batsman for a longer period than 20 seconds, excepting that at the commencement of each inning, or when a pitcher relieves another, the pitcher may occupy one minute in delivering not to exceed five balls to the catcher or an infielder, during which time play shall be suspended."

The foregoing rule, if enforced, prevents a pitcher from throwing to first when there's no chance to catch the runner. This is especially true when there might be reason for delaying the game in anticipation of a storm.

Rule 34, Sec. 1, is another you want to keep in mind. It says:

"Any motion made by the pitcher while in position to deliver the ball to the bat without delivering it, or to throw to first base when occupied by a base runner without completing the throw shall be called a balk, entitling the base runner, or runners, to advance one base."

A balk also may be called for no fewer than 11 other reasons, but here I'll mention only the following common causes:

Making any motion of the arm, shoulder, hip or body the pitcher makes in his method of delivery, without immediately delivering the ball to the bat.

Can't Take Hands Off.

After the pitcher has taken position, with both hands holding the ball in front of him, he can not take either hand off the ball except in the act of delivering the ball to the batsmen or in throwing to bases.

It is well for beginners to steer clear of the hidden ball trick, which occasionally is successfully executed in the big leagues. Unless the pitcher is very careful the man who is to be tricked off third by the third baseman who has hidden the ball, may be sent home on a balk.

The rule affecting this play, says:

"For making any motion to pitch while standing in his position without having the ball in his possession, or, regardless of whether he makes any motion to pitch or not, if the pitcher takes a legal position on the pitcher's plate without the ball in his possession, or if he takes a position off the pitcher's plate and feints to deliver the ball to the bat, a balk shall be called."

It might be that in an amateur or semi-pro game a pitcher could violate several of the rules repeatedly, but

POT POURRI.

WHEN Iowa, restored to conference standing after 1930 football schedules had been drawn, was looking about for a Big Ten opponent for this fall, it was Purdue which came to the rescue.

Now it would not be unusual for a champion to offer an early date such as was available to Iowa if that championship team were intact with a bunch of veterans who needed a "practice" game as preparation for something harder to follow. But Iowa never is anybody's setup, and Purdue has lost two of the greatest back field men and one of the greatest linemen in the school's gridiron history, in addition to other letter men.

Also consider, if you please, that before taking on Iowa the Boilermakers already had scheduled Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Chicago, Butler and Indiana, which is just about as much as most conference coaches would consider necessary. Moreover, Jimmy Phelan, dynamic orator and coach, has gone.

From all of which we surmise that Purdue, unbeaten in football and basketball, is going to take them just as they come, whether or not the men have graduated who made those two clean slates possible. Iowa, we think, should appreciate this spirit.

The Wake has been reading stories, especially one of Tom Heneage's in the Cherry Circle, about the new and larger golf ball, and how it is easier to hit on the fairways. Well, of course, that interests us, although we seldom are on the fairway, but what we really want to know is how this ball carries over water hazards like at Glen View or the ninth at Skokie. We'll regard all such communications confidential.

Basketball Rules.

Dear Wake: The hue and cry which arises each year concurrently with the meeting of the basketball rules committee causes one to wonder whether in their diligent efforts to improve the game the members of said committee have not overlooked the possibility that its chief ailment might be overabundance of rules. Attention has been centered on "stalling." In the writer's experience as a spectator, a well executed "stalling game" is far less disconcerting than the too frequent blowing of the referee's whistle for technical fouls.

MAYOR WALKER SEES TO IT THAT SEASON STARTS

Giants Assist in Ritual by Beating Braves.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Copyright: 1930: By The Chicago Tribune.]
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—The formal resumption of business at the Giants' ball yard was accomplished this afternoon with just enough ceremony to touch off the season without boring the patrons, a tactful adjustment when you consider how many aldermen, borough presidents, and commissioners of one thing and another there are in this town who could have been prevailed upon to march to the flagpole with their spats flashing in ragged unison and their walking sticks waving at the populace.

His honor, James J. Walker, the best dressed mayor the town has ever had, a compliment which always sets me to wondering just who was the best undressed mayor, lent the prestige of the current administration to the flag raising. The colors went up the short stump of a mast which stands atop the clubhouse in center field, to the strains of the anthem blown into the nagging wind of a chilly p. m. from the horns and woodwinds of an unidentified band attired in pale blue uniforms with scarlet linings in their capes.

His Honor Marches.

The athletes stood in the customary slumped, pigeon-toed attitudes of ballplayers standing at attention during the spring and autumn flag raising ceremonies, the music rose to the warlike crescendo of the closing bars, the flag stood out like a painted flag on the gray backdrop of the April sky, the hay-foot parade turned about, and back across the field to the grandstand and the dugouts came the procession, there to disband and let the proceedings proceed.

His nonor, the mayor, marched in the civilian group with Mr. John McGraw, who has marched all told as far as Col. Coxey himself, out to the flagpoles and back to the bench at spring openings, pennant hoistings, and world series rites in his nigh onto two-score years in the game. Also present were representatives of the stockholding interests of the two baseball firms, Mr. Charles A. Stoneham, preceded by his abdominal protuberance, which protrudes a bit further with each succeeding springtime, and Judge Emil Fuchs, proprietor of the Boston Braves.

There was a last flurry of suppressed hysteria as the mayor gave his personal endorsement to the impending sport and the cause of the Giants in a brief oration into the microphone and, finally, amid yelps from the crowd, the athletes began to play a game of ball. It was all familiar, but all new.

Show a Dramatic Success.

The show was a dramatic success, too, for it was not until the last half of the ninth inning that a boy came sliding across the plate on his spine with the run that won the contest for the Giants, 3 to 2, and that runner was young Eddie Marshall, the new second baseman. With two men out he had forced a runner, Bob O'Farrell, at second, and now he came tearing around to score from first on a long hit oy Leach which rolled to the left field wall.

A moment before the Marshall boy's own blow had gone to Harry Siebold, the Boston pitcher, and he whirled the ball to a wrinkled old man playing shortstop for the Braves, Rabbit Maranville. The Rabbit sprawled all over O'Farrell for a putout off second and lay there an extra moment grinding the ball into the meaty ribs of the Giants' young catcher before coming up badly soiled but cackling with senile glee. Watching Maranville complete the play on his slight blow to the pitcher, the Marshall boy might have reflected that baseball offers a long career, because it is common talk that the Rabbit was a boyhood friend of Kid Gleasgn's father, and the Kid, as everybody knows, played ball with Abner Doubleday.

The first run transpired in the first

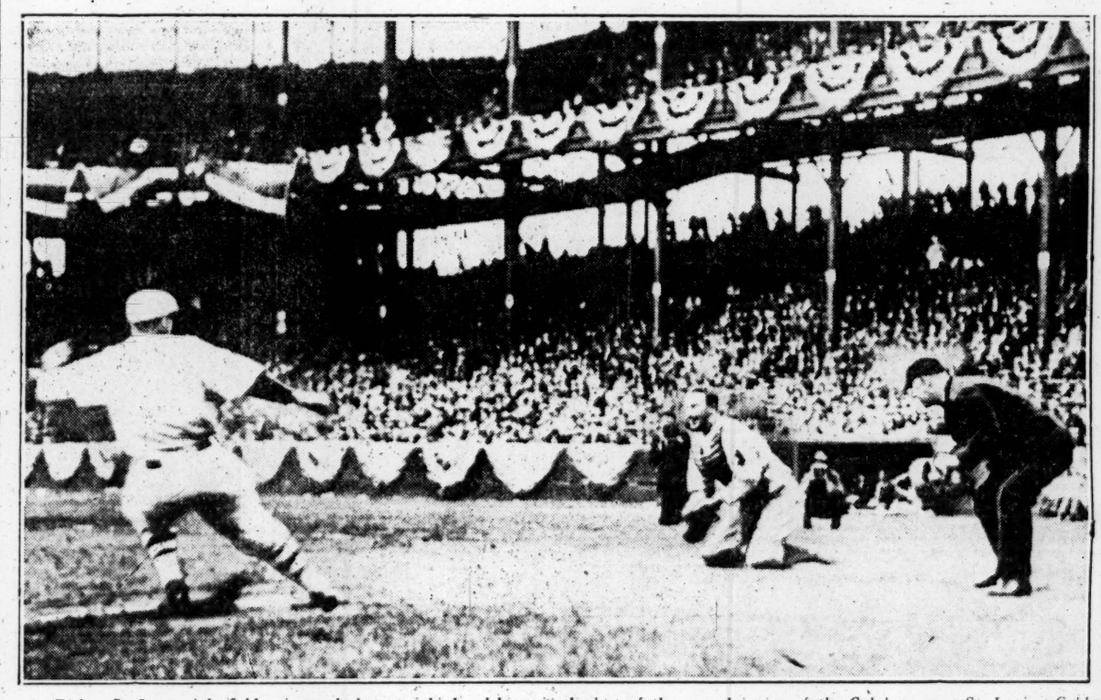
WHEN THE CUBS WON THE OPENING GAME



Fisher, St. Louis right fielder, is caught between third and home in the last of the second inning of the Cubs' game at St. Louis. Gabby Hartnett, Cubs' catcher, has headed off the Card outfielder. The opening game turned into a slugging contest, with the Cubs getting 15 hits to win, 9 to 8. Manager McCarthy used three pitchers, Bush relieving Blake, and Pat Malone going in to save the game in the ninth.

HELEN EXHIBITS DRAWINGS, AND SELLS THEM, TOO

New York, April 15.—(AP)—The girl who has queened it over tennis courts for years as "Little Poker Face," queened it over a new court today with the opening of her first drawing exhibition in America and she wasn't "poker face" at all.

Helen Wills Moody—Mrs. Frederick S. Moody on her visiting cards—stood in the midst of her exhibition at Grand Central art galleries and talked and smiled and gestured—so long as she was talking about her art.

And well she might, for she already has sold nine of the twenty-nine water color drawings that she is exhibiting and every one of the nine has been bought by an art collector.

Center on Tennis.

But even as an artist Helen Wills Moody cannot leave the sports world, for all but one of her drawings are of tennis players, the most famous tennis players in the world. Her subjects are Bill Tilden, Suzanne Lenglen, Lili de Alvarez, and even Helen Wills Moody herself.

They are lively ten inch figures, drawn in in soft black pencil, tinted with water colors and filled with the verve and dash and spirit that marks her tennis play.

The first thought of their creator when she returned to the gallery this afternoon after a long morning spent in supervising their hanging, was for the condition of those drawings. She discovered a bit of dust on this one, a finger print on that, a tipsy slant in another, and she asked the director to fix things.

Paints in Mornings.

"I don't believe in striving for modernistic effects in art if you aren't naturally inclined that way," she said. "I just draw things as I feel them and let it go at that."

She finds time to paint at home in San Francisco in the morning, takes a hasty bite of lunch, and is on the tennis courts by noon. The evenings she spends with her husband at parties and at the theater.

"I'm a professional painter, but an amateur tennis player," is her explanation of the matter. "And I couldn't continue to play tennis under the name of Helen Wills. It wouldn't look well."

Rain, Rain, Go Away! Let Sox Meet Indians Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Chicago's new weather boss does not appear to be much of a baseball fan. This was suspected when, for opening day, he predicted rain for "late in the afternoon" and then he crossed up the works further by turning on the spigot early in the morning. So plunko went the White Sox-Cleveland opener scheduled for Comiskey park at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

ROGER PECKINPAUGH.

Of course, the opening is scheduled to take place this afternoon. But you can write your own forecast as to whether it will or not. Personally, we refuse to get heated up about the prospect until we see the committee on floral horseshoes and chests of silver doing its stuff at 2:50 o'clock.

If the inaugural isn't staged this afternoon it will have to be put on tomorrow or Cleveland will not be in the cast. The opening series is a scheduled three game affair and on Friday the Indians will be in Detroit. Cleveland, therefore, would be cheated out of its road opener, for Detroit was able to put on its show against St. Louis yesterday. On the other hand the Browns would horn in on an extra opener—one in Detroit, one here, and one at home next Tuesday.

Rain May Have Benefits.

Reserved seat tickets purchased for yesterday's scheduled game will be good today, if the rain lets up, and the program otherwise will be the same as planned for yesterday. Tommy Thomas remained Manager Donie Bush's choice to pitch and Manager Peckinpaugh had no change in his belief that Willis Hudlin is the proper party to perform for his nine.

The rain may turn out to have its compensations for the Sox, because Wes Ferrell, Cleveland's sensational young right handed pitcher, probably will not be called upon to work in a two game series. .. is said that the civic rivalry between Detroit and Cleveland is such that Manager Peck desires to shoot his star in the first game against the Tigers.

Of course the prime disappointment to Manager Donie rested with the failure to get the championship season under way, but he also was singing the blues because he was cheated out of a batting practice scheduled for 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The trio of Sox gents rated as sluggers—Reynolds, Jolley and Shires—amassed a total of one useless single in the Saturday and Sunday games, which is looked upon by Mr. Bush as a call for more and better morning batting practice sessions.

Donie May Rent Barn.

Another day of rain and any one with a nice spacious hoss barn for rent will do well to get in touch with the Sox manager. It will be recalled that Donie foiled the San Antonio weather man by renting such a layout and the scheme worked so well that it is not unlikely he'll carry it out in Chicago if the bad spell keeps up.

Even should the home stand be carried out, from now on there will be only six games here before the Comiskeys visit every town in the league.

Next Monday night the club goes to Cleveland for a three game series, thence to St. Louis for three, Detroit for three, New York, opening May 2, for four, Boston for three, Washington for four, and Philadelphia for three. They will return to Comiskey park on Saturday, May 17, again to engage the Indians, this time in a four game series.

Chicagoan Hurls U. of I. to Another Win Over A. & M.

Starkville, Miss., April 15.—[Special.]—The University of Illinois baseball team swept the series with Mississippi A. & M. college, winning the third and final game this afternoon, 9 to 1. Joe Bartulis, sophomore from Chicago, was on the hill for the Orange and Blue.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—Chicago's Cubs started their campaign today to retain the National league championship. They defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 9 to 8.

Four runs in the eighth inning proved sufficient, although the Cardinals came with a rush, scoring three times in the same inning and adding one more run in the ninth.

The victory would have been accomplished more easily if Sheriff Blake had been able to dodge misfortune. Showing his appreciation at being chosen by Manager McCarthy to pitch the opener, Blake hurled like a master for six innings. Meanwhile his mates pounded two Cardinal hurlers and the Cubs assumed a 5 to 1 lead.

Then Trouble Begins.

But in the sixth Blake began to wilt. His right leg, in which he pulled something when racing to the plate in the fourth, began to bother him. In the seventh he had to quit and then the fun began, with Guy Bush giving such a weird exhibition that it was necessary to withdraw him hurriedly in the ninth to let Pat Malone finish.

Blake was touched for a run in the second on three hits. This gave the Cards a total of four blows, and during the next three innings not a Redbird even reached first base. Then a pass and two singles in the sixth served warning that he wasn't to go much farther. He faced two hitters in the seventh, and then Bush stepped to the mound to inaugurate a bit less than three innings of toil in which seven Cardinals scored. Bush gave up four hits, four bases on balls, and committed two wild pitches.

Cubs Pound Rhem.

Flint Rhem, the reformed bad boy of 1927, was given the job of kicking off for the home faction, but his success was limited. In the first round he escaped despite a couple of hits. In the second the Cubs gave him a bombardment of four blows, three of them doubles for three runs.

In the third they started on him again, so bespectacled Carmen Hill was asked to assist. A run in the third, another in the fourth was enough to convince him he was in a fight. As soon as he left the Cubs broke out in the eighth against Grabowski and made the four run tally that saved the verdict.

It didn't take startling individual feats to let the Cubs get away successfully with their first effort. Not even exceptional fielding was produced or even needed. Capt. Grimm, however, had to make a series of leaps and dives to offset wide throws, and the extra effort didn't do him any good. The cracked rib for which he had been out more than a week was crying for additional rest.

Rajah Caught at Plate.

If it hadn't been for that problematical heel on Hornsby's right foot the Cubs would have given Rhem a touch of high life in the first inning. With two out the Rajah responded to a robust greeting by singling to center. The mighty Hack let loose a line drive double to the foot of the right field line, and Hornsby tried to scamper to the plate on it, but was called out when his foot failed to touch the pan. Had he slid, he would have scored easily, but didn't dare take the chance. He couldn't trust the trick heel.

Scoring began in the Cubs' second with Cuyler's double, which bounced off the chicken netting erected in front of the right field bleacher to eliminate bargain homers. Cuyler was nipped trying to hike to third on Stephenson's grounder. Then Grimm doubled to right, putting Stevie on third. Hartnett plunked a two-bagger to the wall in left, Stephenson and Grimm hurrying home. Gabby scored the third run of the inning on Blake's single.

A pass and two hits off Blake brought the signs in the sixth that the leg injury was robbing him of his stuff. He passed Douthit for a starter, and Boss McCarthy dashed out to the middle of the diamond to ask the big speed baller about quitting. Blake wanted to go on. A fast double play started by Hornsby eliminated the man who had walked. Frisch and Bottomley followed with singles, but Hafey flied deep to Stephenson to end the flurry.

Guy Bush Cracks.

When Fisher singled and Gelbert walked to open what proved to be a noisy seventh, no time was lost erasing Blake from the picture. The hard working Bush dashed into the breach and the first wrong thing he did was to walk J. Wilson, filling the bases. High batted for Hill and was thrown out by Hartnett on a roller in front of the plate, but Fisher scored.

A pass to Douthit filled 'em up again. Adams' long fly let Gelbert register. A wild pitch let J. Wilson go to third and Douthit to second. Then another wild pitch sent J. Wilson home and Douthit to third with the tying run, but Bush emerged from the jam by walking Frisch and spiking Bottomley on a hopper to Hornsby.

Cuyler's triple touched off the fireworks on the four runs with which the champions moved safely out in front again in the eighth. Grabowski ascended to the pitching job in this round and Kiki welcomed him with a blow that bounced off the wall in center. Stephenson's single scored him.

The Cardinals scored their first run off Blake in the second inning and might have had more if they hadn't experimented on the base lines. Hafey pushed open the inning with a single and went to third on a hit by Fisher, the kid just taken in trade from the Giants. Gelbert also singled and Hafey scored. Then Jimmy Wilson bounced to Blake and a lot of fellows began running on the base lines. When the action ceased Fisher had been nailed between third and home and Gelbert had been killed trying to sneak into third. The round ceased with Rhem bouncing to Grimm.

Hill Goes In.

Only a couple hits were needed to bring about Rhem's banishment in the third. Blair punched a two bagger to right center and went to third on Hornsby's hit. This was all for Rhem. Hill rubbed off his spectacles and the first thing he saw was a long fly to center by Hack, Blair going home after the catch. A double play brought the round to an abrupt close. The champs picked up another in the fourth on a single by Blake and double down the third base line by English.

Grimm sacrificed and both runners were safe when Stevie's beat Bottomley's throw to second. Grabowski went away, leaving the problem to Haid. Hartnett plastered the newcomer with a hit, Stevie scoring. Grimm and Gabby moved up on Bush's sacrifice and went home rather hurriedly when English singled to left. Blair and Hornsby hurried the finish by fanning.

It didn't take Bush long to let a good portion of the Cub's lead get away. With one out in the home eighth he was smacked for singles by Fisher and Gelbert. Jim Wilson drove them home by tripling to right center. Watkins batted for Haid and was thrown out by Hornsby, the play letting J. Wilson score. This left the Cubs ahead by 9 to 7. The Cards altered this only slightly in the ninth when Frisch scored on his own triple off Bush and Hafey's fly off Rescuer Malone.

Pirates Beat Reds in First Game, 7 to 6

Cincinnati, O., April 15.—(AP)—Heavy hitting and a lead which changed hands four times featured today's opening game, which Pittsburgh won from the Reds, 7 to 6. Thirty-two hits were made for a total of forty-two bases. Bartell and Hemsley hit consecutive home runs at the start of the second inning. Paul Waner led the Pirates' attack with four hits in as many times at bat. Both starting pitchers, Lucas and Kremer, were knocked from the box. The attendance was 20,112.

177,500 FANS SEE BASEBALL SEASON OPEN

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Although cold and threatening weather held down the attendance in some places, nearly 177,500 fans turned out today to see the opening games of the 1930 baseball season.

New York's National league opener between the Giants and Boston Braves at the Polo Grounds drew the largest crowd, estimated at 40,000. The struggle between the Athletics and New York Yankees at Philadelphia drew 33,000. With Boston and St. Louis suffering from bad weather and the Chicago Sox game postponed, the total attendance for seven games was estimated at 177,500. The crowd estimates follow:

Hayes Elected President of K. C. Basketball League

John Hayes of Columbus council was elected president of the Knights of Columbus basketball league last night at the annual meeting at the Hotel Morrison. Hayes was one of the organizers of the league thirteen years ago, and has served as secretary and vice president, in addition to managing the Columbus team for a number of seasons. He succeeds Walter Schaefer, retiring after two years as president.

Sweetland's Arm, Bat Help Phils Win, 1-0

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 15.—(AP)—Lester Sweetland, Philadelphia southpaw ace, took complete charge of the opening game here today and shut out the Robins, 1 to 0. Sweetland held Brooklyn to three hits, scattered through the first three innings, and his double in the eighth opened the rally which gave the Phillies their one run.

The largest opening day crowd on record for Ebbets field, estimated at 27,000, saw Sweetland and William Watson Clark, his left handed rival, engage in a spectacular pitching duel. Sweetland needed help only in the first inning when Hurst dived across the foul line to knock down Hendricks' bid for a single with two on base.

After the third inning Sweetland retired 18 men in order. Clark kept his hits well scattered until the late innings, with the run coming in the eighth. After the opposing pitcher's double, Clark nearly saved the game by fanning O'Doul on three pitches, but Klein came through with a hit.

Learn Rules, Thomas Tells Boy Pitchers

he'll find himself with bad, illegal habits when he starts to pitch in a well officiated game and the harassing he'll receive from the coachers and the actions of the umpires may confuse him to the point where all of his effectiveness will be destroyed.

An old trick of coachers is to howl about the delivery in an attempt to confuse the pitcher, whether or not there actually is any basis for complaint. If you start in by knowing and observing all the pitching rules, you can let a designing coacher yell his head off about your delivery and need pay no attention to his ruse, if you know it is a ruse.

Simmons Hits Home Run First Time Up.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—(AP)—Picking up the winning habit where they left off last October, Connie Mack's Athletics started their 1930 American league campaign impressively today and to the complete satisfaction of 33,000 fans by trouncing the New York Yankees, 6 to 2.

Al Simmons celebrated the last-minute signing of his contract by clouting a home run on his first turn at bat, and Robert Moses Grove southpawed the metropolitan clan into an almost complete state of subjection.

Johnson Holds Record of Fanning 3,497; Howe Picks Him as Young's Hurling Mate

(This is the last of a series of articles in which Irwin M. Howe discusses the ten players he considers best of those who have come under his observation in 42 years of baseball writing.)

BY IRWIN M. HOWE.

For a running mate to Young I am satisfied to pick Walter Johnson, who had the boys swinging at a ripple of hot air for a matter of twenty-one seasons.

WALTER JOHNSON.

During the summer of 1907 the late Joe Cantillon, then managing Washington, received a number of notes from a fan in the far west urging him to send some one to look at a phenomenal lad who was pitching occasionally for a team in the hamlet of Weiser, Idaho. It was a long way from Washington to Weiser, but at last Cantillon was impressed by what he read and also by the news that other major league owners were being made acquainted with the doings of the boy and late in July he dispatched a disabled catcher named Blankenship to see what might be seen.

As things turned out Cantillon would have been safe in imposing the same terms on Blankenship that he did on Ollie Pickering, a heavy hitting outfielder, who also being out of the line up because of injuries was sent to look over a left handed pitcher in the Kitty league. Pickering was a left hand batter and had fallen into a terrific slump that spring when facing southpaw pitchers.

"If You Can Get a Foul, Don't Sign Him.

When given his assignment Pickering hastened away but was called back by Cantillon with this remark: "Take a bat with you, Ollie, and if you can get a foul off that kid, don't sign him." Probably there were very few scouts combing the brush at that time who could have gotten a foul off the Idaho marvel unless given a good many tries.

There will be discussion for years to come as there has been for forty years past concerning the pitcher who could hurl a baseball past a batter with the greatest speed. The best opinion seems to be that Walter Johnson is that person.

It was Johnson's misfortune to be associated for many years with a second division team and eventually his friends became resigned to the idea that this remarkable individual would pass out with never a single chance in a world series. But in his eighteenth season his opportunity came when Washington defeated the Giants. In one of the games Walter fanned twelve New Yorkers, tying the record established by Ed Walsh in 1906 against the Cubs. This record was never equaled until the first game last fall between Philadelphia and Chicago, when Ehmke set down 13 Cubs on strikes.

Piles Up Record of 3,497 Strikeouts.

Besides pitching 802 games, more than any one except Young, Johnson is also second only to Young in games won, 416, and in length of major league service, 21 seasons. Walter holds the record for most strikeouts ever scored by any pitcher, 3,497; led all pitchers in his league in games won six seasons, despite weak support has the world record for shutouts, 113 (Alexander is second with 90); most consecutive shutout innings, 56, and many other records, including a no hit no run game against Boston July 1, 1920. In 1924 he was voted the most valuable player in his league.

In selecting the members of the all star team of the last forty-two years which is the period of my close observation I have been guided by two principles. The first was batting strength combined with fielding ability, and the second individuality.

The only exception to this rule, aside from the pitchers, was Schalk, who was only a fair hitter, but such a wizard on defense and strategy that I am forced to include him in preference to other catchers who were fine mechanics and could also bat much better than he. If the records had been complete and had I been able to watch their work more frequently, I might have chosen Buck Ewing or Charlie Bennett for my backstop. They were superb players, and Ewing was a great general, but I never had a chance to watch either long.

Spring Hill Hands Badger Nine First Defeat, 5 to 4

Mobile, Ala., April 15.—[Special.]—Spring Hill college handed the University of Wisconsin nine the first defeat of its southern training trip here today by a score of 5 to 4. Capt. Bob Douville held the Badgers to four hits, while Spring Hill touched Bob Poser for nine hits, including a pair of home runs. Wisconsin made its only score in the ninth on a walk and two singles.

Kid Chocolate, Mastro To See La Barba-Taylor Bout

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Kid Chocolate and Earl Mastro will be the most interested of the spectators at the fight between Bud Taylor and Fidel La Barba at the Coliseum Monday night. The Cuban and his manager, Louis Guitterez, are coming from New York to have a look since La Barba has signed to meet the Kid at Madison Square Garden May 16.

Mastro's interest is due to his contract with Jack Dempsey, which probably will land him a match with the winner Monday night or Kid Chocolate. These four are the leading featherweight contenders for Bat Battalino's title.

Bud Taylor arrived in the loop yesterday. Without waste of time he hiked over to Barry's gymnasium and stepped five rounds with his sparring mates, Prince Saunders and Sammy Levine. Shadow boxing and bag punching completed his routine.

At Kid Howard's, Fidel La Barba continued his practice drills, boxing with Billy Deuce and Marty Zuniga. Apparently the Italian is planning an attack to the body, for he was shooting his left in that direction.

WHITNEY COLT VICTORIOUS IN GLENOAKS SPRINT

Crazy Coot Leads Way by Three Lengths.

Havre de Grace, Md., April 15.—[Special.] — Harry Payne Whitney may not be starting Whichone or Boojum in the Kentucky Derby, but he seems to have a very capable representative in Crazy Coot, which ran and won in the Glenoaks here today.

There are four Whitney eligibles in the Derby, and until the race of Crazy Coot no one of them had shown under silks this season. Crazy Coot is eligible for the Preakness, as well as the Derby, and seems in good form if a six furlong sprint will give any line on his ability as a route horse.

The Glenoaks was at three-quarters, and eight came out for the race, the support of the public being divided between Crazy Coot and Billy Blake, the latter going to the post favorite. He came home second, three lengths back of Crazy Coot, but lucky to land second honors, for he was stopping fast and Skid was coming on so quickly he was beaten only a head.

Skid's price of $5.70 to be third was longer than the $4.50 which Crazy Coot paid to win, which gives some idea of how the betting was confined to the first and second horses.

RYERSON WINS IN MASON-DIXON GOLF TOURNEY

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 15.—(AP)—J. B. Ryerson of Cooperstown, N. Y., winner of the 1929 championship, and R. A. Stranahan of Toledo, O., who won the medal in the qualifying round yesterday, both advanced in their first round matches in the Mason and Dixon golf championship today.

Ryerson, playing superb golf, defeated N. J. Booker of New York, 7 and 6.

Stranahan defeated F. A. Potts of New York, 4 and 2. He was out in 38 and was two up at the turn. D. N. Tallman of Minneapolis defeated W. A. Rupp of Buffalo, 3 and 1, and Thomas McWalters of Newark defeated Elmore Hotchkiss Jr., 3 and 1.

John Sheridan Kills Self in St. Louis Hospital

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—John B. Sheridan, veteran sports writer and critic, formerly sports editor of both the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and in more recent years manager of the Missouri committee on public utility information, hanged himself in a hospital here today. Sheridan had been a patient in the hospital for some time, suffering from a nervous trouble. He was author of several sports manuals.

MAYOR WALKER SEES TO IT THAT SEASON STARTS

Giants Assist in Ritual by Beating Braves.

inning when Siebold walked two hitters after two were out, forcing Lindstrom across. But he improved as his pores opened, and later in the game he turned the Giants off for four consecutive innings without suffering a man of them to perch on first.

There were other colorful events in that second half of the opening innings depicting the drama that Babe Ruth capsuled in his observation that "a fellow is a hero one minute, but a bum the next, so what the hell?" Welsh is a young man who had some disagreement with his employer, Judge Fuchs, this spring and presently received a telegram reading: "Give my regards to your charming mother and tell her she has a baby six feet tall."

Fuchs Irritates Welsh.

This so irritated the Welsh boy that he decided to outdo himself this season to humiliate his head man, the judge. I don't quite follow his logic on this, but the general plan seems to have been that if he played star baseball for Judge Fuchs, then that would make a bum of the man who called him a baby—a roundabout revenge, if one may say so.

At any rate, Welsh came in for Marshall's fly early in the Giants' half of the first and left his feet with the abandon of an amateur in a football game to come up with the ball for a putout and the season's first rousing burst of appreciation. And it was while he was still doffing his cap in fancy to the cheering thousands and enjoying his revenge on the judge that Leach hit an arching fly right into his hands which popped right out again.

Hunter, Allison Are Defeated in Pinehurst Tennis

Pinehurst, N. C., April 15.—(AP)—Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., second ranking tennis ace, and Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex., seventh in ranking, went down in defeat in the third round of the north and south net tournament here this afternoon, furnishing the biggest upsets of the meet so far. Both are Davis cup stars.

Hunter fell before J. Gilbert Hall of East Orange, N. J., 6—3, 3—6, and 6—4, while Emmett Pare of Philadelphia defeated Allison two out of three sets, 4—6, 7—5, and 6—3.

Another third round upset was marked up in the defeat of Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., sixth in national ranking, by Cliff Sutter of New Orleans, 6—3 and 6—4.

Johnny Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Donald Cram of Nashville, Tenn., in two fast sets, 6—4, 6—4.

John Van Ryn of Orange, N. J., who ranks fifth, won over H. M. Coggeshall of Toronto, Canada, Canadian Davis cup candidate, 6—2, 6—0, in their third round match.

Fight Heads Ponder Over Carnera Win

San Francisco, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—The state athletic commission today started to investigate conditions surrounding the heavyweight bout last night in Oakland between the giant Italian, Primo Carnera and Leon Chevalier, San Francisco Negro. Carnera won on a technical knockout in the sixth round, but the sudden and unexpected ending caused the spectators to riot.

The commission's stated plans were to determine why Bob Perry, Chevalier's Negro second, tossed in a towel, thereby signalizing defeat for the Negro. Chevalier was not in worse condition than his huge opponent at the time. Perry, hired for the evening, had no authority to throw in a towel, even if Chevalier had actually been in distress. Only the chief second is permitted to terminate bouts in that manner.

Spectators Attack Perry.

Infuriated spectators attacked Perry and severely beat him while many of Carnera's own countrymen mounted chairs and shouted "fake," meanwhile demanding that the bout be resumed.

Carnera's end of the purse totaling $13,239, and Chevalier's $1,500 were held up pending the investigation. Commission members were particularly interested in statements made by Mrs. Chevalier in which she declared her husband had been told he must lose the bout.

Questioning of Carnera and his retinue of handlers, including Leon See of France, William Duffy of New York, and Frank Churchill of Los Angeles, was scheduled for tomorrow.

Kyne Withdraws Offer.

An offer of $150,000 made yesterday to Carnera to meet Jack Dempsey "somewhere in California," was withdrawn today by William P. Kyne, San Francisco sportsman and one of the officials of the Tanforan race track near here.

The National Athletic club at Seattle canceled Carnera's scheduled appearance there April 25 as a result of last night's bout.

The blend that revolutionized smoking

THE INCOMPARABLE BLEND of Camel Cigarettes is probably the most important discovery in the history of smoking. It made cigarette smoking popular. Camel changed the smoking habits of the nation and has given pleasure to more millions of people than any other cigarette.

This exclusive blend assures in Camel a smoothness, a mildness and a mellow fragrance that cannot be imitated. It preserves all the excellent qualities of the choice tobaccos of which Camels are made and melds them all together into a delightful harmony of smoke pleasure. It sets Camel apart as a cigarette of distinctive character and provides for Camel smokers the very highest form of smoking luxury.

BUYERS' STRIKE BRINGS CUT IN COPPER METAL

Producers Lop Off 4 Cents a Pound.

BY O. A. MATHER.

A world-wide buyers' strike against relatively high prices for copper metal despite large production ended in victory yesterday. And conversely, the efforts on the part of producers for more than a year to maintain prices and stabilize output met defeat.

The price of copper metal crashed from 18 to 14 cents a pound when the Copper Export association recommended to its foreign members that copper is quoted at European ports at 1420 cents a pound, compared with 1820 cents previously asked. The price for domestic copper was correspondingly cut to 14 cents for deliveries to the end of July. This is the lowest price since 1928.

It was just a year ago that the copper producers banded together to maintain a price of 18 cents a pound. For a time production was curtailed to a basis where supply and demand were about equal. But then came the stock market crash and attendant slack business conditions last autumn. Both domestic and foreign consumers talked at the 18 cent price and other canceled orders or refused to place commitments.

Price Fixing Fails.

The copper producers reduced their output to the lowest level in several years and believed they could maintain the price. But buyers were obdurate, stocks of refined copper mounted steadily, and finally large offers of copper appeared in the market below the fixed price. That marked the end.

But last night the copper producers were consoling themselves with predictions that the buyers' strike now is ended and that the big public utilities, both in this country and abroad, will return to the market, and that large scale buying will shortly reduce the unwieldy stocks of the red metal.

Neither was yesterday a cheerful day for the petroleum and automobile industries. The recent increases in crude oil prices in the mid-continent field encouraged larger production last week, and the daily average gross crude oil output rose 30,700 brls to a total of 2,561,150 brls a day, according to the American Petroleum institute.

All of the increase occurred in the eastern fields, with Oklahoma showing an upturn of 29,650 brls a day. California production declined 3,000 brls a day. Refiners operated at 72.4 per cent of capacity last week, compared with 70.9 per cent in the preceding week.

Willys Co. Omits Dividend.

Directors of the Willys-Overland company voted to omit the quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share due on the common stock at this time, although they declared the quarterly payment on the preferred stock.

"Although the financial position of the company is sound, in view of lessened earnings the directors decided to pass the dividend on the common stock until general conditions in the industry are more clearly reestablished," President L. A. Miller said. Net earnings for the first quarter of this year, after all charges, were $136,442, which compared with $2,028,020 before allowance for federal taxes in the first quarter of 1929.

The Hupp Motor company reported net earnings for the first quarter of $66,749, or 4 cents a share, on the common stock, compared with $1,501,595, or $1.10 a share, a year ago. The Timken Roller Bearing company reported quarterly earnings at $3,106,659, or $1.29 a share, on the common stock, compared with $4,264,225, or $1.77 a share, a year ago.

Chrysler Cites Conditions.

Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the Chrysler corporation, told stockholders at their annual meeting that present conditions indicate a stabilized demand for motor cars and a market which, in point of vaslation from normal, will compare favorably with most of the major industries of the country. President E. G. Williams of the Marmon Motor Car company reported March sales were 34 per cent above a year ago and sales for the first quarter of this year were 51 per cent above the same period in 1929.

The best news of the day came last night, when the weekly report on the railroad movement of commodities indicated improvement in general trade. Revenue freight loadings for the week ended April 5 totaled 907,928 cars, an increase of 22,769 cars over the preceding week but a decline of 50,297 cars froin a year ago.

Chicago Seen Ideal Point for Expanded Grain Storage

BY SCRUTATOR.

It is rather generally agreed that if the government is to help grain crops under a so-called orderly marketing system, or to finance cooperatives to do the same thing, more storage facilities will be needed than those we have now in the United States.

There are excellent reasons why such storage should be located in the established terminal markets, and particularly in Chicago.

Some people have the idea that the trading in wheat, corn, and other grains on the Chicago Board of Trade is done with transactions in paper. As a matter of fact, trades are made in actual grain. There are upwards of fifty million bushels capacity in Chicago warehouses, and at present these are about full.

Marketing Conditions.

Wheat in the United States is harvested over a period of about four months. Under normal conditions in the past the marketing of the vast quantities of this grain was accomplished as speedily as possible. Considering this only from a standpoint of the one country, it would seem illogical to thrust a year's supply on the buyers in such a short time. The qualifying condition, however, when the foreign markets are considered, is that the southern hemisphere matures its wheat in the winter months. Orderly marketing overseas then means that American farmers should sell their wheat to foreigners when they are not bothered by the competition of Australia and Argentina—in six or seven months rather than twelve.

Still, storage probably is not adequate for the holding over of wheat and corn. Advocates have been found for farm storage. This is expensive to construct, makes financing difficult, and may defeat the ends it aims at, in that it is seldom possible to move the grain rapidly into market when the price is high. Neither is it practicable for a single farmer to have exact carloads in storage nor economical for him to install the machinery for processing his wheat if it begins to deteriorate.

Terminal Advantages.

The country elevator is necessary. It can collect the grain and ship it out rapidly, also furnish storage temporarily when the terminals are loaded. But it cannot have extensive facilities for weighing or inspection, nor for financing in the degree the terminal market has them. To sell direct from a country elevator to a miller or other user does not appear feasible, because of the cost involved and lack of adequate supervision over big quantities.

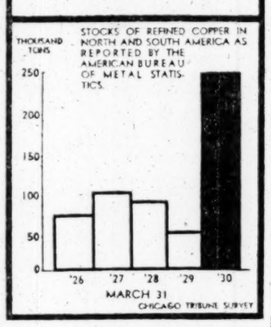
American grain moves almost always in an eastward direction. The main production is west of the Mississippi, the consumption is east of it and in Europe. Practically never does wheat or corn move westward once it reaches Chicago. This city is a natural breaking point. In addition, it stands as the easiest point of approach from the west for physical grain and the one best suited for a rerouting to eastern and foreign customers.

Access to Ships.

Water transports adds to its attractiveness. With Buffalo the fastest growing milling center and Chicago elevators having in most cases access to lake ships, it becomes apparent that the place to sell and the place to buy are the same, where the change from rail to lake may be made most easily.

The idea that grain sells lower because it is in the "show windows" of the terminal does not hold. Storage, too, can be built more cheaply here than anywhere else with the possible exception of other terminals. Many warehouses here have plenty of processing machinery and would need only the addition of storage tanks.

REFINED COPPER STOCKS ARE VERY HIGH FOR THE SEASON



GREAT A. & P. SYSTEM TOPS BILLION DOLLAR MARK IN YEAR'S SALES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Despite the business reaction last fall, sales of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company increased nearly $81,000,000, with the result that for the first time on record they crossed the billion dollar mark, the company announced today in its annual report for the fiscal year ending Feb. 28. The exact amount of the company's sales is given as $1,055,692,882. That compared with $972,799,185 the previous year, the gain last year having been $80,893,697, or 8.31 per cent.

An idea of the rapid growth of the business of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company may be obtained from the fact that its business has expanded more than $700,000,000, or about 200 per cent, in the last five years. The increase of 8.31 per cent in sales last year was on top of a gain of $211,396,380, or 27.7 per cent, in 1928 and of $187,315,621, or 32.6 per cent, in 1927.

Net profits of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company last year were $26,219,631 after depreciation and federal taxes. That was equivalent, after dividends on the 7 per cent preferred stock, to $11.77 a share on 2,073,916 no par shares of common stock. In 1928 the company earned a net profit of $24,220,982, or $11.02 a share on 2,039,592 shares of common stock. Profits last year exceeded those of the previous year by $1,998,649, or 8.25 per cent.

The company reports that sales for March registered a new high record for the month of $83,975,552, which represented a gain of $6,263,177, or 8.06 per cent over March, 1929, despite the fact that the latter month included Easter, which this year comes in April.

SAYS HOLDING CO. MAY FOLLOW RADIO CORP. DEAL

New York, April 15.—(AP)—The New York American tomorrow will say that the General Electric corporation and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will obtain full control of the Radio Corporation of America through a deal to be announced Thursday.

Radio corporation will give 6,500,000 shares of its common stock in return for patents and preferred stock owned by the General Electric and Westinghouse. The paper says this will leave the corporation with 13,000,000 shares outstanding, of which General Electric and Westinghouse will own 8,000,000, or over 68 per cent.

General Electric with 1,500,000 shares has been the largest individual holder of Radio corporation stock.

The American says that on receipt of the additional stock, it is rumored, General Electric plans formation of a radio holding company similar to the Electric Bond and Share company, through which it dominates utility and power company activities throughout the world.

Cumberland Pipe Line Co. to Pay $14 Extra Dividend

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Directors of the Cumberland Pipe Line company declared an extra dividend of $14 a share on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly payment of $1. The company operates approximately 800 miles of trunk and gathering oil pipe lines in eastern Kentucky. Prior to the Supreme court dissolution decree of 1911 the company was controlled by the Standard Oil company.

Morgan Co. Buys Issue of New York State Bonds

New York, April 15.—(AP)—One of the day's interesting financial events was the sale of a $31,550,000 issue of New York state one to twenty-five year 4 per cent bonds to J. P. Morgan & Co. for private account on a bid of 102.077. This represented a premium to the state of $655,293 and was the best price on a New York issue in six years. Bankers were interested in the announcement that the bonds had been taken privately and also in the fact that ten bids were submitted, emphasizing the current lively interest in securities of this type. The high price paid was regarded as evidence of an opinion that interest rates are to remain easy.

New Majestic Issue Is Off to a Lively Start

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

As the rest of the market sold off, speculative interest on the Chicago Stock exchange centered yesterday in Majestic Household Utilities, newly organized affiliate of the Grigsby-Grunow company.

The issue made its bow at 44, ran up to 46 in the early trading, and sold off slightly around midday, and then shot up to close at 48. Sales in the stock amounted to nearly 29,000 shares. The subscription price of the issue was 25.

Almost without exception the rest of the list sagged in sympathy with the trend in New York. Grigsby was off more than a point at the close. Chicago Corporation eased about a point with the news that directors of Willys-Overland, in which it has large holdings, passed the quarterly dividend on common stock.

Certificates Ease 2 Points.

Continental Chicago common was initially traded above 23. The stock opened at 23, ran up nearly a point, and settled back to close at 23¼. The preferred was not actively traded in and closed the day a fraction under the opening price of 47½. The allotment certificates dropped 2 points to 69¼.

Modine Manufacturing was a notable exception among the industrial stocks, the majority of which finished the day anywhere from a fraction to 1½ under their previous closing prices. Modine on sales aggregating 6,000 shares spurted 6 to set a new high for the year at 70½. The stock has been under accumulation for the last few days and has advanced 13½ in the last two sessions.

Recent favorites among the industrial specialties, including North American Car, National Standard, E. L. Bruce, and A. M. Castle, were off about a point each. Process slipped nearly 2, while General Theaters, Jefferson, Merchants and Manufacturers preferred all sold off slightly.

Rises 13 Points.

There were no significant price changes among the utilities. Middle West was off a fraction, as were a number of other issues in the group. Motor shares showed little life. Waukesha Motors, usually an inactive stock, jumped 13 points on sales of 255 shares. Bendix, Auburn, and Borg-Warner were about unchanged.

March business of the Perfect Circle company showed a marked improvement over the first two months of the year, President C. N. Teetor said yesterday.

GEN. ELECTRIC EARNS $15,042,521 IN 1ST QUARTER

Schenectady, N. Y., April 15.—(AP)—The General Electric company today reported net profit of $15,042,521 for the first quarter, against $14,565,986 in the initial three months of 1929. This is equal to 50 cents a share on the common stock, compared with 48 cents a year ago, figured on the basis of the present stock which represents a four for one splitup of the old shares.

J. R. Thompson March Sales Total $1,307,342

With four less stores operated than a year ago and several being remodeled and Chicago business handicapped by severe weather, March sales of the John R. Thompson company totaled $1,307,342, compared with $1,411,154 in March, 1929. Sales for the first quarter of this year, however, totaled $3,783,585, compared with $3,781,912 for the same period last year. Net profits for the quarter were $301,726, compared with $332,887 a year ago.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—News of a 4 cent cut in the price of copper metal upset the stock market somewhat in the early dealings today, but prices came back rather vigorously in the afternoon, so that the bulls and bears shared net honors in true brotherly fashion.

Each side had a score or so of price records for the year to boast. On the bull side the new 1930 highs included such stocks as American Can, American Tobacco, Associated Dry Goods, Louisville Gas, Standard Gas, Westinghouse, Manhattan Electrical Supply, and Lehman corporation. The bears claimed new lows for nine copper and mining issues, Hudson Motors, Southern Railway, Industrial Alcohol, and three railroad equipment issues.

Trading Moderate.

Most of the pivotals wound up in the bull camp, but there were enough

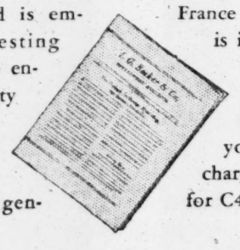
What has been happening in Commodity Prices?

When the general commodity price index is broken down into its chief components, considerable light is thrown upon the movement of prices in the last few years. This method is employed with interesting results in the article entitled "The Commodity Price Trend" in our current Investment Bulletin.



Another article of general interest discusses the outlook for probable European financing in the American market. Germany's needs are appraised and the important role to be played by France in the world market is indicated. The Investment Bulletin is just off the press. Why This Bank Believes In Life Insurance

REASON NUMBER ONE

The less property you may leave under your will, the more need you have for life insurance — for it, in itself, can be used to create an estate for the protection of your family. The more property you leave under your will, the more need you may have for life insurance — for it can be used to create a cash reserve for the protection of your estate. Though not engaged in the sale of life insurance, this Bank does recommend it because of its wide adaptability to the creation and the conservation of estates, and because, through an insurance trust, you can make certain that your life insurance will meet the very purpose for which you have designed it

HOME BUILDING IN CHICAGO NOW 42% OF TOTAL

April Figures Show Gain Over March.

BY AL CHASE.

Forty-two per cent of all construction in Chicago during the first ten days of April was residential buildings totaling $2,200,200, according to figures compiled by the F. W. Dodge corporation.

Coincident with that statement, E. M. Craig, executive secretary of the Building Construction Employers' association, after compilation of a monthly survey of construction activities, made this comment: "Residential building is gaining momentum as stabilized material prices prevail and with building mechanics working at an increased state of efficiency."

Increase Over March.

A total number of 215 building and engineering projects amounting to $8,366,200 was let during the period from April 1 through April 11 in northern Illinois, according to the Dodge corporation. This compares with $2,602,200 for the preceding period covering the last eight business days in March.

Since April 1 the daily average of contracts has amounted to $836,600, compared with $325,300 per day in the last part of March, a substantial increase. In April of last year, however, contracts averaged $1,836,000 per business day.

Industrial Buildings Second.

Industrial buildings ranked second in Chicago construction, aggregating $1,667,500 or 32 per cent during the first ten days in April. Commercial buildings totaled $1,223,000 or 23 per cent.

Harry Bloom has assigned the ninety-nine year lease, dated 1912, and the building at the southeast corner of 69th and Halsted streets to Benjamin Goldberg. The ground, 50x115 feet, is improved with a two story building containing six stores, offices and apartments. The original lease was made by Bernard Ebers to August J. Salmon. Mr. Salmon in turn transferred it to Abraham M. Liebling and Mr. Liebling transferred it to Mr. Bloom.

PREDICT FEWER MAY 1ST MOVINGS THAN FORMERLY

This year fewer Chicagoans will change apartments on May 1, according to Lilborn L. Newton, secretary of the Chicago Homes Economic council. Mr. Newton states that approximately 42,000 Chicagoans will move during the month of April and up to and including May 1. He said that in 1929 more than 44,000 families in the city changed residence. The Homes Economic council was founded several years ago to encourage lease making on a twelve months' basis instead of the old May 1 and October 1 dates.

COPPER SLASH UPSETS WALL STREET STOCKS

But Prices Recover Losses in Good Fashion.

was again at a moderate pace, the
ares.

Money conditions showed little ange from yesterday. The rates e firm, but the tone was perhaps a e easier, no funds being on offer above 4 per cent.

Apparently the shorts were caught opping on the copper cut announce-nt. They sold stocks rather freely llowing the opening on the report at the announcement of the price duction was forthcoming, but when ey attempted to buy them back later ey found it necessary to do some ght smart bidding. All of which nged to enliven things in that quar-
r of operations.

Copper Group Rallies.

The coppers after their initial sink-g spell rallied in a group, showing at the news had been pretty well scounted. Anaconda, American elting, Cerro De Pasco, Kennecott, helps and Arizona, Nevada, and anby all sold off sharply, but most them recovered to within striking stance of last night's closing levels fore the gong sounded.

Amusement stocks gave a good ac-unt of themselves, all things consid-
ed. The leaders, such as Radio ith, Warner Brothers, and Paraunt, registered gains of around 2 ints each at one time, and held ere the dividing line stubbornly for good part of the session. Last hour lling, however, wiped out most of e early gains, replacing some of em with fractional losses.

Leading equipment shares were mong the weak features of the day.
American Locomotive yielding to the west levels since 1923, while Amer-an Car and Foundry was at new rec-rd low price for the stock on the present basis of capitalization.

rial Alcohol, driving it to the low-st prices touched since 1927, was atbuted to a slump in the market for dustrial alcohol. Current prices reorted for alcohol are reported to be ow above manufacturing costs.

Selected Industries.

I would appreciate your giving me what information you have or can secure about "Selected Industries," both common and preferred, as listed on the New York curb.—J. L. D.

Selected Industries, Inc., was formed in December, 1928, under the sponsorship of Stone & Webster and Blodget, C. D. Barney & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co., Lehman Bros., and Brown Bros. & Co., to acquire for temporary or permanent investment minority or controlling interests in established concerns. Its stated policy is to invest chiefly in groups of companies conducting fundamentally related businesses. The company may lend financial assistance and business guidance to concerns in which it invests.

For the period from Dec. 15, 1928, to Dec. 31, 1929, net income was $2,826,064. After disbursing dividends totaling $2,766,358 there was a surplus for the period of $59,706.

The shrinkage in the market value of the listed securities held by the company on Dec. 31, 1929, amounted to $4,635,005. By Jan. 27, 1930, this amount had decreased to $1,942,901, which was more than offset by the advantageous buying of 93,304 units of the company's allotment certificates, the retirement of which has increased capital surplus by $2,272,418.

Regular dividends are reported on the prior stock, but not on the common, which is regarded as speculative.

United Founders.

Will you please give me information on United Founders corporation common stock?—H. E. F.

United Founders corporation was formed in February, 1929, by interests associated with American Founders corporation to attain an important position in public utility, railroad, bank, and insurance fields. It has already become an important factor in these divisions.

United Founders corporation has the usual broad charter powers of an investment company, but it is primarily a holding company.

It has acquired three-fourths of the common stock of American Founders corporation, which in turn controls four general management investment companies.

United Founders corporation earnings for the period from Feb. 4 to Nov. 30, 1929, were $14,067,103, equal to $2.54 per share on 3,929,601 shares of common stock, the average number of common shares outstanding during the period.

The common is on an annual stock dividend basis of 4-70 of a share of common stock for each share held.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Remington-Rand.

Those who have been following the affairs of Remington-Rand, Inc., rather closely say that the company will earn around $3.50 a share for the year ended March 31. These same interests state that new products to be introduced shortly and the promise of an increasingly aggressive sales effort suggest that the rate of sales growth of the company will be more rapid than the 6 per cent annually shown in recent years.

Westinghouse.

The recent strength in Westinghouse probably was due to pressure against a large short interest. Recently reports were current in the financial district that the large operator generally credited with having engineered the move in the issue earlier this year had sold out and was no longer interested in the issue marketwise. At that time the issue was said to be a good short sale. Indications now are that this "information" was faulty. Of late there has been talk of a possible increase in the company's dividend rate. A larger disbursement would seem to be logical, since it is estimated the company will earn in excess of $10 a share on its stock this year.

Woolworth April Sales.

Woolworth is expected to make a very good showing in sales for April, due to the fact that Easter comes in this month. The stock sold as high as 103⅞ last year and as low as 52¼ during the panic last fall. The improvement in price so far this year has been relatively small compared with other high grade investments and is regarded by many to be intrinsically cheap.

Investing in Electric Power

GROSS revenues of the electric light and power industry in the United States have increased each year during the last decade. The annual rate of increase has varied from 7% to 18%, and the average per year has been 10.8%. This industry deals in a necessary commodity for which the demand is but moderately affected by periodical business declines. The uses for electricity are constantly broadening and distribution is constantly widening. More people are buying electricity, and the average consumer is buying more of it.

United Founders Corporation has important investments in the electric light and power industry and other divisions of the public utility field. Through its principal utility investments its interests extend to electric power and light, gas, telephone, water or transportation service furnished to communities in forty states of the Union. With the increasing population and widening use of electricity and other services, its investments in the public utility field should ultimately enhance greatly in value.

United Founders Corporation is also extensively interested in other fields of investments, and holds a diversified portfolio of securities. Through its controlling interest in American Founders Corporation it commands the service of the extensive economic, analytical and research organization developed by American Founders. Coupled with this organization are extensive banking and investment connections, which contribute to the strong position of United Founders Corporation as an institution investing for the long pull.

WHEAT BELT RAINS LOWER PRICES AGAIN

Market Now Over 10c Below Week Ago.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Further rains over the wheat belt, with precipitation covering a good part of the area from the Texas panhandle to the northern limits of the wheat section in Canada, were effective yesterday in increasing bearish sentiment.

While there was heavy short covering early causing a strong rally, the market flattened out later under persistent commission house and local selling and prices dropped 2½@2¾c from the high to a new low on the present downturn showing 10⅝@11⅞c under the best figures of last week and the finish was at net losses of 1½@2c, with May $1.06¼@1.06⅝ and July $1.06⅝@1.06⅞.

Part of the early buying was credited to locals who were recently on the selling side, but later long grain started to come out and dis closed a weakened technical position, reports of showers in parts of Oklahoma having some effect. The government was credited with buying May on a scale down, and on the May-July spread narrowed to ½c at the last against ⅞c the previous day, and 2c recently.

Western Kansas Needs Rain.

Official and private reports showed that about the only section of the winter wheat belt that now needed moisture was the western third of Kansas which has so far received little moisture. A Kansas City firm estimates that about 6,000,000 acres in that state had received less than ¾ inch rain since April 1, while 3,000,000 acres had ¼@½ inch, and 2,000,000 acres ½ inch or more. As high as 3 inches of rain were reported in parts of Nebraska. The forecast indicated threatening weather in the southwest overnight.

In some quarters the belief prevailed that the rainfall in the American and Canadian northwest was more important as a future price making factor than the precipitation in the southwest, as the former area has been suffering from a material shortage in subsoil moisture, and rains were badly needed to give the new crop a good start.

There were intimations that a large export business had been done in Manitoba wheats, but the seaboard reported only 500,000 bu sold in all positions. Liverpool closed ⅞@1⅜c lower, with Buenos Aires ⅜c higher to ⅛c lower, while Winnipeg was 1⅝c lower for the day.

Close Spreads with Corn.

Spreading operations were largely responsible for relative strength in the corn market, the former being bought against sales of wheat, and despite the weakness in the latter corn averaged higher closing ½c higher to ¼c lower with May, 82½c, and July, 84⅜@84½c. Owing to the heavy rains in some parts of the belt the trade was inclined to look for a lighter movement. Shipping demand was more active. Sales were 167,000 bu.

A marked improvement in the shipping demand for cash oats with sales of 216,000 bu, combined with buying by cash interests and shorts caused a sharp rally in prices after an early dip, but the upturn was lost toward the last when wheat weakened, and the finish was ¼@⅜c lower, with May 42⅝c and July 43c.

Trade in rye was light with some buying of that grain against sales of corn. Liquidation developed in the May toward the last within the finish 1⅜@1½c lower, May being 60½c, and July, 66¾c.

EGG STOCKS INCREASING

Declines of 3c or $45 a car were suffered by November egg futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange on news from the four markets that storings were once more exceeding last year's rate. Fluctuation in April deliveries ended in a net drop of ½c. Sales were 158 cars and receipts 39,159 cases.

Quiet trading in November butter was entirely at the previous figure and April was neglected. Spot market was firm and arrivals under a week ago. Sales were 16 cars and receipts 13,759 tubs. Prices follow:

REASSURES AMER. LOCOMOTIVE CO. STOCKHOLDERS

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Stockholders of the American Locomotive company were reassured at the annual meeting today by William H. Woodin, chairman, that there was no prospect of an immediate cut in the dividend rate on the common stock.

In order to maintain payment of the common stock dividends, however, Mr. Woodin explained that the company found it necessary to cut into surplus. "This, of course, cannot go on forever," he said. "We have the financial standing of the company and the preferred stockholders to consider. We have been trying to diversify our business in the hope that before the time comes when we must cut the dividend we will be getting enough income from our new lines to supplement the locomotive business."

C. & O. Plans $38,000,000 Stock Offering at Par

Cleveland, O., April 15.—(AP)—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company will file a petition with the interstate commerce commission asking necessary authority to issue and offer to its stockholders at par, $100 per share, $38,000,000 par value of its common stock, it was announced here tonight. This action was authorized by vote of the board of directors of the road today. Officials explained the stock issue would give stockholders the right to subscribe for one new share for each four shares held, but no explanation was given as to the project for which the money is to be used.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

It is still too early to make definite predictions as to the wheat crop and its effect upon prices, is the belief of one of the best informed crop experts and market students. There have been scattered rains, bringing some relief over the southwest and northwest and he believes that April is not always a safe period to make a forecast as to what harvest will be. Speculators were more bearish at the close, with the privilege trade about evenly divided. There has been a decline of 11c from the high point of last week, which corrects the technical position. Should rains become more general and heavier all over the northwest and southwest, traders are looking for a further decline.

Corn has had a drop of 6c in a week from the high point. For several days May corn has been difficult to buy without advancing prices, while July has been under pressure. Spreaders have been buying May and selling July but there is not the snap to the trade that was so pronounced recently.

Spreading operations in the way of buying May rye and selling corn is furnishing a good part of the trading in rye. Liquidation continues in a liberal way, but specialists fail to see much new buying.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter was in better demand and prices ¼c higher. Fresh eggs were steady. Live poultry brought former prices. Receipts 11 cars by freight. Weather was unfavorable for trading in potatoes and prices were steady. Receipts 86 cars with 350 cars on team track.

Unobstructed Daylight at 201 N. WELLS

the New Kind of Office Building

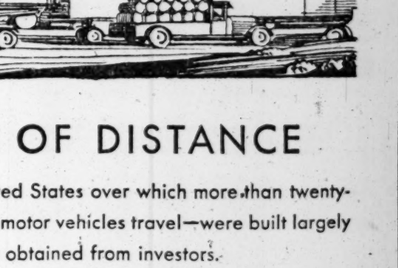
At 201 N. Wells you are close to Chicago's commercial centers. You have fast transportation at your door to all parts of the city and suburbs. Hotels and railroad stations are nearby. But 201 N. Wells gives you far more than this. Here, also, you have the comfort and convenience of such modern features as the Skyline Restaurant, Club Lounge and private conference rooms. And you have roomy offices flooded with unobstructed daylight. 201 N. Wells is an international address. Nineteen foreign consuls, seven prominent trade associations and leading importing and exporting houses have chosen it for their headquarters because it is in the heart of the new trading section northwest of the loop that is fast becoming the midwest center of foreign and domestic commerce.



HIGH SPEED OTIS ELEVATORS

An elevator is waiting when you enter 201 N. Wells. The service—up or down—is almost personal in its promptness.

Clocks corrected from the Naval Radio Station at Arlington and a fountain with circulating refrigerated spring water will be installed in your office upon request.

COOPERATION WITH SALES REPRESENTATIVES

COMPREHENSIVE and dependable information is the basis of intelligent and successful investing.

In recognition of this fact, it is the policy of Lawrence Stern and Company to place the greatest emphasis on statistical, analytical and research facilities, and we have devoted special attention to the development of a competent and trained advisory personnel in that department.

ONE of the most important functions of the Research Department of this company consists of direct cooperation with our sales representatives in serving their clients.

Therefore, when a sales representative of Lawrence Stern and Company calls to see you, he places at your service all the facilities of an experienced research organization, trained to supply investment counsel from a scientific and impartial standpoint.

Any of the services maintained by our Research Department are available to you through our salesmen. Among these services are analyses of your investment holdings—reports on any securities which you may be considering for purchase—formation of a well balanced individual investment program—and adjustment of your holdings with regard to taxation.

We believe that—with the cooperation of our Research Department—the sales representatives of this company are equipped to render an investment service which is of real and definite value.

THIS is one of a series of advertisements describing in detail the functions of the Research Department of Lawrence Stern and Company.

The services of this department are offered to any investor without obligation, but with the frank expectation that, if we are successful in serving the investor well, we will receive consideration when he purchases securities.

LEVELING THE BARRIERS OF DISTANCE

ON wheels and on wings, over highways of steel or concrete and via airways, moves a vast phalanx of transportation—representing about sixty billion dollars of investment. The mobility of man and merchandise—once measured by the range of a horse and wagon—is now limited only to the capacity of steam, gasoline and electric vehicles.

The extent of this remarkable achievement is due not only to the abundance of inventive, engineering and directing ability available, but also to the wise use of the nation's financial resources. America's 249,000 miles of railroads with their costly equipment could not have been provided but for the twenty-five billion dollars which the public has invested in them. Likewise, the more than 40,000 miles of surface, subway and elevated electric lines—and the 660,000 miles of surfaced rural highways in the United States over which more than twenty-six million motor vehicles travel—were built largely with funds obtained from investors.

Thus the rewards of sound investment in constructive enterprises are far broader than the steady returns of interest or dividends. The whole social and commercial structure upon which all depend is constantly extended and stabilized by the pooling of investment funds.

In the building of highways and the financing of steam and electric transportation, the investment banking facilities of this house have served both borrowers and investors for many years. A list of typical companies engaged in transportation which Halsey, Stuart & Co. has served in this way, is contained in our booklet, Choosing Your Investment House. A copy will be mailed on request.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: 6,500 cattle, 12,000 hogs, 15,000 sheep.

With the exception of a few specialties bought for fancy Easter trade all classes of live stock were forced to lower price levels again yesterday. Hogs recovered some of the 10@15c loss recorded at the opening, but averaged 10¢ lower at $9.95.

This was the lowest average since April 3 and compares with $10.35 early last week. The lowest average since middle of last January is $9.75, established on March 31. The extreme top moved down 15c at $10.35, equaling the lowest top since Jan. 22.

Shipping orders were comparatively small, due to a sharp break in lightweights at eastern points, but with most local interests on the market early again only 5,000 remained in the pens at the close, the high point of the day. Five western markets expect 54,000 hogs today, against 64,000 last Wednesday. The advance estimate of a 10,000 decrease in supplies for today accelerated buying on local account late in the day.

Today's Light, $10.50.

Light hogs for today's delivery sold on the "to arrive" market at $10.50 yesterday, 5c above the previous day. Three carloads of April light at $10.50 at the close also showed the advance, being highest for April light since Tuesday of last week.

Many offers and bids were 15c apart at $10.65 and $10.50, respectively. September light were bid $10.35 and offered at $10.45. Buyers were bearish on May and June heavies, although bids below $10.00 were plentiful.

Additional price cuts in the cattle market carried the top and bulk of sales to the lowest level in recent weeks. The extreme top at $13.50 was lowest for Tuesday since June, 1927. Few steers were good enough to pass $12.60, buyers taking most of them at $10.50@11.75. Good 1,199 lb averages sold at $13.50 and 1,170 lb averages at $12.50.

A load of heifers of outstanding quality averaging 635 lbs sold at $13.50. Most cows and heifers, however, shared in the full decline, showing losses of 25@50c in two days. Calves were in line with Monday's decline. Stockers and feeders were scarce and weak.

Spring Lambs, $18.00.

Fancy native spring lambs for Easter holiday festivities sold at $15.00@18.00 again, while other lambs declined 15@25c after a steady to weak opening. Most aged wool lambs brought $9.00@9.50, with shippers taking a few at $9.75, while lambs without fleece sold at $8.00@8.75.

Although the supply of aged sheep is too small to weaken prices, reports that some Texas sheep are coming on the market caused a slight setback in medium and heavy ewes at the finish. Yearlings were scarce and steady. Feeding and shearing lambs sold steady.

HEAR $350,000,000 NEW COPPER COMBINE MAY BE ANNOUNCED

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Formal announcement is expected in Wall street shortly of the merger of the Phelps Dodge corporation, Calumet and Arizona Mining company and the Nichols Copper company into a $350,000,000 corporation which will be the third largest copper producer in the world. The new company would rank next to Kennecott Copper corporation and the Anaconda Copper Mining company.

Coincident with reports of the merger today was the announcement that Louis S. Cates has resigned as vice president of the Utah Copper company to accept the presidency of Phelps Dodge, in the proposed new organization he is slated to be an executive officer.

Phelps Dodge officers denied reports that merger with Calumet and Arizona had been completed, but admitted that discussions are under way. Though there was no official confirmation that Nichols, in which the other two companies have financial interest, would be brought into the merger, Wall street expected its inclusion.

Phelps Dodge has assets of more than $242,000,000 and Calumet and Mining about $90,000,000; with Nichols, the new company, would have a production of more than 352,000,000 pounds, about half that of Kennecott. Phelps Dodge, Calumet and Mining and Nichols already jointly control Phelps Dodge Sales corporation, a marketing agency for their products.

R-K-O TAKES OVER MIDWEST THEATER GROUP

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Hiram S. Brown, president of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation, today announced the acquisition of several new theaters in the middle west, giving the chain added seating capacity for about 50,000 persons and knitting the chain together more closely.

The company will shortly offer 200,000 shares of class A stock at $35 a share to help finance acquisitions and provide for new productions. The offering has been underwritten by Lehman Bros. and Bancamerica-Blair corporation.

The most important acquisition announced is the Libson-Heidingsfeld chain in Ohio and Michigan. R-K-O acquires complete control of the E. F. Albee theater in Cincinnati, the B. F. Keith-Albee Palace in Columbus, in which Libson and Heidingsfeld held a minority interest, and a 100 per cent interest in the Capital, Palace, Strand, Lyric, and Family theaters in Cincinnati; the B. F. Keith, Colonial and State, in Dayton; the Majestic, in Columbus, and the Empress and Regent, in Grand Rapids. In Toledo the Rivoli and Palace have been acquired.

The new class A shares will be offered to stockholders in the ratio of one share for each six shares now held. The Radio Corporation of America, through its holdings, will subscribe to more than 100,000 shares.

First Utility Holding Co. in Greece Being Planned

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Formation of the first utility holding company in Greece, to be called the Hellenic company of Greece, is being planned by the European Electric corporation, recently organized to acquire interests in electric power and light companies on the continent. The proposed concern will be formed in conjunction with some of the largest banks in Greece and will have an interest in the present utility serving Athens with electricity.

TARIFF RAISED ON STRAW HATS, LACE, MATCHES

Novelty Jewelry and Cork Duties Also Boosted.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Straw hats, the higher priced fur hats, novelty jewelry, lace and embroidered handkerchiefs, matches, and cork products were assigned higher duties today by the congressional conferees on the tariff bill in grappling with the fifteenth and last rate section of the Hawley Smoot measure.

Reduced tariffs were agreed upon for the cheaper fur hats and unset diamonds, pearls and other precious and semi-precious stones.

The senate increases in duties on narrow laces proved a stumbling block for the adjusters of differences between the two legislative branches and a decision was deferred. Demonstrations against the senate rates, approved on motion of Senator Hebert (Rep., R. I.) have been held in various lace centers of France.

Shoe Duties Next to Be Decided.

The highly controversial hide, leather and shoe duties will face the conferees tomorrow with prospects that the issue will be decided one way or the other without either group going back to the senate or house for instructions. The house bill provides various rates on the three commodities, while the senate returned them all to the free list where they have been for years.

A compromise duty of $3.50 a dozen and 50 per cent was assigned blocked and trimmed straw hats, now dutiable at only 50 per cent; and dewed straws were made dutiable at $4 a dozen and 60 per cent as against 60 per cent at present on values over $9.50 a dozen and 88 per cent on men's straws worth not more than $9.50 a dozen.

Reduction on Cheap Fur Hats.

Fur hats worth not more than $6 a dozen were reduced in rates $1.25 a dozen and 25 per cent. Present duties range from $1.50 to $3 a dozen and 25 per cent. Values between $6 and $9 were made dutiable at $2.50 a dozen and 25 per cent, a reduction of 50 cents a dozen.

Men's silk opera hats, now dutiable at 60 per cent, were increased in rate to $2 each and 75 per cent.

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston, on her way to Paris, meets Geoffrey Macadam in the train to Paris train. Macadam is an Englishman who lives in Paris. Catherine tells him that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is a little apprehensive about the coming visit because she had received just before sailing a letter from Hermione Cushing, who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer, and he tells Catherine that his firm handled Mme. Bender's affairs but he doesn't know the widow very well. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is a little disappointed when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees her into a taxi, giving her his address and telephone number. He tells her that he will be anxious to know how things are at the Bender apartment, and she promises to call him. Arrived at Mme. Bender's apartment, the concierge tells her that madame is very ill. Catherine waits at the door for some time before she is answered. Finally Eduardo, the butler, responds to the ring. She is treated coldly by the servants, and Jeanne, Mme. Bender's maid, suggests that she go to a hotel. Catherine insists on staying in the apartment as she is suspicious of the servants. Jeanne tells her that Mme. Bender attempted to commit suicide the night before. The next day Catherine goes in to see Germaine Bender, who is pathetically glad to see her. She tells Catherine how she had taken poison by mistake and Catherine believes her.

INSTALLMENT XV.

ALTERCATION.

The elder Macadam was a big, powerfully built Scot, who in his forty years exile from his native Edinburgh had never lost his accent, noticeable even in his careful French.

Geoffrey walked to the window and looked down upon the busy traffic of the Rue Auber. Across the way loomed the square, dingy bulk of the Opera, round whose island circled a ceaseless stream of hooting taxis and motor buses, constant menace to the harassed pedestrian. The sun streamed down, spring was in the air.

"Croyez-vous, cher monsieur, l'expression de mes sentiments—and so forth. Get those typed as soon as you can. That will be all now, Miss Darwen."

The secretary gathered up her pads and departed, not without an unobtrusive flicker of the eye towards the junior partner's unconscious back. It was characteristic of the old man that he took note of the glance but paid absolutely no attention to it.

"Well, Geoffrey?" he said, turning over the letters on his desk.

"It's nothing much," replied his son. "Only coming up from Havre on the boat train I met an American—West, her name is—who it seems is some relation of Harry Bender's. I thought you might be interested."

"Going to stay with the widow, is she?" remarked the old lawyer with no evidence of special concern. "What age is she? Responsible woman?"

"No—quite young. Twenty-three, perhaps."

Suddenly self-conscious Geoffrey lit a cigaret, offering his case to his father.

"Must I repeat, dirty pig that you are, that madam is ill?"

"Thanks, not till after lunch. Well, I daresay it will be dull enough for her." He continued to sort the papers massed before him. "Odd never mentioning the Benders, though. While you were away that woman came in again to me. Second or third time in six months."

"What woman?"

"Mme. Bender's maid. Seems to have a good deal of authority."

The younger man made a movement of interest.

"O! What did she come about?"

"A message from her mistress, who apparently sees to nothing for herself these days. Lost the key of her safety deposit box at the bank, and wanted to get a duplicate."

"What did you do about it?"

"Communicated with the bank. Told her, of course, that it would be necessary to have a written order, signed by Mme. Bender. However, she knew all about that, and produced the paper properly signed. Thoroughly business-like."

Geoffrey frowned suddenly. Had not Miss Cushing, at his one memorable interview with her, made some obscure reference to the contents of the safety-deposit? He was sure he recalled something of the sort.

"What do you suppose Mme. Bender keeps at the bank?" he inquired.

"Jewels, I should say. You know she seldom wore any, though Bender must have given her some valuable ones."

"Did this maid happen to speak of her mistress' health? Her mental condition, I mean." You know I mentioned it to you some time ago."

"Did you? I forgot. In any case nothing was said about it the other day. I gather that she's merely confined to the apartment. She can sign her name, at all events. Why do you ask? Nothing wrong, is there?"—and he glanced up keenly.

His son paused on the threshold.

"I don't know that there is. I happened to hear what she is regarded as rather—well, erratic."

"Always was," murmured his father. "Nothing new about that."

"By the way," remarked the young man, pausing in his exit, "you might tell Elspeth I'm dining out."

Elspeth was his married sister, who lived at Fontainbleau, but who at the moment was staying with his father and himself at their flat in the Rue d'Assas. Father and son maintained a bachelor existence they liked to feel was all-sufficient, yet both were quick to fall into consulting and relying upon Elspeth during her brief visits to their menage.

At a little before eight that evening Geoffrey drove his Citroen over the Pont de la Concorde, along the Cour la Reine and so past the Place Iena and the Place du Trocadero to the Avenue Henri Martin. He was conscious of a vivid elation, yet in proportion as this sensation soared within him he felt himself growing each moment stiffer and more awkward. Why, he asked angrily, should anticipation exert so petrifying an effect upon his powers of speech and movement? With his whole soul he envied the easy, expansive youths of his generation their readiness to pay compliments and to take small liberties without giving offense. Never could he hope to be one of these lucky beings. He was far removed from a prig, nor did he cherish any footling illusions about womenfolk. Except for those at school and university days he had spent his life in Paris, a city which does not foster illusions of any kind. No, it was not from ignorance nor prudery if he froze at a glance the exceedingly desirable girl he was hastening to meet. It was some despised quality handed down to him through long line of Scottish forbears, as inseparable from their fiber as the heather from their hills. He could as easily cut off his right arm as to rid himself of its restraint.

It might have soothed his ire to know that this adamantine exterior and the entresol he became at once aware of angry voices, a man's and a woman's, engaged in turbulent altercation. The sounds came from the direction of the Bender apartment, and as he turned the corner he saw the door of that apartment, and as he turned the corner he saw the door of that apartment, and as he turned the corner he saw the door of that

Japanese Girl Thanks Americans for Aid to Earthquake Victims

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Ancient Japanese costumes mingled incongruously today with the twentieth century fittings of a radio studio as Miss Kimi Ashino, leader of the four girls who came to Washington to bring thanks for American aid to Japan in the 1923 earthquake, uttered into a microphone her nation's appreciation.

The Japanese girl's "Thank You" speech was carried from one end of this country to the other over a Columbia network, shortly after she and her three companions, dressed in native costume, had paid formal respect to President Hoover.

"Babies fed on American milk powder and condensed milk the year of this disaster," she said, "are now old enough to attend school this year. Still our memory of the gratitude toward our benefactors is as fresh as ever."

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Bearded irises are the best known of the garden sorts. They are plants of varying stature and size, but all are characterized by stout rhizomes, more or less evergreen foliage, and for the most part brilliant flowers in many shades, each flower bearing a linear beard of various colors, though commonly yellow.

The bearded sorts are of easy culture, if certain fundamentals are observed. All of them prefer shallow planting in sunny, well drained locations in a deep well-worked soil. If planted in connection with other plants they should be arranged so that their surface roots are not overshaded by foliage, especially in the late summer when the rhizomes are being ripened for the next season's flowering.

Nearly all varieties multiply rapidly in clumps which maintain themselves in fair condition almost indefinitely. For the best results, however, the clumps should be lifted, divided, and reset every fourth year with an adequate remaking of the soil in the border. This operation should be carried out immediately after the blooming season, but may be delayed until the early autumn in regions where there is a sharp drop in midsummer it may be wise to wait until this has passed, unless water can be given to counteract the season and to stimulate root action.

To obtain varieties true to name these irises must always be propagated by division of the roots. They are sometimes produced naturally but can be obtained with some certainty by hand pollination. The practice in planting the seeds varies somewhat, according to R. Y. Morrison of the U. S. department of agriculture. He prefers immediate planting, but others prefer later planting as they have most satisfactory results. The chief possible danger of delay is from excessive drying of the hard seed which delays but does not prevent germination.

Country Life Beckoning to Society Group

BY THALIA

The town dwellers who have country places in Barrington are all enthusiasts for country life. All winter long and through the early spring most of them have been spending week-ends at their places. In a few weeks they will go out to stay permanently through the summer. The Barrington Hills Golf club is open, and the greens are in perfect condition. The Garden club has been holding meetings since February and convenes every two weeks for programs and plans for summer activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Snipps, the Frank Whitings, the James Cardwells, and the Marvin Miners jr., who had some memorable skiing parties during the winter, all will be moving out in late May or early June. The H. Gilson Harts will be missing from the community this season, as they are visiting in Europe. Mr. Hart went over to join them a week or so ago. The youngest of the Harts' three daughters, Pauline, has been in school at Lausanne, and her mother and Elizabeth have been staying at various places in Switzerland and traveling about during the winter. The Harts' married daughter and son-in-law, the Dennis Lee Harmons, live in Zurich, Switzerland.

Of the all year round Barrington-ians, there are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Van Hagen jr., who are just back recently from a long stay in Florida; the Evan Evanses, and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Shroyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Clark Knight of 1120 Hinman avenue, Evanston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to George Slight of Chicago.

The Chicago Woman's club announces a formal dinner to be given at the clubhouse on next Monday evening for Gov. Louis L. Emmerson and Mrs. Emmerson. Mrs. Henry Hoyt Hilton, president of the club, is to preside. The program will include some community singing and a brief address by Gov. Emmerson on "The Women of Today." Judge Mary Bartelme, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sunny, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Sanborn, and Mrs. Andrew MacLeish will be at the speakers' table.

The Romany club is to hold its annual party at the Opera club on Friday evening, April 25. Many of the members and their guests are to wear gypsy costume, and the entertainment is to be truly Romany also. Among those who have reserved tables are Mrs. Archibald Freer, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fisher, Van Wagenen Alling, and Mrs. Charles Kohl. Mrs. Edward Metcalf Fisher is to give a talk on "Embroidering" at the Romany club this evening.

The committee for Madonna Center benefit dinner-dance to take place at the Hotel Stevens on Saturday evening, May 3, includes Mrs. Lester Armour, Miss Mary Agnes Amberg, Mrs. David F. Bremner, Mrs. Joseph Cosmin, Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy, Mrs. Frank M. Gordon, Mrs. Edward Hurley jr., Mrs. Allen B. Ripley, and Miss Marie Plamondon.

The publicity committee for the Infant Welfare society's annual baby week, to begin on April 27 this year, met at luncheon at the Fortnightly yesterday. The speakers included Mrs. Eugene J. Talbot, president of the women's auxiliary; Miss Sara Place, superintendent of nurses, and Miss Jeanette Townsend, extension secretary.

The Northwestern university annual senior ball will be held this evening at the Evanston Country club. The grand march will be led by Miss Virginia Berggren, senior social chairman, with John Mitchell, and Miss Mary Blanche Little with Edwin Lenox. The other classes of the university have been invited to attend.

The Chauncey McCormicks are among the latest Chicago arrivals at Virginia Hot Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Wolf of 209 Lake Shore drive are also at the Springs, where Mrs. Wolf's daughter, Miss Ghita Watson, is spending her spring vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Payne Kellogg, who have been living in the Clarence Mitchell house in Lake Forest, are moving on May 1 to Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney's place on Laurel avenue.

The DeForest Hulburds of Lake Forest have returned from a trip to Florida.

Mrs. Charles N. Strotz and Mrs. Carl Hubert Feld who have been at the Ambassador hotel for the last four months, have returned to their place, Swann's Point Plantation at Spring Grove in Surrey county, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Thompson are at Los Angeles until next week.

SHE'S BRIDE OF OHIOAN

[Du Bois Photo.]

The marriage of Miss May Barr, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Richard J. Barr of Joliet, to Robert Patterson Jr. of Dayton, O., took place last Saturday at Christ Episcopal church. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Barr residence.

Ex-Wife of "Baking Powder King's" Son Weds Liner's Officer

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENOA, Italy, April 15.—Mrs. Agnes Aurelia Church, former New York telephone girl and former wife of Francois Louis Church, son of the "baking powder king," appeared here today with a new husband. His name is Smith, and he is the former third officer of the Leviathan. She admits she married him in Singapore a month ago.

That is all of the particulars Mrs. Smith wants to give out, and furthermore, she says she doesn't want to be bothered by any one, for they have a "two weeks' honeymoon to spend on the Riviera, which attracted Mrs. Smith so much that she and her new husband abandoned their round the world cruise on the President Fillmore when it reached Genoa today.

"But can't you say more about who your new husband is—his full name, for instance?" she was asked.

"No, nothing more than to say that Smith is his name, and that is enough," said the former Mrs. Church, who secured a divorce at Reno and a $50,000 settlement last Nov. 25.

The new husband, Mr. Smith, could not be interviewed, and his wife refused to tell of his whereabouts after leaving the ship. She visited an American banking and travel concern and arranged several money matters, asking all transactions be made in her former name Church.

If Diamond Is Antique, Duty Free; Worth Fortune

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Whether the 75-carat Nassak diamond, which once was the Cyclopean eye of the goddess Shiva in an Indian temple, is "artistic" or just an "antiquity" is to be decided by the United States court of Customs and Patent Appeals.

Attorneys argued the artistic qualities of the Nassak before the Customs and Patents Appeals court today, exhibiting the shallow triangular stone to the judges and spectators. A decision is not expected for 30 days.

When G. Mauboussin of Paris imported his diamond into the United States in 1927 he contended it came under a congressional tariff ruling which provided for the free entry of "artistic antiquities" more than 100 years old.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Informal teas at which plans are being discussed for the numerous parties to be given for charity during the post-Easter time constitute practically all the entertaining society is sponsoring during Holy Week. This afternoon Mrs. Edward F. Hutton had as guests a group of women interested in the charity carnival.

Lafayette's Alumni Meet Tomorrow at the Allerton House

Alumni of Lafayette college, Easton, Pa., resident in Chicago and vicinity will hold their annual reunion dinner in the Allerton house, at 7 p. m., Thursday evening. President Dr. William Mather Lewis, formerly of Lake Forest, will be the principal speaker.

In 1932 the college will observe the one hundredth anniversary of its opening. The Alumni college at Lafayette will be expanded this year, under a grant of funds from the Carnegie corporation. In addition to the regular faculty members, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Noble prize winner, will lecture at the Alumni college this year.

Harrison Tech. Obtains Trophy for Bands' Contest

A shield trophy was presented to the 84 members of the Harrison Technical High school band during exercises held at the school yesterday in recognition of the band's recent victory in the west side public high school band contest. The band won the preliminary contest from six other west side schools and will compete in the finals tomorrow evening at Crane Technical High school.

The trophy was presented by Capt. John H. Barabash, band director, and was received by Cadet Major Benjamin Tichy. The band association of the board of education is sponsoring the contest.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, sister of and hostess of Vice President Curtis, was the guest of honor at luncheon today of Mrs. Henry J. Allen, wife of a senator from Kansas, at the Mayflower. Among the other guests were many members of the D. A. R. from Kansas.

Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick and Mrs. Longworth, wife of the speaker of the house, were the guests of honor at the weekly luncheon of the Woman's National Press club, at the Willard. After the luncheon Representative McCormick gave a short talk on the way she won the Illinois nomination for the senate. Mrs. Longworth stood up and greeted the company but did not make a speech.

The club's president, Miss Ruth E. Jones, made the explanation that Mrs. Longworth said she "Could talk but not speak." Among the distinguished guests who were asked to "stand up and be greeted" was Mrs. James R. Mann, widow of a former representative from Chicago.

Albert Blake Dewey Jr. of Chicago arrived today to join his parents who have been at the Mayflower for some weeks after spending the winter in Florida. Mrs. Dewey jr. and the baby who are still in Florida will join the family shortly.

Art Braves Bad Weather as Shows Open

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

In spite of yesterday's bad weather several galleries had the temerity to open new exhibitions. At the Knoedler galleries those who braved the wind and rain were invited to inspect paintings by Eustace Stoenesco, a name unfamiliar to Chicago ears. The Walden Book Shop, 311 Plymouth court, put on view a charming and whimsical group of water colors and etchings by Morris Topchevsky.

The All-Illinois Society of the Fine arts in the Revell gallery is sponsoring a three man show of work by Benjamin J. Beck, John McDonnel and Charles Minghi. One of these men, John McDonnel, is a physician as well as an artist and is a member of the Palette and Chisel club. His "Pirate" painting of last winter is still remembered as one of the informal canvases at the Stevens hotel show of the All-Illinois.

An exhibition of spring landscapes by the Japanese master, Hiroshige, opened yesterday in the Hutchinson Wing galleries of the Art institute and will remain on the walls through the month of June. The prints have been chosen with the greatest discrimination from the Clarence Buckingham collection. They are charming in color and theme.

An exhibition of contemporary Belgian art will open at the Art institute the first of May. There will be about one hundred paintings and thirty pieces of sculpture and a number of etchings, at which contemporary Belgians are superlatively successful, in the exhibit.

A backwash from the comment of my last reception at the Chester Johnson galleries [which, to be honest, is usually one of the most friendly galleries in town to visit] came in the mail from an ardent sponsor of modernism who judged that Chester Johnson had at last found me out and was serving me according to the deserts merited by one not enthusiastically pro-modernism. Tut! Tut! Personalities should always be avoided.

The last word from Mr. Johnson is that he has just returned home with a great collection of contemporary paintings and they will make up his spring show, one that in all probability will be most interesting if not edifying. The modernists have a great way of keeping a trick or two up their sleeve and playing it to the stupefaction of hidebound academic critics.

SHE COOKS

PRINCESS JULIANA.
[From a drawing by Deutmann of The Hague.]

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, April 15.—Whoever marries Crown Princess Juliana of The Netherlands will be a lucky man, for he will get a first rate cook as well as a queen. This country was pleased today to learn that after finishing her studies at Leyden university she immediately had set out to learn the simpler attributes of a thrifty Dutch housewife. She was so successful that the entire royal family was regaled by an excellent meal cooked by her.

One of the best Dutch woman teachers had tutored her on roasts, pastries, and sauces, as directed by Queen Wilhelmina. After lessons for six weeks in Dutch cooking, with some extra curricula work on French dishes, Juliana stood at the kitchen stove and prepared a feast for the royal family.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Page of 1209 Astor street announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances, to Ralph Sebring Clark of Kalamazoo, Mich. The wedding will take place in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schifflin of Milwaukee, Wis., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion, to Claiborne Charles Van Zandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Van Zandt of Denver, Colo., formerly of River Forest.

Easter Parade to Resemble Former Glories

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

This year's Easter fashion parade, just four days away, is to be no ordinary one. It will be, in fact, a triumph of the recent inauguration of the fashion of being feminine. With standardized women's styles of the last five years, straight, matter-of-fact lines and a general austerity definitely passé, the Easter parade again should be the festive affair that it used to be many years ago.

True, many of the girls and women who glance up coquettishly from drooping brimmed hats and look as fragile as the fainting ladies of Scott's novels in their ruffly chiffon flowered dresses, with coats lined with the same chiffon, will have paid for those feminine garments with money they earned.

No longer, it appears, do they want to tell the world that they are "independent"; they want to feign the graces and the arts of the pre-breadwinning age of woman.

That is why "the lingerie touch," which means little pleats or ruffles or pipings of pique, organdie, embroidered linen and batiste, are so much in demand on spring dresses, fashion experts said. Another symptom of the vogue for the ingenuous and charming, instead of the sophisticated, is the spring mania for flowers.

Flowers of starched linen, of pique, or pique silk, as well as white violets or orchids, bloom on suit lapels, on afternoon, street and evening dresses, as well as on hats. One bolero dress of smart black sheer wool had a white vest on which a black flower pot was appliqued. In it bloomed a white carnation which was, strangely enough, biologically speaking, on a black stem.

As for hats, some of them are large and floppy, with velvet bows or organdie rosettes or flowers at one side of the brim. There were even black cherries dangling from a few brims, and one hat sold for $35 apparently for no other reason than a bunch of blue cornflowers and red poppies over a prospective ear.

On the other hand, some of the smartest Easter bonnets will be small. A felt crown and a tricorn brim of Cellaphane straw was seen in one store and a semi-formal afternoon hat of straw and lace was small.

The week-end dress is a strictly new spring creation. It consists of, for instance, a pink flat crêpe dress, scallops decorating the blouse; a navy blue flat crêpe belted jacket and a wrap-around skirt of navy. For motoring or traveling, one wears the whole affair, then peels off the outer skirt for a sports costume, then the jacket for afternoon wear. A Chanel suit with a plaid chiffon blouse, scarf and girdle, and emerald wool crêpe skirt and coat, is another of the newest styles.

For sports wear lisle stockings of pastel shades are being shown in most of the shades of Easter eggs. Pink, blue, green and mauve fabric gloves for afternoon are among the spring showings in loop stores.

China Bars Film.

NANKING, April 15.—(AP)—The Nationalist government's administrative counsel tonight issued instructions to all provincial governments forbidding the showing of Harold Lloyd's film play, "Welcome Danger." This establishes a China-wide prohibition against the picture, which Chinese assert is derogatory to their people.

On the Wrong Feet.

Several weeks ago I purchased a new pair of shoes and the following day wore them to work. They did not feel at all like the ones I had tried on at the shoe store, so that noon I went in, found the same clerk and told him what I thought of the place. He looked at my feet and then said, "I'm sorry, madam, but you have the shoes on the wrong feet. Won't you let me change them and I'm sure they'll be all right."

Needless to say I sat there with burning cheeks while he was performing this service. M. S.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Five year old Genie, when being corrected for being cross, made the excuse that she was "nervous." After telling her I did not think she knew what it meant to be nervous she replied, "I surely do. It's being 'provoked' at everything." W. N. R.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

The shirring and curving up at the front of the bodice of this lovely dress give a decidedly slenderizing effect, and the clever manner in which the skirt fits and hangs is interesting. It fits beautifully about the hips, falling in graceful folds at either side. The V neck is filled in by a vestee of a contrasting color and the long sleeves are gathered at the wrists into narrow, fitted bands. Aquamarine blue silk crêpe, flowered chiffon, and one of the printed silk crêpes are chic suggestions.

The pattern, 3371, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material with ¼ yard of 10 inch contrasting.

Organ for Small Church.

"I have an 18 stop organ which is no longer being used. It is in good condition with the exception of one key which could be easily repaired. The organ would be suitable for some small church. C. S."

The community of moderate circumstances whose church does not boast an organ would do well to take advantage of this generous offer. It is a good organ and in excellent condition. Write me, if you can make use of it; please do not telephone.

Salaried Married Women Expensive?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Mrs. Frances Perkins Day, state industrial commissioner, in recently addressing a meeting of Brooklyn clubs and civic organizations, declared that any married woman who earns less than $3,500 a year outside her home is an economic failure. She has no place in the business world. She spends that much or more on unnecessary household expenses arising out of her absence from the home.

While Mrs. Day's statement is open to argument, it gives voice to a suggestion made awhile ago by a long-time observer on the subject of the married woman worker. This man, a lawyer, expressed the belief that if certain married women workers would sit down at the end of their first year's marriage and figure out coldbloodedly without prejudice or accusation exactly what the cost of a woman's job may be, they would be surprised to find that the type of married woman worker referred to was not a financial help but a marked expense.

He had a rough statement from a young couple who did this very thing and who were willing to expose their findings. The girl had a job that paid $35 a week. The young man's income averaged from $60 to $65 a week. With this double salary assurance they naturally took an apartment in keeping with the combined incomes. Their furniture, subscribed for on the installment basis, was fitting the apartment. A part time maid was engaged to prepare dinner and clean up the house. With the feeling of substantial backing, the two invested in pretty complete wardrobes.

Their initial debts were sufficient burden for the two salaries. But the girl, again with the assurance of the good double income back of her, started eating luncheons at better [meaning more expensive] restaurants, of entertaining a guest or guests for luncheon, of agreeing to take in the Saturday matinees with a couple of girl friends who were content only with the best orchestra seats.

Manicures, waves were more frequent because of the better personal upkeep that seemed to be required of the working bride. Because it was the custom about her place of employment to exchange Christmas presents, the girl felt impelled that particular year to spend more on each gift.

Clothes wore out quickly and had to be replaced with—well, better dresses could be afforded now with the combined incomes. So it went. The girl's spending status was lifted to the combined income figure. The end of one year totaled her up another extravagance for the husband to maintain.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Roast Lamb.

If we can learn a pretty deliberateness about our cooking, ah, then, life is something else again. Rush is fatal to the preparation of good food and should only be tolerated in the case of an emergency. Nevertheless, deliberateness can and must be learned. Suppose we are getting a dinner of which a roast of lamb is to be the pièce de résistance. First, let us have the salad greens drying and crisping, our dessert prepared and waiting before we start to roast the meat, if we wish to do it with lovely deliberateness. In this case there will be only the vegetables to prepare if we are getting a meal without soup.

Trim the leg of lamb, which has been cut down, so that you have a solid piece weighing a little over four pounds. Presumably you have superintended the butcher's cutting down or trimming and have taken home the shank bone. It is yours and useful. When you begin to work, if he has left on any parchmentlike skin you will have to remove that. Wipe the remaining surface with a new piece of scalded cheesecloth, place the meat on a rack in the pan, the inside of the leg up. If it is good quality meat, you can depend on the fat, which will be over the top, to try out and baste the whole.

Have the oven 500 degrees hot and put the prepared meat into it. This does not mean that it is in a covered roaster, which would keep away that extreme heat from the meat for a time. If you have not an excellent control, watch the meat for the first half hour, keeping the oven at 500 degrees. At the end of that time lower the heat rapidly and finish the cooking in a 300 degree oven. Continue the cooking at that temperature, allowing from first to last one-half hour for each pound of meat. Half an hour before taking the meat from the oven sprinkle all over the surface two teaspoons, or perhaps three, of salt and dip up the fat in the pan over it to baste it well. Two bastings with the fat in the pan always may be made earlier, but the surface fats on good quality leg of lamb will cook in such a way as to baste it practically all the time.

If this leg of lamb had been cut down to a four pound roast, it will need to be cooked for two hours or more. Starting at the 500 degrees for half an hour and then continuing the cooking for the rest of the time at 300 degrees, this piece of meat will be wonderfully juicy, and if cut across the middle will yield a wonderful dish of gravy.

Milady Mixes Her Scotch and Irish

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS — [Special Correspondence.]—The Paris mode has acquired a taste for mixed drinks. Cocktails banished from America have emigrated to European bars, and their versatile blends have influenced fashionable fabrics, so that this spring we find few straight ensembles. Paris likes her sports costumes 'alf-and-'alf, and a dash of Scotch plaid gives zest to many a neat jersey.

This Parision zeal for sartorial mixing proves a boon to the woman who must be smart on limited income. It allows her to utilize that piece of pretty print, so that the length of material she picked up at a sale may be stretched to meet the requirements of the lower hemline. Not to mention the possibilities of rejuvenation it offers to the last season's ensemble whose coat perhaps is perfectly good, though the skirt be brief, or whose blouse is worn a bit at the elbows, while the skirt retains its pristine freshness.

Premet mixes Scotch stability with Irish wit in this sports ensemble that is as feminine as it is practical. The new Irish green woolen is used for the skirt, the little cape and the lower sleeves and peplum of the "half-and-half" fitted tunic. The upper blouse is Scotch plaid, red, green, and black jersey, as is the cravate-collar of the separate capelet.

Petal edged gores lend a comfortable flare to skirt and cape, and fit the tunic into the curve of the high waist line. Tartan enameled buttons really button up the front and ornament the lower sleeves. The handbag of Irish green woolen like the costume, mounted on a tartan enameled fermoir and with one plaid button, follows the new satchel shape that so comfortably replaces the small boy's pocket for sportive Parisiennes. The very modern beret is of Irish green woolen draped halowise to frame the face and is coquettishly bedecked with a couple of Scotch bows.

Spare Tire Around Mid Ribs Needs Quick Removal

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The season surely is a refined waistline one. If you have a little or a big spare tire hanging around your midribs you might as well go into retreat until the dress designers think up another for us. Or else get busy on the midsection. It's a terrible strain on the sensibilities of a lady to get the dress buckle locked only to find a "spare" above and below the belt.

However, I recommend trying the tight belt, just to show what's wrong with the figure. I don't know any other way you can discover the plain fat truth so well.

A revival, at this moment, is being indulged in by women who already have learned about their waistlines from the belting they gave them. The revival rites are largely exercise. Dieting has been reduced to a milder form of attack, although it is carried on, necessarily. But a great many women have discovered that to get rid of the "spare" it takes more than a food reduction. They can diet off five, ten, twelve, or so pounds, but the waist doesn't look anything like a tennis playing deb daughter's.

So they have gone in for stretching and bending. And reports are most encouraging. The "spares" are dis appearing at the rate of a tire a day. There's a bathing suit season ahead when the fifty dollar corset is not going to be much good. So women are stretching, throwing their hands high overhead, walking on their toes and stretching, stretching up and further up.

They're stretching before they get out of bed in the a. m. They stretch during business hours when they can sneak a minute or two without the too obvious hand raising over head. And they're bending and bending at the waist, straight kneed.

Contentment with Present State Is Ideal Condition

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

We went into a small cigar and stationery store to buy a ball the other day, and the little foreign storekeeper, whom we hadn't seen for a long time, said: "How beeg! Don't you like to see them grow so beeg—so fine and tall?"

And I thought to myself as her eyes shone, "It is fine to see them grow so big—but do we all feel as exactly right about it as that?"

Those of us who enjoy our babies hate in one way to see them grow so fast—we know that just these sweet days of their babyhood and these fascinating doings of their small childhood can never happen again.

We often talk to our children about "when you were a little baby"—a story which never loses its fascination for them. "When you were 3" or "when you were 4," brings back all sorts of funny, engaging happenings to them as well as to us. Some of us are inclined to make these times so glamorous that the present pales by comparison.

Of course, it's beautiful for children to realize how happy they have always been, and how we've always loved them. But we mustn't dwell on that too much. We must value equally their present and also the richness of life that their future holds.

Fathers are the ones who are more apt to look forward, I think—to college or a partnership in business. Mothers are more apt to look longingly backward to baby days. It is natural for all of us to do some of each. But if there must be emphasis, let it be on the present. That is the great reality, but it is something that we don't all sense. If we could only live each day fully our children would, too.

AAAA

MEN

A salary will be paid to ten men of good character and established habits of industry while learning our business. Must be well dressed and have some selling experience of the high type. Experience in our line is not essential, as we train each man thoroughly.

This concern is the largest of its kind established in Chicago over 40 years. Rated AAA-1 and growing rapidly. The connection will offer permanency. If it is not a get rich quick scheme. One can start on a small salary. First year's earnings averaged by men who have been with us over three years exceed as much as $10,000.

The product is a staple necessity, not real estate, vacuum cleaners, books, or stock. This is the first time in 5 years we have advertised for salesmen. It involves a definite method of procedure. Names of prospects will be supplied you, and literature precedes your actual selling. Hence success is built upon the hearty reception of our business, and the fact that customers supply many leads and recommend us to their friends. Our men rapidly establish clientele, running into security of "solid turkey" work, essential to some extent in the beginning.

For complete details call in person at 10 A. M. or 2 P. M. sharp, Wednesday, Morrison Hotel. Ask for G. M. Perry.

A SELLER

If you have two popular priced necessities that you could offer to thousands of families who are now elsewhere, and were permitted to take offers for these noncompetitive values at terms of a dollar down and a dollar a week so you feel you could get your share of business on such an unusual basis?

Just one order a day, with a dollar deposit (and you can write more) at 65c a week here equals $50 a week here steadily, and we get you into the house.

This extraordinary opportunity extended to a few sincere men of good character and ordinary selling ability by one of the world's largest manufacturers of a most important product. 11TH FLR., 23 E. JACKSON-BLVD.

A STRAIGHT SALARY PLUS COMMISSION will be paid a few city salesmen. Applicant must be honest, energetic, and willing to work hard and follow instructions. Position permanent. No exp. necessary.

FRANK DE LUGACH R. E. CO., Not Inc. 30 Floor, Ga. Bldg., 10 S. La Salle.

A REAL PROPOSITION

for men interested in radios; new merchandising plan offers opportunity to make exceptional earnings and unlimited future. Apply 8300 to 1 Jackson-blvd.

13045 LAWRENCE-AV.

A MAN WITH CAR

needed for important sales position; no comp. Call at factory 3729 Belmont.

ADV. SALESMAN—2, THAT CAN QUALIFY, will work on salary and commission; give phone. Address X 7500, Tribune.

AN OPPORTUNITY for permanent positions with large, successful sales organization; will have openings this week for:

2 salesmen without experience.

All applicants must be over 25, clean cut, well dressed, well mannered and able to furnish character references on request; no traveling; nothing to buy. If you can sell you can earn $75 weekly; satisfactory arrangements can be arranged so that you can start with us at once. For personal interview, appointment call MR. W. L. HANNAGA, Suite 1520-1530 Morrison hotel.

AT ONCE.

Three intelligent, neat appearing men who desire a permanent connection with a national organization; must be willing to work hard; no investment; salary to start; this means about $40 a week to start. If you mean business, apply Employment Manager, room 1403, 100 N. La Salle-st.

A REAL PLACE TO WORK.

A few earnest, sincere men will be given training for our sales force. Our prominent organization will stand strictly investigation. A married gentleman over 30 preferred. Apply by letter only, phone number. Address F Y 449, Tribune.

AT ONCE,

Four men, work in Chicago and vicinity; neat appearing; over 21; married preferred; must be satisfied to earn $40 a week to start. Apply 9 to 12, 21 N. Franklin.

ATTENTION.

We need 5 young men who can sell and who can live on $50 per week while learning; permanent; a splendid future; not real estate, stocks or bonds. Apply Room 602, 20 E. Jackson.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 610 SEDAN. This is a light six 5 pass. car driven but very little, and cannot be told from new in any respect. All latest features, 4 wheel brakes; many extras; guaranteed. Price $475.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 619 SEDAN, 1929. Presents new car appearance; thoroughly reconditioned; guaranteed; has almost new tires, cowl lights, 4 speed transmission, 4 wheel brakes, other features. Price, $575.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 611 SEDAN, 1928. Exceptionally clean, 1,000 mechanically; almost new tires, many extras; has 4 speed transmission, 4 whl. brakes; brilliant performer; economical; guaranteed; $675.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 629 SEDAN, 1928. We have thoroughly gone over this car mechanically and it is 100% through and through. Appearance perfect. Painted attractive shade of green; 6 disc wheels and tires, spotlight, etc. 4 speed transmission, 4 wheel brakes; guaranteed. Price, $875.

PAIGE 8 CYLINDER BARGAIN. Here's $3,000 closed car transportation for way less than $1,000. It's a 5 passenger sedan, famous 8-85 series, and painted in what the color experts say is the most popular of all colors—Arizona brown. Offers you Paige smoothness, clocklike dependability, 4 speed traffic advantages, 4 wheel brakes, tires almost new. $575.

PAIGE 6-72 5 PASS. SEDAN, 4 DOOR. Traded by original owner; used very carefully; paint and general condition practically as good as new; 4 wheel brakes, other features guaranteed. Price, $775.

BUICK MASTER 6 4 DR. SEDAN. As this car was one of several cars in the service of the former owner, it received practically no mileage. The condition of the upholstery would lead you to believe the car had never been driven. Finished in gold and light tan and as good as this one anywhere else, it would be held for at least $900. $575.

We Need 50 Small Cars.

If you have a used Ford, Chevrolet, Dodge, or any other small car that you want to trade for a later or larger car, we can fix a position to make you a very attractive trade.
